VALUABLE PROPERTY.

We are informed that Col. Mathew McDowell has sold his lower Mill and Farm, on Fishing Creek, in this township, for sixteen thousand dollars. Col. McDowell has another valuable Mill and Farm of 112 acres, situated on the same Creek, which he offers to sell. It is a first rate water power, and Iron Ore supposed to abound in the neighborhood. We understand it is his intention to put these premises in good repair the coming summer.

In connection with the above we would mention that the Iron Ore in this vicinity, is beginning to attract the attention of capitalists abroad. A large company has already been formed to erect an extensive establishment on Fishing Creek for the purpose of manufacturing iron, and several sales of ore property have been made within a few months, at advanced prices; and almost daily our town is visited by capitalists to examine the value of the ore for themselves, and all are satisfied that no better exists in the world; and many do not leave until they have invested money in ore lands, believing it to be best and safest speculation now afloat. As an evidence of the increasing value of property in this neighborhood, from its contiguousness to these ore lands we mention the fact, that several sales of houses and lots in this village have lately been made; among others, a lot in Market-street, about 60 feet front, sold a few days since, at an administrator's sale, for 504 dollars, cash. Several brick dwelling houses and stores will be built the coming season.

GLORIOUS VICTORY.

The Democracy of the 14th Senatorial District, comprised of the counties of Adams, Cumberland and Franklin, have gloriously triumphed at the late special election to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Cassat. The democratic candidate was Thos. C. Miller, and the federal candidate was John F. McFarlane. Miller is elected by a majority of 205, being a democratic gain since October election of 1835—1010 of which is in Adams, Stevens' own county. A more severe rebuke upon the conduct of Stevens could not possibly have been given.

The Baltimore Republican, a strong leading whig paper, speaking of the result of this election, says:—"We are not surprised at the result. The conduct of Mr. Stevens and some of his coadjutors, at the opening of the legislature of Pennsylvania, and afterwards, was enough to destroy the strongest party. We foresaw the ruin it would bring upon the party and, although overzealous friends undertook to rebuke us for alleged want of fealty, in refusing to approve what was morally wrong, we imagine now most of them will agree with us."

Very little business has as yet been done in Congress. The house is almost daily put in commotion by the detestable question of Abolition. A committee has been appointed by ballot, by the house, to investigate the Swartwout defalcation.

It is proposed in the Missouri Legislature to make the circulation of notes under the denomination of ten dollars a penitentiary offence.

We observe an article going the rounds of the whig papers, from the Pennsylvania Telegraph, headed, "An Infamous Slanderer," disavowing the statements Mr. Montelius at the dinner given him in Union County, and asserting that it was done by his authority. How much truth there is in the article will be seen by the following which we extract from the Keystone.

MR. MONTELIUS' SPEECH.

"The last Telegraph with its usual regard for truth, says, that 'Montelius has disavowed his speech as copied from the 'Union Times,' and says that it is not true—that the speech is the production of John Snyder, or some other miserable loco loco; &c. &c."

We have seen Mr. Montelius, who says that he had read the speech in the Keystone as copied by us from the Union Times—and that there was but one word, which was not exactly as he had given it. This he wished us to correct, by substituting at the head of the following sentence, the word "some" or "several" for "all," as follows: "All [some or several] of the heads of Departments either came to him personally or sent for him, informing him that the party now depended on his going with them—that he dare not think of holding back now. One of them stated, that if he did fly the course, they would write to his district and have him broken down."

We advise Governor Ritner and the heads of Department, and others concerned as movers and actors in the late conspiracy to cheat the people, to keep cool, for the truth will come, and matters will be revealed that are vastly more serious and alarming than those mentioned by Montelius. The opinion of the people as to the conspiracy, and the truth of the statements given by the Gov. Messrs. Stevens, Penrose, Burrows, Fenn, and others, has been recorded in the in the change of 1300 votes in a district laying within the sight of the capitol, and among the friends and neighbors of Messrs. Stevens and Burrows. Let them remember the fate of Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr, and tremble before the merited indignation of an honest community.

THE DYING STRUGGLES.

The Harrisburg Reporter says:—"It will be seen by the debate in the House of Representatives, that the leaders of the Federal party die extremely hard. Conscious that their acts of attempt usurpation, which gave rise to the late excitement in Pennsylvania, are viewed with strong disapprobation by the people—they seem determined, like drowning men, to catch at straws to save themselves from sinking. The simple proposition to pay the individuals employed by the Sergeant-at-Arms, under the direction of the speaker, to maintain the rules of the House, and prevent when it was not in session, any other body from holding sessions in the Hall, was rather imprudently claimed as an evidence that Gov. Ritner was justifiable in calling out an armed force to suppress tumult. This exultation was, however, of short duration. When it was distinctly shown that the additional deputy Sergeants-at-Arms were employed in consequence of the expressed determination of the disorganizers composing what has been denominated the Cunningham house, backed as it was known to be by a number of the Halifax rioters, to meet in the Hall of the House—when it was shown that this was the only mob from which violence was apprehended—the Federal members, who, from an over-heated zeal to get out of a scrape, brought on the discussion, were overwhelmed with confusion. They saw that the bait would not take with the people, and exhibited exident symptoms that they had commenced "barking up the wrong tree."

NEW JERSEY AROUSED.

A tremendous meeting of the people of New Jersey, was held at Trenton on the 8th of January inst. to express their horror at the atrocious frauds committed by the federal governor and council of that State at the late election, and to arouse the democracy to a just sense of their duty to themselves and to posterity. The proceedings are of a high order, and breathe the purest patriotism. It would seem as if there had been a general understanding among the federalists, to make at the late elections, in every part of the Union, a desperate attempt to bring into disrepute the elective franchise, and break down the right of free suffrage, which they so much despise, and which is always so formidable to them.—Keystone.

The Commissioners of the Edinburg Poor House, have lately been detected in sending to this country a lot of paupers.

THE FINANCES OF THE STATE.

From the late report of the State Treasurer, it appears that about one million two hundred thousand dollars will be necessary to meet the demands, upon the Treasury, which are not due, and will be in a very few days. This state of affairs, with a Treasury drained by Governor Ritner, until not a single dollar is left, is giving rise to considerable exultation upon the part of the Federalists, and they are already feasting themselves on the hope, that the administration of Governor Porter will borrow the money required by the exigencies of the State, from the Bank of the United States. But as "misfortunes never come single," we would say to these gentlemen, that, in this matter, they will be again disappointed. Governor Porter will borrow no money from the United States Bank. He will be driven to no such alternative. The democratic members of the House of Representatives, will pass no law requiring the Governor to make such a loan, and if they did, he would not approve it. We are anxious as any other citizens of the Commonwealth can be, to maintain sacred and inviolate the plighted faith of the State, on all occasions, and we are desirous that immediate provisions should be made, by which the heavy liabilities of the State can be liquidated. We are also equally desirous that the position of uncompromising hostility to the Bank of the United States, assumed on all occasions by the democracy of the State, shall be rigidly and honorably maintained, and we are glad to learn, that all the money necessary for the demands of the State, can be obtained by Governor Porter, from other quarters, and we believe upon terms equally favorable to the State.—Keystone.

Its Legislature is composed of a Senate, elected every nine years from a list presented by the President—and a house of Representatives elected by the people every five years.

Lost Manuscripts of Napoleon discovered.—It is said that a large mass of letters and other documents, the production of Napoleon, when between the ages of 15 and 21, have been recently discovered at Ajaccio, Corsica, containing much curious matter, and are preparing for publication. Napoleon's "history of the revolution in Corsica," alluded to by Lucien in his memoirs, are supposed to constitute part of the collection. These manuscripts were thought to be consumed when Madame Bonaparte's house was burnt down by the troops of Paoli.

A gentleman of the western country, who had received an university education and farmed his own estate being desirous of availing himself of the judgement of an experienced yeoman, took him over his farm and the methods he had pursued in other respects directed the yeoman's attention to a large accumulation of manure, observing that that was sine qua non. "Yes, quoth the yeoman that be a sign o' g'wain, on, to be sure."

DR. LEIDY'S MEDICATED EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, having become so deservedly popular, on account of its superior strength to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla in existence, it is thought unnecessary to make much comment upon its virtues. Suffice it to say, one bottle of the above contains twice as much of the active principles of Sarsaparilla as other ingredients, as any extract in existence, in the same quantity, and is equal to one gallon of Syrup of Sarsaparilla, for making which druggists and others purchase the above preparation. Price one dollar per bottle.

It is recommended in all diseases of the skin and Bones; affections of the Liver, Stomach, Spleen and Kidneys; Eruptions, breaking out of Dry and Watery Pimples on the face, neck and body; ulcerations of the nose, mouth and throat running at the Ears and Eyes; Erysipelas, Scrofula, rheumatic pains, swelling or hardening of the Glands, constitutional diseases produced by the use of mercury or other minerals. In short, Sarsaparilla is known to the world, as being the most powerful agent ever discovered for purifying the blood and Animals Flaved, consequently the most valuable specific for all diseases, resulting from impurities of the Blood, and other fluids of the body.

Caution.—Persons should be particularly careful in getting a preparation that may be relied upon there being many in existence, not properly prepared, unfit for use, and almost inert; possessed of no medicinal qualities whatever.

Dr. N. B. Leidy candidly declares his preparation to be what it is represented to be, and is prepared by himself, a regular Druggist and Apothecary, and is besides a regular Physician, attested by Drs. Physic, Chapman, Hore, Cox, Dewees, Jackson, James, Horner, Gibson, &c. (See directions and recommendations around each bottle.)

Upwards of 3000 bottles of the above have been sold, during the past six months, a strong proof of its good qualities, &c. For sale in this city at
