THEATRICAL .-- Mr. J. T. Ford, of Baltimore, proposes to give Allentown the privilege of star tramatic entertainments once every fortnight for some time bence, and notices of each performance will duly appear in this paper. He will only bring to this city the best actresses and actors, and the continuance of the series of dramatic entertainments will of course depend upon the patronage of our people. We submit that this is an opportunity of enjoying at home theatrical benefit which our pleasure-loving people should take advantage of, as it may be a long time before another such is offered; and when Mr. Ford brings his next company to Allentown we hope the Opera House will be crowded.

THE Allentown Democrat last week sayd : Through Acker has this District been thus humillated, and the people at large, of the District and of the State, wronged and dishonored by the election of Mr. Biery to the Congress of the United itates. Since a majority of the Vestry have taken the initial step, we suppose there is no doubt that two-thirds of the members will decide in favor of the Eastern Synod.

THE CELEBRATION. - The details of the occasion Wednesday were admirably managed, and the turn out-not intended to be large-exceeded the variety of its elements, anything that has as yet been produced in the Lehigh Valley. The ship that sails up the Salt River, the Ku Klux, Father Horace, and every other feature of a first class parade that could be imagined or devised were in line. Without a single occurrence to mar the peace or regularity of the affair, it passed off lecently and in good order. After the procession was over the different clubs, and a great many of our citizens, were addressed by the Hon. James S. Biery, in a short but elouent speech from the balcony in front of the peaker's office, over M. J. Kramer's store, after which the clubs dispersed to their various headquarters.

For some time Mr. Gries has been in alling health, induced probably by exposure while n the army and aggravated by his excessive labor the cause of the Church.

He was born at Myerstown, Lebanon county, eptember 3, 1826, and after arriving at the prop ge commenced the study of medicine in his fath-"Niere As, in and by an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, natited "An Act of the purpose of perfecting bimself for the duties of a Christian minister, entered the Theological Seminary connected with Columbia College, New York. Before graduating, however, Bishop Ives recognized his ability and zeal, and succeeded in procuring his services for missionary work in North Carolina. His services in that work were very important and helped to develop that true manhood, sevotion to duty, and rare ability which made his after life so useful.

Will REAS, in and by an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, natited "An Act of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, natited "An Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, natited "An Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, natited "An Act of the Commonwealth of the College New York of the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of the College New Act of the Commonwealth of the Commonwealth of the Co r's office. He never attended lectures, and

From North Carolina, he was called to Bergen, N. J., and afterwards to Doylestown, Pa., where e endeared himself to a large circle of friends both inside and outside the church. At the break ing out of the war his heart was fired with that atriotic zeal which caused the uprising of the North in defence of our country. At Doylestown he delivered an oration on the Fourth of July, 1861, which was widely circulated and received iniversal comment upon its ability and pure pa riotism. He went into the war as chaplain of the 04th Pennsylvania, and his labors contributed naterially to the successful recruiting of that Regiment. Even into this work he threw the same earnestness which characterizes his labors in every cause he ever entered, and the soldiers of that Regiment were indebted to him for many of the omforts bestowed upon them and for his ministrations to their necessities while in hospital or while lying wounded on the battle-field. Here his knowledge of medicine and surgery made his services doubly valuable to the men, and there are those living to-day who owe their lives to his practical common sense and good judgment. He was really one of the few chaplains of our army who reflected honor upon the position, and made his services indispensable to the Government. After the close of the war he was located at Morgantown, Lancaster county, and upon the resignaof Rev. E. N. Potter, received a call from the Vestry of Grace Church. Here every member o his congregation has ample evidence of his great worth and constant sacrifice in the cause of the Church. No words of ours can pay a proper tri bute to his Christian services. No Church fulled to love him, and outside the congregation his Christian liberality and unselfish devotion and strict adherence to Right made bim respected, esteemed and beloved on all hands. The active friend, he was a useful member of the Board provement he took a lively interest. gan zation of the Central Diocese of Penasylvania, he was one of the leading spirits and most untir ing workers, lending every aid to putting the Diocese in a perfect condition. He was Secretary o consumed. The door of the recitation room was the Board of Domestic Missions, and in this posttion he did a noble work, contributing, we believe even a greater share of labor than his health warranted. Many years ago, while passing through Allenthat time was cheap, and, seeing a broad field oper The insurance on the whole College buildings is for the Church, with the chance of procuring ample grounds for a seminary and other buildings, Hartford, Allen, Girard, Northampton, Lehi. h Valley, and Upper and Lower Macungle. We think Professor Richards had no insurance on his and it seemed to be a deep regret to the day of his think Professor Richards had no insurance on his books.*

The students were greatly frightened when having been awakened by the alarm of fire, they were at first driven back into their rooms by the dense clouds of smoke. They complain that they are locked in the building at hight; and if a general conflagration should occur there would be no chance for their escape unless the jacitor would have the thoughtfolness to unlock the doors. We do not know upon how substantial grounds their complaint rests, but surely in the event of fire their means of exit ought not to be closed.
