It will be remembered that at the delegate meeting held at this place on the 3d of February, Jedidiah Irish was appointed senatorial delegate to the 4th of March Convention, under an understanding with Schuylkill county that Columbia should have the delegate as long as that county had the Senator. But it seems the appointment of Mr. Irish did not suit the feelings of the Danville Junto, he was not a man of their kidney, they therefore, regardless of the voice of the county, expressed through their delegates, started their old game of trickery to defeat the wishes of the majority, and disfranchise the county. To carry out their plans, they got up a secret meeting in Danville of some three or four individuals, and appointed a spurious set of conferees, with John Rhoades at the head, to meet conferees from Schuylkill, which had been appointed unbeknownst to the friends of Mr. Irish. By this means they effected their object by appointing Nathan Nathans, of Pottsville, as a delegate, as will be seen by the following extract from the report of the committee upon contested seats at the 4th of March Convention:

From Columbia and Schuylkill two Senatorial delegates appeared, Jedidiah Irish and Nathan Nathans, and the district being entitled only to one each contested the seat of the other.

It was perfectly clear that Mr. Irish was elected by a meeting of democrats of Columbia; but in his election there was a provision that the democrats of Schuylkill confirming his election, nor was there any conference between the two counties concerning him. It was alleged by him, and is by no means improbable that Columbia was entitled to the delegate, and that it was well understood and conceded, that Schuylkill would agree to any nomination made by Columbia. But there was no proof of such agreement. On the other hand Mr. Nathans exhibited the proceedings of apparently regular democratic meetings in the counties; the appointments of senatorial conferees from each; and the joint meeting and action of the conferees electing him the senatorial delegate.

The committee, therefore, decided that Nathan Nathans, be admitted to his seat, as senatorial delegate from this district.

They thus succeeded in not only again defeating the expressed voice of the county, but in disfranchising her of her rightful representation in the convention. How much longer will the democracy of Columbia county permit themselves to be insulted and abused by these Danville disorganizers, who have uniformly, when they could not control the county conventions, raised an opposition against the regular nominations to distract and divide the party, regardless of the consequences, provided their own selfish ends could thereby be advanced, a short time will determine. Insult upon insult has so often been heaped upon them, that we trust that submission will no longer be considered a virtue, and that they will speak to the Junto with the indignant voices of freemen, and teach them that others have rights and that they know how to maintain them. Peaceably if they can, but forcibly if they must.

The fact of the Danville Junto having by their usual game of trickery and deception defeated the wishes of the Germans and prevented them from being represented on the bench of this county, has created, as we expected, quite a sensation among that numerous and worthy class of our citizens. From the fact of their being so many Germans in the county, it has always been a conceded point, that one of the associate judges should be a man capable of speaking both languages, and it has been left for the present Danville faction, in addition to their numerous encroachments on the rights of the people of the county, to now read asunder the last link in the chain of forbearance, by depriving the German population of an associate judge, whom they could approach without being compelled to employ an interpreter. But this treatment is in entire unison with all their former acts and opinions, expressed by word, as well as by acts, that, as was publicly proclaimed by a prominent member of the Junto, "they are all a set of ignorant Dutch hogs," and of course are not to be consulted.

Bodisco's marriage.—Mr. Bodisco the Russian Minister at Washington, whose contemplated marriage has set the elite of that city all agog, is an oddity. His intended is a charming little girl of sixteen, and the daughter of a clerk in one of the Auditor's offices. Bodisco himself is nearly seventy—is bald on his head, while his body is covered all over with hair two inches long—has one glass eye—and owing to some affection of the throat, breathes through a silver tube, inserted in his neck. Oh! what a lovely couple! How she will be able to fondle on him! His income is $30,000 per annum.

A young widow of very polite address whose husband had lately died, was visited soon after by the minister of the parish, who enquired as usual about her husband's health when she replied with a peculiar smile, "He is dead, I thank you."

A Queer Character.—Among the doings at the court of common pleas for Rockingham co. N. H., the Exeter News Letter states that Alfred Tetherly, of Charlestown, N. H. was indicted for stealing a horse, the property of Josiah Woodman of Nottingham. On being asked if "guilty or not guilty," he said they might set him down as guilty, for he went into the barn to lodge for the night, and finding no hay there for him to lie on, or the horse to eat, he took the beast out of pity, rode up the country, where there was hay enough, and sold him to a man who would feed him well, and not allow him to starve. He thought some about riding the horse back to its owner, but the jade travelled so hard that he would rather go to the State Prison for a dozen years than ride him again a dozen miles. The court sentenced him to three years hard labor in the State Prison.

Inundation.—The Vicksburg Sentinel, of the 29th of February, says that the city of Cairo, at the mouth of the Ohio, is entirely inundated.

An ambitious young gentleman from New York wishing to become a great operator in the West lately purchased a thousand dollars worth of Brandreth's pills and brought them on to work out an opening for him.

A traveller from this city, stepping at an inn down east asked how the business men in New York were getting along. "Oh," answered the traveller, "many of them have got upon their legs again." "How so—has trade become more brisk?" "No, no! I mean that many who formerly rode in their coaches, are now obliged to walk."

The committee of conference, appointed upon the subject of banks, had not reported at the latest dates from Harrisburg.

The Canal Commissioners have reduced the toll on flour between Pittsburg and Philadelphia, twenty cents per barrel. The toll is now fifty-six cents instead of seventy-six as formerly.

A cry having been raised, by the whigs, of great changes in Fayette county in favor of Harrison, a democratic meeting was held at Uniontown on the 14th inst. at which more than thirty five hundred democrats attended. The procession reached about three miles, all riding in wagons or on horses. Old Fayette will give an increased Van Buren majority of more than five hundred.
