

Shocking Death.—A young man named Arnold W. Angell, of Providence, R.I. was killed in Norton on Sunday last. He was returning from church in a covered wagon, when by some means he became entangled in the lines, which threw him under the wheels and in this condition he was dragged nearly a mile before the horse, could be stopped, and his mutilated body disentangled from the reins.

Edward A. Smith, Esq., of Long Island has raised on his farm the largest ox ever seen in the United States. The animal is almost white—merely a few colored spots on his body. He is 5 feet 2 inches high, 12 feet 4 inches in length, 9 feet 11 inches smallest girth, and weighs over 4,000 pounds; and, what is more surprising, he is not six years old.

The St. Louis Era, of the 11th contains the following particulars respecting the deliberate assassination of ex-Gov. Boggs of Missouri:

FOUL DEED.—The steamer Thames, just from Missouri river, brought us a handbill, offering a reward of $500 for the person who assassinated Silburn W. Boggs, late Governor of this State, at Independence, on the night of the 6th inst. Gov. Boggs, it is stated, in a written memorandum, was not dead, but mortally wounded.

Since the above was written, we have received a note from the clerk of Thames, giving the following particulars:

Gov. Boggs was shot by some villain on Friday, 6th, in the evening, while sitting in a room in his own house in Independence. His son, a boy hearing a report, ran into the room, and found the Governor sitting in his chair, with his jaw fallen down, and his head leaning back. On discovering the injury done his father, he gave the alarm. Foot tracks were found in the garden, below the window, and a pistol picked up supposed to have been overloADED, and thrown from the hand of the scoundrel who fired it.

Three buckshot, of a heavy load, took effect: one going through his mouth, one into the brain, and another probably in or near the brain—all going in at the back part of the neck and head. The Governor was still alive on the morning of the 7th; but no hopes of his recovery by his friends and but slight hopes from his physicians.

A man was suspected and the sheriff most probably has possession of him by this time.

The pistol was one of a pair stolen some days previous from a baker in Independence, and the legal authorities have the description of the other.

One of Joe Smith's followers is supposed to have been the murderer of Gov. Boggs.

It is stated that the difficulty between Stanley and Wise has been settled by the interference of friends. Better let them kill each other at once.

Mr. McKennan, whig, has been elected to Congress from Washington county, to supply the place of Mr. Lawrence recently deceased.

The Philadelphia papers state that the wife and family of Gen. Cass are daily expected in this country from Paris.

An investigation of the official conduct of Mr. Montgomery, post master at Philadelphia, is now going on in that city.

The brig Loyal, of New Brunswick, fell in with the ship Saladin of New York, on March 20, in lat 24, N. lon 63 W. the latter, which was loaded with cotton, being a total wreck. As no person was on board, it was supposed the crew had been taken off by a passing vessel.

A curious circumstance happened in Baltimore, a few days ago, in the purchase of an old gig or chaise. The purchaser bought it for $2.50 and afterward found secreted in the lining of the seats a sum of money amounting to seven hundred dollars.

A Convention embracing delegates from the counties of Erie, Crawford and Mercer is about to be held at Meadville, with the object of considering the present condition and the prospects of the Erie extension.

The following composition is recommended by an old farmer, for healing wounds in trees:

Take of dry powdered chalk three measures, of common vegetable tar one measure, mix and boil them until it becomes like beeswax. Lay this compound hot (with a hot trowel) about the thickness of a half crown about the wounded place, after carefully wiping away the rough edge.

Heart Rending.—The dwelling house of Mr. Elias Russel, in Constantia, near Oswego, burned down on the 2d inst. with all its contents, and two little girls one six years of age & the other two years, daughters of Mr. Russel, perished the flames.

A few days ago a newspaper was received at the Troy, N. Y., post office which the post master, on opening, found to contain one pair of mittens, four wreaths of hair a lot of ribands, two pins and one curl.

The first Episcopal clergyman ordained in this country is still alive, and passed through New York a few days ago on a journey to Buffalo. He is ninety-one years old.

The business on the New York State Canal as indicated by the receipt of tolls, was up to the 7th, larger than ever before in the same period.

During the year 1841, patents were issued for no less than 12 different stoves for cooking, besides four parlor and two air tight stoves, every one of course superior to the other.

A boy down east, three years of age, was asked who made him. Holding his little hand a foot from the floor, he artlessly replied, 'God made me a little baby so high, and I grew the rest!'

An old Gig was lately sold at auction in Baltimore for two dollars and fifty cents—Subsequently the owner removed the lining beneath which he found a pocket book containing 775 dollars.

The following composition is recommended by an old farmer, for healing wounds in trees:—Take of dry powdered chalk three measures, and of common vegetable tar one measure, mix and boil them until it becomes like beeswax. Land Sale in Michigan.—A great tax sale of land will take place in Michigan early in August, comprising nearly 2,000,000 acres which will be sold for the duties of 1838, and without redemption. These Michigan lands are represented as the best in the Union, and by the smallest outlay of labor will always return a handsome competence for the support of a family. The improved facilities of reaching its principal ports and the growing trade of the lake are all evidences of its future greatness, and so many arguments within its boundaries. The lands are sold for government taxes and will probably be sold for less than the government price, which is about $125 per acre.

CAGE THE WILD ANIMALS.—It seems that Wise and Stanley are not the only blackguards at the Capital. Mr. Arnold of Tennessee, and Mr. Geller of Ohio are striving to make themselves contemptible in the eyes of the American people;—The quarrel commenced on Saturday last. Mr. Arnold first called Mr. Weller a skunk and then Mr. Weller retorted by calling Mr. Arnold a goat. If this be true, according to their own account, they are both very offensive animals, and should have cold water pumped over them less rantankerous these warm summer days.

SINGULAR PHENOMENON.—A Baltimore paper of Saturday speaks of a rose bush in that city, which presented the singular phenomenon of a white rose and a red rose budding out separately from the same stem. There had been six roses upon the bush, five of which were still there two shooting out from each of the three stems, and one of those two in every instance, pure white the other deep red.

The Secretary of War has issued instructions to the Major General, commanding the army in Florida to communicate the following directions to Col. Worth: 'To declare that hostilities against the Indians in Florida have ceased, and that they will not be renewed unless provoked by new aggressions on their part. To take the necessary measures to establish such a line of protection for the settlements as to offer inducements to our citizens to settle in the Territory. To use the means he possesses of communication with the Indians yet remaining and inducing them to consult their interest by joining their brethren in the West.'

A NOBLE WORK.

The Lower Mohawk Aqueduct, which conveys the Erie Canal across the Mohawk a few miles from Albany, is said to be the largest in America. It stands on 26 arches each 37½ feet span. The entire length is 1140 feet; breadth 40 feet. It was finished on the 20th ult. and cost $315,000.

The King of France has engaged Mr. Healy an artist of Boston, to copy for him Stuart's Portrait of general Washington, which belongs to the United States, and hangs in the President's house, at Washington.

A Sister Killed by her Brother.—The Washington, (Pa.) Reporter says:—'Miss Matilda, an amiable and interesting daughter of Esquire Rubbit, of Smith Township, aged about 14 years, was shot by her brother, on Monday last, by an accidental discharge of a fowling piece, which he was handling in the house. The charge entered the young lady's breast, producing almost immediate death. This most heart-rending casualty has inflicted the severest pain upon the parents, and driven the brother well nigh to distraction.'

Silkworms.—It is related that an Italian physician while trying experiments upon silkworms, discovered that when these animals were fed on corrupted leaves in a state of putrid fermentation, they suffered little or no inconvenience or injury; but a single atom of animal substance in decomposition introduced with the food or through the skin of the worm, destroyed it in a short time. Even if the point of a fine needle were dipped into water in which a small piece of putrid meat had been soaked, and the worm pricked slightly with the needle, the worm would soon die.

At the late races in Washington, the proprietor of the course, upon the application of Mr. Stanley and Mr. Wise for admission told them that they might enter upon condition of good behaviour; and he added, that although they claimed the right of doing as they pleased in the capital yet on his premises they must conduct themselves with propriety.

Four young men recently left Independence, Missouri, for the Rocky Mountains, to capture wild animals for a Managatic.

Washington Irvine is to be feasted and lionized in England, after the same fashion that 'Boz' was in the United States.

The bite of a rattlesnake is said to be cured taking a large draught of alum water say 2 drams to pint of water.

A sensible wife looks for her enjoyment at home and a silly one abroad.

A man named Wm; Smith, risked his life at Rochester, a day or two ago, to save a child from drowning. Pass round his name.

Temperance.—As rum and whisky are in such little demand, they are making wax out of sugar cane in Louisiana, and oil from corn in Ohio.

Connecticut Mediation.—Two Houses of the Connecticut Legislature have passed a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to consider the expediency of offering the mediation of the State to the contending parties in Rhode Island, for the settlement of her difficulties.

Terrible Death.—The Easton Register states, that on the 18th ult., a young man named Thomas J. Clark, who was employed in Killoughs steam saw mill, Preble county, got entangled in the flywheel and was instantly torn and crushed to pieces: a part of his head and one arm being thrown several feet from his body. Mr. Clark was formerly a resident of Perryville, Ia.

Forgery.—From an examination of the books of Kirk & Johnston, the forgers, the latter of whom was convicted in the General Sessions on Tuesday, it has been ascertained that notes containing John Johnston's forged endorsement, to the amount of $57,200 have been put in circulation, nearly all of which were discounted by the banks of this city, at a reduction from their face of from 20 to 30 per cent.

Flour.—The Cincinnati Chronicle expresses the opinion that flour will sell this year in that city as low as $2 90 a $3 per bbl.

How to Advertise.—A young gentleman passing an auction square saw a beautiful horse, led by a handsome halter and groom, put up for sale, and bought him, as he thought at a bargain. He was led to a lively stable, & the young man wishing to leave town on business the next day, ordered the horse to be put into a chaise, which was done, but the horse was obstinate and mulish, and would not stir an inch. He was taken out of the chaise, and put into a barouche, with a kind well bred horse, then also he would not stir; neither coaxing nor whipping would make him go. Next he tried him on the saddle, but by rearing, kicking and plunging, the horse exhausted the patience of every one present, and the young man left his horse and went away disappointed. Next Saturday the following advertisement appeared: 'To be sold at public auction, a beautiful young horse, warranted sound in wind and limb, equally kind in harness and on the saddle, and sold because the owner wanted to leave the city.'

A steam Cotton Factory, running 800 spindles employing 50 hands, and consuming 350 bales of cotton a year, is in successful operation in Williams county, Tennessee.

Worse than French Boots.—The following information will doubtless create a great sensation amongst the feathered tribe. What a cackling there will be in the farm when it is known that French hens have been imported into this country; and that they can afford to lay such tremendous large eggs at the same price as our hens at home lay little eggs. 'Tis a foul affair, and should receive the immediate attention of Congress. What will the 'cackling hen' of Ohio think of this?—Balt Repub
