

REMOVAL AND NEW COUNTY.

Both these measures have been defeated. Mr. Snyder, our Representative in the popular branch of the Legislature, in pursuance of the instructions given him by his constituents, introduced a bill removing the seat of justice from Danville. It passed that body by a large majority,—in fact, the Danville faction, aided by senator Headley, were unable to make even a show of resistance. It went to the senate, and by a union of the opponents of removal, and the friends of division, the removal was voted down and the division bill passed. The Danville faction, finding senator Headley had, through his treachery and deception, progressed thus far with his iniquitous object, rallied all their forces, for the purpose of making a set-off upon the house of representatives, to carry the bill through that body. Judge Donaldson, Peter Baldy, John Rhodes, and V. Best, were despatched to Harrisburg for the purpose, and no means in their power, were left untried by them to effect their purpose. Their pledges last fall were forgotten—the interest of the people of the county were not thought of—the villages of Danville and Berwick were only present to their mind. But by the untiring exertions of Col. Wright, speaker, and Mr. Snyder, they were defeated in their unholy suicidal project, by an overwhelming majority, and these recreants to the true interests of Columbia county, compelled to return home with the mark of Cain branded upon their foreheads; and the people saved from the worst of curses, a division.

"The papers on the North Branch state that the canal packet boats have commenced their regular trips," says the Harrisburg Reporter. Not so fast. So far from this being a fact, not a single boat has as yet been able to stir an inch, except during the high water when several were hoisted into the river, nor is there any prospect of any business being done on this branch for weeks to come. So much for the reform of the Canal Commissioners for Tyler purposes.

THE ADJOURNMENT.

The State Legislature adjourned on Tuesday night last about 12 o'clock, after a session of one hundred and six days. Although the session had been a boisterous one, and the most excited and angry discussions had frequently sprung up, still the closing scene on Tuesday night, was marked by a degree of good feeling seldom witnessed, at the close of a session. This was particularly observed in the House of Representatives: The valedictory of Speaker Wright, was most feeling and impressive, and at its close all seemed to forget that a personal dispute had ever occurred on the floor of the House during any period of the session, and the members separated to return to their homes and families with as much good feeling to wards each other as we have seen manifested on any occasion of the kind. Although efforts have been made to bring the late Legislature into disrepute, still it may emphatically be styled 'the Reform Legislature.' A bill was passed reducing the salaries of the officers of Government about 25 per cent, which it is said will effect a saving to the State of over two hundred thousand dollars. This is a measure well calculated to be popular with the people, and we apprehend that those representatives who took an active part in the passage of the bill will receive from their constituents on their return to their homes the meed of praise.

Various other measures of reform were passed, such as abolishing the Nickolsor Court, abolishing the Criminal Sessions of Philadelphia, providing for the election of Canal Commissioners by the people, and finally for the site of the public works, or a portion of them, which will meet the approbation of the people. A printing bill was also passed, which reduced the expenses of the Legislature, in the single item of printing, more than twenty thousand dollars.—All these acts are well calculated to strengthen the late Legislature, or at least a majority of it, with the people, and we take it that the efforts of those who may attempt to bring it into disrepute will recoil upon their own heads, and cover them with shame and confusion. Whilst the representative carries out the express will of his constituents he has nothing to fear, and it is only when he appears recreant to their interests, that he has cause to hide himself from their indignant gaze. The people of Pennsylvania at the commencement of the late session called loudly for reform, and the late Legislature set early to work to carry out that reform.

How far they have done so it is for the people to judge, but in our opinion they have done as much probably as could be done under the circumstances which surrounded them. We trust therefore that the people will examine the acts of their representatives, before they believe the statement of those who may wish to cast odium upon them.—Keystone.

This is a less sum than has ever heretofore been appropriated to the same objects, and shows a commendable reform in many of its items.

Henry K. Strong, of Harrisburg, has been appointed State Librarian; in place of Seth Salisbury, of Bradford, removed.

The Cabinet.—The last rumor from Washington, is that Judge Upshur is to take the Department of State, which is shortly to be vacated by Mr. Webster, and that Mr. Cushing is to be appointed Secretary of the Navy.

A correspondent of the Union Times recommends the Hon. JOHN SNYDER, the son of the venerated Simon Snyder, as a suitable candidate to fill the gubernatorial chair.

Martin Van Buren.—The democratic members of the New York Legislature, held a meeting at Albany on Monday last, and with great unanimity expressed their preference for Martin Van Buren as the candidate of the democratic party for the Presidency, subject to the approval of a National Convention.

LAWS BY SUFFRANCE.

The Governor has allowed the bill providing for the election of Canal Commissioners by the people, to become a law without his signature.

The Reform Bill also became a law by limitation.

Endorsers.—It has recently been decided by a Court in Philadelphia, that an endorser of a promissory note cannot release himself from liability by giving the holder notice to sue prior endorsers.

THE MASSACRE AT WYOMING.

Major Roswell Franklin, the last survivor of the Massacre of Wyoming, died recently at Aurora, in the State of New York. The deceased was a native of Connecticut. His father emigrated to the Valley of Wyoming, Pennsylvania—both were engaged in the battle with the Indians and English of that place, which war so disastrous to the settlers. The mother and one sister were butchered before their eyes—another sister was taken prisoner, and retained by the Indians 11 years at Niagara—the deceased was also taken prisoner and retained among them about three years near Mount Morris, Livingston county, New York.

FRIGHTFUL CASE OF STARVATION.

The Roman Citizen, published at Rome Oneida county, New York, gives a most heart-rending account of the death, by starvation, of a mother and her child. An Irishman with his family, some time since took up his residence in Florence, in that county, four or five miles from the village; and a mile from any neighbor. Last summer the man was killed by the falling of a tree, leaving a wife and three small children. Left thus alone, the poor woman managed to sustain herself and little ones comfortable, till winter with its severities came upon her. The deep snow shut her little shanty, and she was soon forgotten by the world without. One of her near neighbors chancing to call her to mind put on snow shoes, and proceeded to her house nearly buried in the snow. With much difficulty he succeeded in entering and then what a scene! In one corner lay the lifeless, emaciated body of the mother. The suffering spirit had fled. By the side of their mother's corpse lay the three children, just gasping in the last agonies of starvation. They were immediately taken to the neighbor's house and supplied with food, but in one life was nearly extinct, and after lingering a short time it expired. The poor woman had lived to see her children devour the last crumb in the house, and had then laid herself down to die in the agonies of starvation.

SOMETHING REALLY AMUSING.

To see the Herrisbure Argus, edited by a gentleman who advocates the claims of Col Johnson for the Presidency at Danville, and Gen. Cass, and John Tyler in Harrisburg, reading the Globe, Richmond Enquirer and Albany Argus, out of the Democratic party.

SECOND VOLUME OF THE MAGENT.

DEVOTED TO THE INVESTIGATION OF HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY, Embracing Cephalology, Phrenology, Pathology, Physiognomy, Neurology, Psychology, Electricity, Galvanism, Magnetism, Coloric, Light, and Life.

BY LA ROY LUNDERLAND.

The design of this popular and interesting work, is the investigation of all the laws which appertain to Human Life, and which are concerned in the production of those states of the mind called Somnambulism, Insanity, Dreaming, Second Sight, Somniphany, Trance, Clairvoyance, and various other Mental Phenomena; which have hitherto remained shrouded in mystery.

Its pages are enriched with Essays and Communications, detailing facts, illustrating the Science of Cephalology, which teaches the Influences and Susceptibilities of the human brain, and the method of controlling its separate organs by Pelelism; together with such information as may assist in the most successful application of this wonderful agent to Diagnosis—the Delinquent of Character—and the RELIEF OF MUMAN SUFFERING.

THE NEW MIRROR.

Every number embellished with an original and exquisite Design on Steel—Edited by GEORGE P. MORRIS—Illustrated by J. G. Chapman, who is engaged exclusively for the work. Terms, Three Dollars per annum—Single number 64 cents.

In the course of a few weeks the undersigned will commence on his own account, the publication of a New Series of the N. YORK MIRROR, in the octavo form, on an entirely novel and original plan, with a Steel Engraving in every number and at the reduced price of Three Dollars per annum, or six and a quarter cents per copy.

The New mirror will appear with many striking and attractive features, distinguishing it from every other periodical. It will be published with new type, on fine paper, and each number will contain a beautiful original Engraving on Steel, designed and etched by Chapman, illustrating the letterpress which it accompanies, and which it will invest by peculiar interest. Besides the contributions of all our extensive corps of correspondents—which embrace most of the talent of this country—we have made arrangements for fresh and early translations from some of the best writers of France, and for proof sheets from several of the popular authors of England. With such materials, and with such able fellow laborers in the literary vineyard, we hope to present to the American reader a weekly journal of great value and unusual excellence.—The parade of mere names will be sedulously avoided. The mirror will be remarkable, we hope, rather for good articles without names, than for poor articles with distinguished names. It will embrace in its scope every department of elegant literature, comprising tales of romance, sketches of society and manners, sentiment and every day life, piquant essays, domestic and foreign correspondence, literary intelligence, wit and humor, fashion and gossip, poetry, the fine arts, and literary, musical and dramatic criticisms. Its reviews of new works will be careful, discriminating and impartial. It will aim to foster a literature suited to the taste and desires of the age and country. Its tendency will be cheerful and enlivening, as well as improving. It will seek to gratify every refined taste, but never to offend the most fastidious; and it will ever feel its duty to be, to turn the sunny side of things to human eyes.

The work will be published every Saturday; in numbers of sixteen large octavo superroyal pages, with double columns, and enclosed in a neat ornamental cover. It will form, at the end of the year two superb volumes, each of four hundred and sixteen pages, filled with the gems of literature and the fine arts.

The very low price at which it will be issued, renders it the cheapest periodical in this or any other country, considering the cost and beauty of its FIFTY TWO ENGRAVINGS, and the intrinsic value of its literary contents. Those desirous of receiving the paper from this commencement, will have it punctually sent to their address upon forwarding to the undersigned, at No. 4 Ann street three dollars, free from expense.

Letters enclosing the amount of subscription may be franked by all postmasters. Agents, carriers and newsmen will be supplied on the usual terms. The Cash System will be rigidly adhered to, without any deviation whatever.

GEORGE P. MORRIS,

Editor and Proprietor.

No. 4 Ann street, near Broadway, N. Y.

Longly's Great Western Indian PANACEA.

Compounded entirely of Vegetable Substances: Free from Calomel and all other Minerals.

For the history of this Medicine, and its unrivalled and truly surprising success and popularity, see large bills.

It is recommended as a general cathartic for family use—in dyspepsia and all bilious disease, it is invaluable—for Asthma it is considered a specific no case having yet occurred which it has failed to cure—for common colds, inflammatory diseases rheumatism, affections of the liver, &c. and for females, it is a safe and excellent remedy.

NEW CERTIFICATES

From Hon. Robert Marshall, Circuit Judge (Sixth Circuit) in the State of New York.

Greene, Nov. 25, 1842.

Col. Longley—Dear Sir: I thank you for the bottle of Panacea sent by Mr. Johnson. I have used one bottle of your valuable medicine for myself, and in my family, and am well satisfied it is a safe and valuable medicine. I have found it the best remedy for bilious attacks, to which I am subject, that I have used. My neighbor, to whom I loaned your medicine speaks of it as great relief in dyspepsia.

Your Obedt Seryt.

ROBT. MONELL.

From Doct. Silas West, of Blagdenham.

Mr. Longley—Dear Sir: I have used your Great Western Indian Panacea in my family, and have repeatedly prescribed it for patients under my care, and am satisfied that it is always a safe, and in very many cases an invaluable medicine. It operates as a laxative without nausea, or painful white it effectually obviates constiveness acts upon the stomach and liver as an alternative, correcting acidity, and restoring the healthy condition of those organs.

Very respectfully yours,

S. WEST.
