

To Printers.

The Editors having issued proposals for the publication of a newspaper at another place, they now offer for sale the printing materials and subscription list of "THE COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT." To a young man with a limited capital this office offers considerable inducements, it having upwards of five hundred subscribers, and an advertising and job custom worth from $500 to $1000 per annum. The original cost of this establishment will be all that we shall require from the purchaser. Any inquiries by mail will be strictly attended to.

"The Columbia Democrat" is published at Bloomsburg, in the most central part of Columbia county, and acts with the dominant party both in political and sectional feelings.

Address, INGRAM & MILLS, Bloomsburg, Feb. 10, 1838.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

Those indebted to this establishment for subscriptions, jobs, or advertisements, are requested to make immediate payment, as in a short time our books will be placed in the hands of a magistrate to enforce collection. Those who do not pay within the year will be charged $2.50 in conformity with our terms of publication. We hope that all may see the necessity of complying with this notice, as we must pursue this course in order to comply with our payable engagements.

JOHN S. INGRAM, FRANKLIN S. MILLS.

February 10, 1838.

Mr. Buchanan will please accept our thanks for a copy of Mr. Grundy's report, on the issuing and re-issuing of the notes of the late Bank of the United States.

In another column will be found an account of the Duel which took place at Washington, and which proved fatal to Mr. Cilley, a member of Congress from Maine. It is to be hoped this tragical affair, will be a salutary lesson to those in whose hands rests the power to adopt more decisive laws against duelling.

The New Constitution.

By the politeness of Mr. Smith, of the late Reform Convention, we have been favored with a copy of the New Constitution, which shall be laid before our readers in our next publication. It contains many amendments which we think will prove beneficial to the community at large, and although it was impossible for the Convention to make a Constitution that would please all, yet if the people will give each amendment its due consideration, it will find friends sufficient for its adoption on the 2d Tuesday of October next.

The following changes, among others, have been effected.

- The elective franchise extended and colored person excluded.
- Executive patronage reduced.
- The meeting of the Legislature takes place in January annually.
- Judicial tenure limited.
- County officers and Justices of the Peace elected.

Some restrictions on the Legislature in regard to granting charters of incorporation, and corporate bodies restricted in regard to entering on private property.

The Senate coupled with the Governor in appointing Judges of Courts of Record. The Senatorial term reduced to three years.

Negro Suffrage.

The Supreme Court of the United States unanimously decided that Negroes are not entitled to vote in Pennsylvania. We trust this decision will allay the excitement which has heretofore prevailed in some counties of this state upon this subject—engendering the most unpleasant feelings, and opening the way to a more fearful agitation of the public mind. These infatuated people who have been deluded by the Siren song of run-mad fanatics, are bringing down upon the heads of our colored race the indignation of an infuriated populace.

Gen. Jackson.

We are gratified to state that the General has in a measure recovered from the attack with which he was visited, and is rapidly gaining strength.

The Spy at Washington.

Mr. Wise has been busily engaged in creating an excitement, for the purpose of consuming the time of the House and the money of the people, about an article which appeared in the New York Courier and Enquirer, charging Mr. Ruggles, the Senator from Maine, with corruption, which charge has been proven to be unfounded by Mr. Ruggles himself. And who is this "Spy at Washington!" it is Mathew L. Davis! a man infamous by his intimacy with Aaron Burr in all his schemes of treason, stratagem, and political and moral dishonesty, and because this man has made an assertion, Mr. Wise thought it necessary that an examination should take place which has consumed two days, and cost at least six thousand dollars.

CATTAWISSA RAIL ROAD.

We have been authorized to say that the report in circulation that the Cattawissa Rail Road had suspended operations is untrue. The work is still progressing, but with diminished force. The Quakake branch has been suspended.

Hon. James Buchanan.

This gentleman has communicated to the Speaker of the Senate his intentions to obey the instructions of the Legislature of this State in relation to the bill of the Hon. Silas M. Wright, of New York, called the Sub-Treasury bill, and will consequently vote for a postponement of that bill until the next session. The resolution instructing Mr. Buchanan and the democratic members of Congress from this State, also declares that they have full confidence in MARTIN VAN BUREN, and in the wisdom and intelligence of the Democratic Senators and representatives in Congress; and have further instructed them "to vote for such a mode of receiving, keeping, and disbursing the public moneys, as will separate as far as practicable the banks from the Government."

Mr. Buchanan elucidated in a pertinent address the doctrine of the right of instruction—declared it to be a fundamental doctrine of the political creed of the Democratic party—a right sacred to that party, and which should not be abandoned upon questions of mere expediency. Whatever the opinion of the democracy of the State may be upon the Sub-Treasury bill, they cannot but approve of the course of Mr. Buchanan in relation to the right of instruction. As that gentleman has justly observed, it should be a strong case to induce a Senator to resign his post. Let the precedent be once established, that upon every difference of opinion the Senator should resign, and the right of instruction will soon grow into disrepute, and the Senatorial term of six years, as fixed by the Constitution, would terminate whenever such a conflict of opinion might arise, and thus open still wider the flood-gates of corruption and political chicanery.

The following Question will be discussed at the Bloomsburg Debating Society, on Tuesday evening next.

"Should Capital punishment be abolished?"

The public are invited to attend.

BANK BILL.

Yesterday the second reading of this important bill was finished in the House. It makes the stockholders of banks, &c. personally liable to an amount equal to their stock; compels all the banks in the State to receive each others notes at par; provides for the resumption of specie payments on the 16th of May; prohibits the circulation of small notes under severe penalties of fines and imprisonment; enacts that no notes shall be issued or circulated less than ten dollars after 1841, and provides for the forfeiture of the charters of all savings institutions and loan companies which may have illegally issued paper currency, or taken usurious interest.—Keystone.

The State Comptroller's Returns of all the incorporated companies in the State, show the following results:—Real estate held by corporations, $5,165,573; stock taxable, deducting real estate, $51,817,548. Total amount of tax paid by Corporations, $209,549.50.

AFFAIR OF HONOR.

A couple of convicts in an Ohio prison, named Husky and Frazier, lately quarrelled respecting the enormity of their several crimes. One had been convicted of arson, and the other of horse stealing. The Memphis Gazette says:—"The incendiary contended, that burning a mill was much more gentlemanly crime than stealing a horse. While Frazier, on the contrary, vehemently maintained the reverse, and insisted upon the horrible villainy that must invite a man to burn his neighbor's house at midnight. The contest waxed hotter and hotter, until at last the exasperated representatives of arson and horse stealing, flew at each other, and determined by blows the question which they could not settle by words. Frazier was the victor, thus proving beyond all question that horse stealing is a far more decent and respectable crime than arson. Husky still bears the marks of his defeat in the shape of sundry bruises about his face and eyes."

Discovery of a Mine of Silver.—A silver mine of the richest description was discovered yesterday on the ground formerly covered by Diamond's hotel, opposite St. Mary's market. The men employed in working this mine succeeded in digging up something like $20,000, all of the best Mexican silver.—N. Orleans Picayune.
