

THE REPERTORY.

The Bride's Return. She hath her wish—for which in vain She pined in restless dreams—

"I left these—like the dove of old! I left thy parent breast—

"Oh mother! sing my childhood's songs; They fall like summer's rain

"Sit near me! Oh this hour repays Long years of lonely pain;

"Oh home and mother! can ye not Give back my heart's glad youth!

Thou mourner of departed dreams! On earth there is no rest—

Wily assassins! who with purpose fell, In thirst for blood could prate of chivalry!

Go! guilt-stained votary of a Draco code— Havel upon the ruin though hast wrought:

Wretch!—hated wretch!—now writhing in the slime Engender'd by thy festering infamy—

*The house voted to wear crapes for thirty days, unanimously.

LOVE.

Love is a new intelligence entered into the being; it is the softest, but the most subtle light; in all experience it deceives itself;

READY WIT.

A boy having been praised for his quickness of reply, a gentleman observed, when children are so keen in their youth, they are generally stupid when they advance in years.

A REVOLUTIONARY HERO.—A FACT.—The 4th of July, 18—, was celebrated in the usual manner, with civic and military rejoicing in one of the most considerable towns in Eastern Pennsylvania.

"What battles, my old friend, have you fought in!—wont you tell us?"

"I crossed the Brandywine with Washington—fought at Yorktown—and saw the surrender of Lord Cornwallis."

"I was at Saratoga; and, I tell you, it done our hearts good to see the red-coats march by us with furled banners and reversed arms—fine looking fellows they were too."

"On the sea," answered the weather-beaten old tar. "I was with Barry, when he taught the proud Britons that we were as invincible on the ocean as on the land."

"Surrendered!—what do you mean my old hero! Surrendered!"

"Vv, v, mem her! be sure ve surrendered oonder Shennals Vashington—I vash one of de Hessians!"

"Surrendered!—what do you mean my old hero! Surrendered!"

"Vv, v, mem her! be sure ve surrendered oonder Shennals Vashington—I vash one of de Hessians!"

The following is the Preface to Timothy's Titterwell's work of "Yankee Notions."

"The worst thing for a man's health is melancholy, but a good joke helps digestion and promotes longevity. A good joke, like a sherris sack, hath a twofold operation. It ascends me into the brain; dries up there all the foolish, and dull, and crudy vapors which environ it; makes it apprehensive, quick, forgerive, full of nimble, fiery, delectable shapes, which acting slyly and sympathetically upon the corners of the mouth, produce hearty, jovial, honest laughter."

What makes people dyspeptical, hypochondriacal, appetitic, envious, rapid, fanatical, factious, quarrelsome, selfish, consumptive, and short-lived? The doctors say this and that, but they know nothing about it.

Never burn all dry wood in your fire place, nor never use a fire place at all when you can get a stove.
