

Profits on the Canals and Rail Road.
 As the amount of profit made on all the Public Works during the last year, is set down at over half a million of dollars, it may be well enough merely to state that such is not the fact. The people of this state, and we must include the press, have been so long looking for profit, that at the very first glimmer of such a thing they imagine it is in their Treasury. More especially at present is this item of fancied profit held up to the public gaze; by persons whose interests lead them only to look at part of the record. To get at the exact balance yielded the commonwealth by the public works in 1842 is impossible, but we can show from the report of the Canals, Commissioners what the profit amounted to in nine months—the expenses for the remaining three months, the heaviest portion of the year, were not made up; except on the Allegheny and Portage Railroad, at the date of the report, January 4, 1843.

From the Canal Commissioners Report, 1843.

There are a host of subsidized Presses in our state—whose editors; either directly or indirectly, have their hands in the vaults of our impoverished Treasury—that daily and weekly pour forth their torrents of abuse upon democratic members for their vote in favor of the bill to elect Canal Commissioners. Has it come to this, that members who support measures of reform and expediency, are to be thus denounced? Will the people tolerate such an outrage as this! Is public opinion to be manufactured by bribed presses, which team with articles written at the seat of government, and sent off in every direction! Are members to be intimidated by such a course as this? The bill to elect Canal Commissioners is one that ought to become a law, and, as we believe will become a law. And it is not the member who votes for that bill, that should be afraid to look his constituents in the face—but he who votes against it! When the reports for the last quarter of the year 1842, is made public, the people will be able to perceive whether half a million has been saved in one year, as has been asserted!—Reporter.

THE DEMOCRATIC REVIEW.

The 'United States Magazine and Democratic Review,' for March, is already on our table, and fully sustains the proud reputation acquired by that incomparable Journal. The present number contains a brief biographical sketch of the Hon. Levi Woodbury, with a beautiful engraved portrait of that true Democrat and enlightened Statesman—'The Gallows and the Gospel. An Appeal to Clergymen opposing themselves to the abolition of the One, in the name of the Other'—'Meets,' by Mrs. Ellet—'Mr. Clay and the Restrictive System,' together with numerous other ably written and interesting articles.

The publishers make to new subscribers the following liberal offer, which will remain open only until the extra copies are disposed of:—To any person who shall remit to them, direct under frank of the Postmaster, $10 in current funds, they agree to forward a complete set of the New Series of the Review; commencing July, 1841, to January, 1843, inclusive, (comprising eighteen numbers,) gratuitously, and to continue to send the work for two years ensuing, to January, 1845. This unprecedented instance of liberality—involving a gift of eighteen consecutive numbers of such a periodical—the publishers cannot doubt will be at once appreciated, and it is scarcely necessary to remind all who would avail themselves of such pre-eminant advantages, to be immediate in their application. Remittances should be addressed to the Publishers, J. & H. G. Langley, 57 Chatham street New York.

A monomaniac at Pottsville, on Wednesday week, stripped himself entirely, and went up on Young's Hill, expecting to be translated to Heaven. He waited so long, and the weather was so cold, that it was with difficulty a physician could restore him to animation again.

The following Bill has been read in place, by Mr. Sullivan, of the Senate, and we hope to see it forthwith become the law of the land.

AN ACT to punish seduction, and to afford a more adequate civil remedy for the injury.

Section 1. That seduction of any female is hereby declared to be an indictable offence, in addition to the remedies now given by law, for the perpetration of this great private and public wrong, and any person who shall be convicted of the offence of seduction, in any court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace of this commonwealth, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not less than $500 nor more than $10,000, at the court, and further to undergo a solitary confinement, at hard labor in the proper penitentiary for a period not less than one year, nor longer than ten years, at the discretion of the court; Provided, That in lieu of the imprisonment in the Penitentiary the court may, if the circumstances of the case are mitigated, sentence to imprisonment the county jail.

Section 2. That the action of seduction may be maintained and sued by any mother or other relation of the female seduced; to recover damages for loss of service or for injury done to the reputation of the relatives, and for such aggravations as may have attended the commission of the injury. Provided, That only one action shall be maintained for redress of such injuries arising out of any one case of seduction.

If the journals owned and edited by Canal Collectors throughout the State had delayed for a few weeks the attacks upon the member from this county, for the course he has seen fit to pursue in regard to a certain act of legislation, perhaps the reason of their spleen would not have been quite so obvious. These valiant knights of the quill, so very ready to do battle, have each and all some six hundred or more reasons per annum for their ardor. Do they feel uneasy in their chairs!—Does the $50 per month, with rent and stationary, appear uncertain in the future? Well, it's human nature, after all; and the slave must do his master's will.—Wilkesbarre Farmer.

Ohio.—A bank bill granting charters to expired institutions at Cincinnati, Columbus, Zanesville, Mount Pleasant and Warren, and making provisions for the future establishment of others, has passed the Senate of the Ohio Legislature, and will probably become a law. The bill enacts as follows:

The individual and private responsibility of the directors and stockholders for the circulation and debts of the bank.

Before the commencement of business, the bona fide payment of the entire capital in gold and silver coin.

A prohibition upon loans on pledges of stock of any description, as well upon all dealing or speculating in stock of any kind.

That the circulation shall in no instance exceed the amount of the bona fide capital paid up, and in the actual employment of the bank, nor exceed three dollars for every dollar of gold and silver coin on hand.

That no bank shall pay out or put in circulation in any way, the paper of other banks.

Canal Commissioners.—The following resolutions were offered in the House of Representatives, on Saturday last, by Gen. Rounsfott. We presume the information will be communicated for the benefit of the 'green horns' in a day or two.

Whereas, The Canal Commissioners, while they have exhibited in the statement of their account, the receipts on the public works for the entire year, 1842, have exhibited the expenses on said work for nine months only—therefore,

Resolved, That the Canal Commissioners be requested to furnish this House the expenses on the public works for the first quarter of the year 1842, which they have omitted in the statement of their account.

The rule was in this case dispensed with and the resolution adopted.

LATE FROM MEXICO.

The Campeachans still defend their city against the Mexican army, and it would appear, with no little punishment to the latter. It is stated that the Mexicans have fortified themselves on the heights of Gilina, overlooking Campeachy, were driven thence on the 1st of Feb. by the Campeachans, the latter losing only some 70 men, while the Mexican lost 400, among whom were their general, and a son of Santa Ana. The Campeachans, it is stated, are therefore in high spirits, and are about to declare Yucatan free for ever, and adopt a national standard, Com. Moore, with the Texan fleet, was expected soon to arrive to their assistance.

A Boston paper estimates that there is now in the U. States, over $80,000,000 in specie.

A correspondent of the Boston American states that the Penobscot Indians have in their possession several autograph letters from Gen. Washington, addressed to them urging their neutrality while the contest for our independence was raging.

So goes it.—The Hon. Thomas F. Marshall since he has renounced rum drinking, and became a respectable member of society, declines a reelection to Congress. When will that once reverend and sagacious body return to pristine purity?

A young widow who edits a paper in a neighboring state, says:—'We do not look so well to day as usual, on account of the non arrival of the males.'

OBITUARY.
