Our neighbor talks about the trifling success of democrats at the Tuesday election. Trifling surely. The election of every candidate upon our ticket, in opposit on, in some instances, to a volunteer candidate in addition to the whig, is, not so very "trifling" matter, but had the contest been between democrats and whigs alone, it would then we acknowledge have been a trifling one indeed.

Well done democratic Bloom. She has nobly done her duty by giving an increased majority for the democratic ticket over any former election, and she may be set down as good for 80 majority at the Presidential election. Columbia county is safe for 1700 for Van Buren. Three cheers for the "Star of the North."

K. K.

"KANT KOM IT."

The democratic candidate for Sheriff and Treasurer are triumphantly elected by hand some majorities over whigism, and volunteer democratic candidates united. The volunteer candidates having the least number of votes. This is as it should always be with those who run against a ticket fair-formed. We say, peace to their ashes.

ALL HAIL SCHUYLKILL.

We extract the following from a slip from the Pottsville Emporium Office.

The result of the Election in Schuylkill county has just been ascertained, with the exception of one district, which will increase the democratic majority 29 or 30 votes. It is as follows:—

Newhard, for Congress, has 595 maj.
Headley, for Senate, has 562 "
Weaver, for Assembly, has 331 "
Woolson, for Sheriff, has 303 "

The whole Democratic ticket is elected by an average majority of more than 600 votes. It was a desperate struggle—particularly against WEAVER—but "we have met the enemy and they are ours."

THE SKY IS BRIGHT.

Never, since we have taken a part in politics, have we known the Democracy of Massachusetts animated by a better spirit, or a more confident hope of success, than at this moment. The haughty tone of their adversaries has excited in them an energy of action hitherto unequalled. In every county city and town, the most vigorous preparations are going forward for the November election. Let the result in Maine be a warning to us—let every Democrat be determined to do his duty, and November will leave John Davis at home to cry about the cake his wife wasted in electioneering for him. "A tear coursed down Webster's manly cheek, and he said, "here Davis, 'like the Potter.'"—Boston Post.

Mr. Webb—I avail myself of the first leisure moment to give you an account of the whig pole raising in "Little Paxton," on Saturday last. It was intended by the prime movers in the matter, to raise a pole to exceed in height, the one raised by the democrats the Saturday previous, and for this purpose they had to send to Schuylkill county to procure one, which, when brought exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine whigs, for they did not suppose it possible, to procure a pole that would resemble the principles of their party so well. They did, it is true, succeed to admiration. The pole was so crooked that it would remind you of the yankees description of a Chestnut tree which grew on his father's farm, which was so crooked, that when split into rails, and a fence made of them, the hogs would crawl through the fence twenty times a day, and always find themselves in the same pastures. After the arrival of the party, they made an attempt to raise the pole, and succeeded in elevating the top to about twenty feet from terra firma, when, like all their other high blown expectations of greatness, down came their pole with a crash. We must admit them a deal of perseverance in all cases, & particularly on this occasion. Not discouraged with the success attending their first attempt, they cut the pole off to suit the strength of their party, and left off the maple top piece, and substituted a white pine bush, which was considered very appropriate, as the lower piece was decayed maple, no doubt representing the antimasonic portion of the Harrison party, and the young green pine the abolition portion. Several of the democratic citizens of Paxton, expecting to see some spirit and perhaps be edified with some whig speeches attended. But were sorely disappointed, as the whigs did not attempt to organize or enlighten our ignorance with speeches. The democrats then determined to have a time of their own, and formed a procession and marched to Adam Michael's tavern, where they found a number of democratic friends already assembled. After the greeting of the friends of equality was over, it was moved that a meeting be organized. The motion was carried by acclamation, and Mr. HENRY LEAR, was called upon to preside, assisted by Messrs. Henry Steel, Reuben Hansc, J. Ramer, Samuel Wattman, Frederick Staley, Jesse Freaser, and William Mann, Esq. as Vice Presidents, William Spraul and Elias Miller, Secretaries. The following committee was appointed to prepare resolutions, C. F. Mann, D. Cambell, J. Genisel, J. Michael, Samuel Mooney, and T. Sherman, who reported the following, which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved—That Maria Van Buren, for the ability and patriotism exhibited in the administration of the general government, well deserves our approbation and entitles him to the hearty support of every friend of a free government.

Resolved—That R. M. Johnson the patriot, the soldier and statesman, needs not the certificates of his subalterns to satisfy us of his bravery and democracy, as testimonials of his character are written in the history of his country, and engrafted in the hearts of his countrymen.

Resolved—That the pole raised by the whigs this day, is emblematical of the party—rotten at bottom, and soft wood at top.

Resolved—That coon-skin, hard-cider, or log-cabin excitements have no effect on our principles, as they are like our pole, of the right sort, to-wit hickory.

Georgia state election has gone for the whigs, and so has Maryland. Let them go. We have enough without them.

Where are the boasted changes in Columbia county against Maria Van Buren, and the democratic party?—Echo answers where!
