AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. The committee on Agricultural Imple ments would respectfully report that in the absence of four members of the committee, as published, the chairman selected Noah Musser, George Otenkirk, J. Lingle and Wm. Foster, to serve in their stead. The committee proceeded to examine the several articles in their department as they found them entered in the book placed in their hands, and give the following as the result of their examination: It is proper to remark that the display was not as extensive as might have been expected, nor as much so as it is hoped will be made at the next Fair, and therefore did not attract the attention of visitors generally; yet the exhibition was quite

To Richard Gunsaullis, best White Corn, American Agriculturalist. To Jos. Baker, esq., display of the largest variety of Potatoes, $1,00. There is also a premium offered for vel low Corn, but the specimens exhibited were all so very good that each deserved reward, and the committee could not decide any particular parcel to excel the rest. There are other articles, equally meritorious, but the limited space and time forbid, a lengthy report.

Committee—Mrs. J. W. Larrimer, Mrs. J. D. Foster, Mrs. Susan Foster, J. N. Hall, James Glenn, Jno. D. Wingate. The within report approved and the committee in accordance with the sugges tion of the committee, award to Samue Plitchon the American Agriculturalist, and to Jos. Baker, also, the American Agricul turalist, for the best twelve ears of Corn. FLOWERS.

To the President of the Centre County Agricultural Society: The undersigned committee on Flowers yould respectfully report that they have awarded the following premiums, viz:

Reaper and Mower, manufactured at as entered they were unable to find after the most diligent and persevering search. There was one very beautiful hand boquet on exhibition, but it was not labelled, and the committee could do nothing more, on that account, than give this notice. After the committee had made their examination, and directed in the premises, but before making up the report, a very handsome boquet was placed on exhibition by Mrs. J. N. Hall, but it was too late to receive any other notice from the commitee, than the mention it has here received. All of which is respectfully submitted. The agent of the "Keystone Harvester," Jennie Harris, Hattie Boileau, Mary McLa-BACON, HAMS, FLOUR AND MEAL. The Committee on Bacon, Hams, Flour and Meal met, and Thomas Burnside and and G. M. Yocum were substituted. The committee found but few articles in their department on exhibition. The only pecimens being one barrel of flour exhibited by Solomon Hamer, and two hams, one by J. N. Hall, of Howard, and the other by Miss Susanna Zimmerman. The articles were all good, but the committee regret that the competition was not more spirited. The committee. therefore, award the following premiums, viz:

To Solomon Hamer, for one barrel flour,
the only one exhibited, $3,00.

To J. N. Hall, of Howard, for second best cured ham, half dozen desert spoons. All of which is respectfully submitted. Committee—C. Dale, James Gordon, Geo. M. Yocum.

MANUFACTURED ARTICLES. The Committee on Manufactured Artiles, Cloths, &c., after looking at a multiplicity of articles on exhibiton in their department, make the following awards: To Isaac Kaup, for two ply carpet, a pair of butter knives. To Mrs. Margaret Gilliland, for rag carpet, a pair of napkin rings.

To Jonathan Kramer, for horse shoes. To W. W. Montgomery, for best tailor-To J. & J. Harris, for best and larges display of hardware, a diploma.
To Isaac Haupt, for best cooking stove

To Irwin & Wilson, for the Orienta Stove, a diploma. Messrs. Irwin & Wilson made a fine display of hardware and stoves, of which atter the Oriental was much admired. The cassimere exhibited by Hofler Bro., vas also verv fine. The rag carpet of Mrs. Kelton, also deerves notice. Committee—J. M. Wilson, Noah Muser, David Weaver.

LEATHER AND ITS MANUFACTURE. The Executive Committee on the recomnendation of the committee on this class, make these awards: To Isaac Kaup, for two deer skins of his own tanning and manufacture, $1,00.

To Patrick McCafferty & Co., of Bellente, for a display of boots and shoes of SPECIAL NOTICES. How often we make a purchase in the city which at the time seems to be the very thing we vanted, but which on a more thorough examina ion, after we have returned home, proves to be anything but satisfactory. And in nine cases out of ten, there is no help for it. This is especially true in reference to clothing. The fact is a man can't tell whether a garment suits him of not until he has put it on himself, and had time to see whether or no he feels at home in it. We are glad to be authorized by Wanamak & Brown, to say to our readers that they will make any reasonable exchange in garments purchasen from them.
