

POETRY.

From the German of Labbein.
HABICH AND HATTICH.

'A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush!' There are two little songsters well known in the land,
There names are I have and O had I; I have will come tamely and perch on your hand,
But O had I will mock you most sadly.

I have, at first sight, is less fair in the eye But his worth is by far the more enduring,
Than a thousand O had I's, that sit far and high,
On roofs and on trees so alluring.

Full many a golden egg this bird will lay,
And sing you 'Be cheery! be cheery!' O, merrily, then, will the day glide away And sweet shall your sleep be when weary.

But let an O had I once take your eye, And longing to catch him once seize you,— He'll give you no comfort nor rest till you die,
Life long he'll torment you and tease
you.

He'll keep you all day running up and down hill,
Now racing, now panting, now creeping; While far overhead, this sweet bird, a this will,
With his golden plumage is sweeping.

Then every wise man who attends to my song,
Will count his I have a choice treasure, And, whenever and O had I come flying alone,
We'll just let him fly at his pleasure.

SONG.

BY MISS LANDON.

My heart is like the failing hearth Now by my side.
One by one its burst of flame Have burst and died
There are none to watch the sinking blaze
And none to care,
Or if it kindle into strength,
Or waste in air.

My fate is as you faded wreath Of summer flowers.
They've spent their store of fragrant heath.
On sunny hours,
Which rock'd them not, which heeded not
When they were dead:
Other flowers, unwarmed by them Will spring instead,

And my own heart is as the lute
I am now waking,
Wound to too fine and high a pitch They both are breaking.
Silence, forgetfulness, and rest, Lute, are for thee;
And such my lot, neglect, the grave,
These are for me.

'First Class in parsing, take your places.' —'James, what case is Mr. Smith?' 'Objective case, sir.' 'Why so?' 'Cause he objected to pay daddy that five dollars he borrowed the other day.' 'That'll do, go to your seats.'

The prosperous man has everything to fear, and the poor man every thing to hope.
To the former every change threatens loss, to the latter it promises benefit. He little fears the turning of the wheel who is already at the bottom.

Never drink brandy when you can get wine; never drink wine when you can get beer; never drink beer when you can get cider, and never drink cider when you can get water.

A lady making inquiries of a boy about his father, an intemperate man, who had been sick for some time, asked whether he had regained his appetite? 'No, ma'am,' says the boy, 'not exactly, his appetite is very poor, but drink is as good as ever.'

Fears are entertained that Hueston, of the Baton Rouge Gazette, is about to take to poetry. The following startling announcement appears in the last number of his paper:

'One of the most tender subjects that ever employed the pen of a poet, is an old shirt.'

Lord Brougham, when in a playing mood wrote the following epitaph on himself:

'Here, reader, turn your weeping eyes, My fate an useful moral teaches,
The hole in which my body lies Would not contain one half my speeches!'

CARE OF HORSES IN TRAVEL.

LING.

If you intend that your horse shall perform a long journey, you must take particular care of him at every stopping place.
He must have something that will eat and he must have grain. It often happens, that tavern hay looks better than really is, and it often looks too bad to be offered a horse. If you rely on hay to sustain your horse, and that hay is poor, you can expect to make no great progress on your journey the day following.

The best mode is, on a journey, to rely chiefly on grain, but your horse must be used to eating grain before the journey is commenced. Oats are not so solid food as corn, but if you feed wholly on oats, you will need to give no other grain. Horses are seldom injured by oats when they are given at proper times—that is, they should not be given just before starting. It is safer to give the principal part of the grain that the horse is to have, at night. He will then be ready to start early in the morning; his grain will be digested, and it will do him good.

Your cheapest and best mode will be to purchase half a bushel of oats at night, and let your horse have the whole mess. Your taverner will charge you no more than he would for half a peck and the hay. He will say the horse cannot eat much hay if he eats his half bushel of oats, and he will charge you for the oats only. The highest tavern price for oats, by the half bushel, may be half a dollar. Well, you will seldom get a horse kept short of that in a large town, through he should have but a peck of grain.

Some people fear to give grain while the horse is warm, yet they will not he sitate about giving grain just before starting. But it is hard driving after eating, not eating after hard driving, that injures a horse. It is believed that grain is no ofenser injurious to the horse when he is warm, than at any other time. Let any man consult his own feelings. Does not his food hurt him more when he comes in hot from work and eats it, than at any other time? Is it violent exercise, after eating hearty, that cause severe pain? Every one who has tried it and thought of it, will answer yes.

Horses have often been ruined by hard driving soon after being stuffed with grain.
How often do we see people at public houses give their horses but little grain at night for fear they would not eat a due quantity of hay, and then just before starting give a larger mess to travel upon! people who seldom travel, and who seldom give their horses grain, will stuff them with these articles on the morning of starting. If the grain had been given on the previous night, there would be some chance of its doing good.

Triumphant Success.

And a new discovery in the Newspaper Business.

A most important and invaluable discovery has been made by a gentleman of this city, by which newspapers may be printed in their present form, and at the same time, capable of being converted at pleasure, into a Magazine form, for preservation.
This grand improvement, which is destined to form a new era in the business, effecting an entire revolution in the art of printing mammoth newspapers will be introduced by permission of the patente, into the Philadelphia Saturday Museum, commencing in May next.

In announcing to the friends of the newspaper press throughout the country a discovery, which will add so immensely to the value of newspapers, the publishers of the Saturday Museum, have, also, the proud satisfaction of announcing the complete and triumphant success of their new Family newspaper. The liberal patronage already secured for this new and popular enterprise, has not only surpassed the most sanguine expectations, but is entirely unprecedented.

IMPROVEMENTS IN "THE MUSEUM."

'The Museum' is now so fairly and firmly established, that we feel warranted in making some very extensive and important improvements. By the first of May, we shall have completed all our arrangements. We shall have in the first place, a beautiful, clear and bold type—in the second, a superb smooth and white paper—in the third place we shall make an ingenious and novel change in the arrangement of the matter—in the fourth place we shall increase our corps of contributors in all the various departments of a Family Newspaper—in the fifth place, we have secured, at a high salary, the services of Edgar A. Fox, Esq., a gentleman whose high and versatile abilities have always spoken promptly for themselves, and who, after the first of May, will aid us in the editorial conduct of the journal.

The 'Narrative of Townsend's Journey over the Rocky Mountains,' one of the most interesting and valuable ever published, is sent to all new subscribers. At its conclusion, our readers will find themselves in possession of a work which alone will be worth double the subscription to the paper. We shall continue, also, of course, the 'Biographical Sketches and Portraits,' which are now exciting so unexampled an interest. With these and other features continued, and with the improvements in contemplation, it remains to be seen whether we do not amply fulfil our determination of making the very best newspaper in America.

Persons wishing to secure six thousand large octavo pages of useful, interesting, and unexceptionable reading for the select family circle, for the small sum of Two Dollars per year—being at the astonishingly low rate of thirty pages for one cent, or equivalent to one hundred and twenty pages for four cents—should hand their names in now.

TERMS.—Two Dollars per annum. Three copies for Five Dollars, or Sixteen copies for Twenty Dollars, is the extra inducement offered at present for clubbing.

LADY'S WREATH, AND YOUNG LADIES' MAGAZINE.

Is the title of a new work published bi-monthly in Philadelphia, at the extremely low price of
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The design of this work is to furnish, at a low rate, a Magazine, which, as regards literary merit and mechanical execution shall equal the best three dollar magazines. Each number will contain at least forty eight (8 vo.) pages of reading matter.

ENTIRELY ORIGINAL,
from the pens of the most talented male and female writers of the day. One or more ries of splendid

FLORAL ENGRAVINGS—RICHLY COLORED,

now in course of preparation; decidedly the most attractive series of embellishments ever given in any magazine. One or more pages of new and popular MUSIC, will be given in each number. It will be printed upon new type, cast expressly for the purpose, and upon fine white paper. The work has reached its third number, and, thus far, the result has proved that the design of publishing a Magazine of superior literary merit and elegant execution at the low price of

could not but be successful. Our subscription list is already double that of any One Dollar Lady's Magazine, and hundreds are added each week.

NEW CONTRIBUTORS, of known and acknowledged talent have been secured, and the publishers are determined to spare no pains or expense in rendering the work every way worthy the patronage of the public.
