STRAWS SHOW .- On Monday evening last a vote was taken on the up train on the Bald Eagle Valley R. R., with the followabout the proportion the vote will be every place this side of the New England.-Watchman, Sept. 18th.

We pronounce the above an unmitigated falschood, and we know whereof we affirm; for the writer of this article went to Tyrone on the same train and most emphatically declares that there was no vote taken. And had one-been taken it would have resulted two to one in favor of Grant. Play fair, Mr. Meek and stop your lying.

SWINDLERS .- We learn from some of our friends in different parts of the county that some pediers or hucksters are traveling with packs of goods and samples. The latter they offer to sell on future delivery, very cheap. They represent to their deceived customers that it is necessary for them to buy some of the goods, they have with them, which will secure the delivery of any of the articles they offer by sample when they, the pedlers, come round again. It is needless for us to say to our readers to have nothing to do with such "chaps" as it is only a new dodge to get money out of the unsuspecting without giving value for the same.' Many of the farmers remember the "Willow Fence Swindle" to their sorrow. These sample-sellers are pursuing the same course, and are worthy of no confidence.

We found Mr. Meek all "fuss and feathers;" full of talk and bragadocia. Ready, he said, "to put up the money" on his original proposition in regard to the forty-three, or the proposition as stated in our paper; but he would bet on the naked proposition, and would agree to nothing that we proposed. He would agree to no plan by which the Status, or the way these forty-three Republicans would vote, could be tested. Yes; "he would publish their affidavits," but he would not consent to have us present when said affidavits were taken. In all he did and all he said, we could plainly see that he only meant, by the publication of his proposition, to play the game of brag, and thus, if possible, influ-tainty that he could not name forty-three nor a less number. We are still ready to take Mr. Meek a Republicans, and soldiers who fought these his offer; but lie mast publish the names rebels, and the fathers and brothers and of forty-three Republicans as aforesaid.
