

A Savannah paper mentions a cabbage, grown on the Thunderbolt road, near that town, which weighed 184 pounds.

The Cape of Good Hope papers notice the discovery, by an English whaler, of several islands in the Pacific Ocean, previously unknown. They were eight in number, of some extent, fertile, and inhabited. The appearance of the natives and the canoes, was totally different from any others in that neighborhood.

Edward C. Delavan, of Albany, New York, has devoted sixteen years of labor, and a fortune of $60,000 in promoting the glorious cause of Temperance. What a rich and pleasing reward must the present onward progress of the great moral reform be to him, for his philanthropic labors!

We learn that on Monday last, says the Ky. Intelligencer, at the opening of the Estill Circuit Court, the Sheriff of the County resigned his commission, and the Judge was compelled to adjourn Court without doing any business. General distress is said to prevail throughout the county.

Mrs. Mills, of Peachbottom township, Pa., whose death was said to have been caused by violence at the hands of a minister named Park, the jury have declared died from natural causes. There seems to have been no good ground for the scandal which implicated the clergyman.

They work cheap in Connecticut. The salary of the Mayor of Hartford, the Times of the city says, is $40 per annum, and a first rate one is procuring at that if he gives many leaves he, probably cannot, lay up much of his salary.

The Richmond Compiler says that a relative of young Semmes has paid into the court Charlotteville $25,000, the amount of bail forfeited by his non-appearance to answer the charge of having murdered Professor Davis.

The Mormon, Nauvoo Legion, it is said, comprise two thousand well disciplined, and fully armed soldier. Gov. Carlin was to review them on the 7th of May. 'Joe Smith' commands this formidable army.

In the ship Argo, which arrived at New York on Monday from Havre, came passengers the wife and daughter of General Cass, American Minister to France.

The Army worm and cut worm are doing a vast deal of injury in different parts of Gallatin county, Ill. The timothy is almost entirely destroyed.

There was a severe frost at Pittsburg, Pa. on the 15, which destroyed the fruit, &c.

There is to be a grand celebration the settlement of Kentucky, in that State, in June next.

The Missouri Sentinel reports a large sale of corn at that place, at seven cents a bushel.

College Burnt.—The Wesleyan Seminary, at Livingston county, N. Y., which 400 students were in the course of education. Loss $20,000. Insured of $12,000.

Destructive Storm.—A storm of wind, hail and lightning, passed Raytown, Ga. on the 17th and killed a number of negroes, and did other damage. The hail stones remained on the ground for more than an hour.

Mormon Prophet Killed.—The St. Louis Era states that Wm. Smith, the Mormon prophet, was killed at Nauvoo, in an affray, a day or two previous.

Another Distinguished Man Gone.—Hon. Joseph Smith died at his residence, Greendale, on Sunday in his 73d year. He was the first President of the District Court of the city of Philadelphia.

They are at Charleston, S. C.; a curious object of antiquity, in the shape of a prayer book, thirteen hundred and fifteen years old. It is a master piece of craftsmanship.

The St. Louis people have been lynching another gang of gamblers. They will be scarce in those regions shortly, we opine.

Sound Democrat Doctrine.—"Can one generation bind another, and all others, its succession? I think not. The Creator has made the earth for the LIVING, not the DEAD."—Thomas Jefferson.

ANOTHER REVOLUTIONARY HERO GONE.

Departed this life at his residence in Columbia, N. H., March 7 1842. Major Jared Cone, aged 83 years. He was born in Bolton, Ct., June, 1659, and entered the service of his country in repelling the aggressions of England against the Colonies in 1775, at the age of 16, and continued in active and most laborious service to the close of that memorable contest for liberty. He was in several important battles—was with the brave and lamented Col. Seimel when slain; and finally after suffering every thing but death itself he was at the closing scene; the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Va. He was retained in the peace establishment with the rank of Major which he soon resigned, and engaged in mercantile pursuits, from which he was soon after called by his fellow citizens to engage in political life. He represented his native town in the General Assembly sixteen sessions in succession. He was also appointed a civil magistrate, and was called to various duties of which he discharged with faithfulness and fidelity to his constituents, and honor to himself. In 1809 he removed to Columbia, N. H., where he was soon called from that retirement which he sought, to serve his fellow citizens in the capacity of a magistrate, and to fill various town offices, such as Town Clerk, Selectman, Collector, &c., some one or more of which offices he continued to hold till incapacitated by the infirmities of age to discharge their duties. He also was a member of the New Hampshire Legislature three Sessions, making in all nineteen sessions he had served his fellow citizens in the Legislature, and more than sixty years he had served his country either in a military or civil capacity during which time, no man, perhaps, occupying his position ever had fewer enemies or maintained a more perfect character for honesty and integrity of purpose, or purity of motive. He was emphatically the 'noblest work of God,' an honest man. He was twice married, and the father of twelve children, ten of whom with the second wife survive him. Although he was strictly moral and professed a high regard for religion; yet he neglected to become personally interested in the blessings of the great salvation, till within a few years of his death, when he sought, and found the Savior connected himself with the Congregational Church, a member of which he died. His last end was peace—he rests from his labors and toils and his works do follow him.

Beauties of Banking.—The Buffalo Courier says.—In a late number of Styles' Counterfeit Detector, we find a list of the names of upwards of twelve hundred banks in the United States. Upon a careful examination, we find that of the twelve hundred, three hundred are broken, or "no more," which means the same thing sixty-four are fraudulent institutions; forty-four are either closed or closing; fifty-five are at discount of from 35 to 90 per cent; 62 are from 2 to 20 per cent discount; and 52 are at par or worth 100 cents on the dollar, in city of New York. The same paper also contains a list of over 100 different counterfeits on the various banking institutions in the Union.

Horrible Crime.—The Nashua, N. H., Telegraph states that in Ashburnham, Mass. a girl sixteen years old, who was about to give birth to a child, when, on being called upon to swear to its paternity, charged it upon her own father! His name is Ward—he is sixty years old, and the father of sixteen children, of whom this unfortunate girl is the youngest. The people of the town assembled, and gave him six hours to leave the place, during which time he disposed of his property a mounting to handsome sum, leaving it to his family and took his departure for parts unknown. He had always borne an excellent character.

A She Devil.—At Lynn, Mass., on Monday a little boy was so severely whipped by a school mistress, that he died in the course of a few hours after from his injuries. The inhuman wretch was forthwith arrested.

Stopped in Time.—A lad was stopped at Pittsburg, on Saturday last, walking off a steamboat with $200 in specie, and about the same amount of Banks notes, which he had taken the trouble to appropriate to him, self, probably under an impression that the owner did not know the worth of them.

Important Discussion.—On the trial of a woman in England, for biting off a man's nose, the foreman of the jury decided, that if a man attempted to kiss a woman against her will, she had a right to bite off his nose if she had a fancy for so doing! A verdict was accordingly rendered for the defendant.

The New York Journal of Commerce says that there have arrived at that port from foreign ports during the week ending last Sunday; 6295 passengers; 1566 of whom have arrived on Sunday; making a total of 22,294 since 1st January.

THIN OUT YOUR PEACHES.

The Germantown Telegraph states that Mr. Ridgway raised last year, on his splendid orchards, near Delaware City, upwards of eighteen thousand bushels of peaches, the finest ever brought to Philadelphia. The plan Mr. R. pursues to get large fruit, is to thin them out in their green state, that the energies of the tree, instead being divided a mong thousands of diminutive peaches, are concentrated upon one third of the number, giving them three times the size, and this size brings three times the price of the small, sour, immatured fruit which is so constantly met with in the markets.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature of this Commonwealth will reassemble at Harrisburg, on the 9th of June inst., pursuant to adjournment, for the purpose of apportioning the Congressional district, and the transacting such other business as circumstances may dictate.

Another Bank Robbed.—We are informed, says the N. Orleans Advertiser, that the Branch Bank of Louisiana, at St. Francisville, has been robbed of some $80,000, or more. The Cashier, it seems, allowed persons to overdraw; a least so goes the story. He has been dismissed it is said, from the employ of the Branch.

Misfortune, it is said, never comes single. A man named Hucheson with his son and two other lads, had been to the Savannah Market, to sell a drove of cattle, and were on their way home. The father stopped a night at a tavern and sent the boys on in advance of him. During the night he was robbed of all the proceeds of his sale, and continuing his way home penniless found that his son had been struck dead by lightning in the road, and his two companions so severely injured, that it is believed they will not survive.

A heart rending accident occurred at Rimersburg, in Clarion county, Pennsylvania on the 11th inst. A young man by the name of Hilliard it seems was in a wagon for a museum commenced brandishing a sword and giving orders to the bystanders. A young man by the name of Fox who stood by with a rifle commenced fencing with it to amuse the lookers on—when inadvertently Fox placed his hand upon the lock, and the rifle went off: the ball entered the head of Hilliard, who fell dead from the wagon. Fox was not aware that the rifle was loaded. Is another melancholy warning to those who play with fire arms.—Keystone.

HISTORY OF A FORGER.

The Boston Mail gives a short history of a notorious character named Hamrad, who has at least a dozen aliases to his name, and whose life is quite as chequered with crime as the villains of olden time—Abaleno, Rinaldo or Jack Shepperd not excepted. He went through the operation of hanging himself in London some years ago, while waiting his trial for forgery, and while his keeper went for medical aid, cut himself down and escaped. He was subsequently transported, but even then contrived to escape from Botany Bay. He has been several times in jail at N. Orleans and Cincinnati, but found means to break his prison walls; He was sentenced to Sing Sing, but enlisted the sympathy of some philanthropists at New York, and was released. He is now in jail in Newport, but how long he will remain there is uncertain. He is an excellent penman, and a man of ready talent.

A most horrible outrage on a young woman was perpetrated near the village of Fulton, Oswego Co., on Monday week, by eight or ten young scoundrels four of whom are now in jail at Oswego. We hope their trial will take place before a Judge and Jury who do not hold that systematic abomination are a necessary evil with Major D'Arzac, and some others member of the Legislature of that State. Like Governors, like people.

The wheat crop in Kentucky promises an abundant yield.
