

WHAT AM I
Dow J. the eloquent preacher of 'short patent sermons,' answers the above question to this wise—

When I ask myself the question 'What am I?' it puzzles me how to answer it. Materially speaking, I am a sort of increased nonentity—a small barrel of the unstained oil of nothing, thickened into substance by accidentally coming in contact with a cold congealing world. Chemically speaking, I am a compound of phosphorus, gas and atmospheric wind; as most of you have, doubtless, long ago discovered. Mechanically speaking, I am an old clock, made, wound up and set in motion some several years ago by the Great Clock maker of the Universe. I was made to run 70 years; at least; if Fate and Fortune will only keep my inner works in order, I shall expect to keep going till my weights have run the full length of their chords. Morally speaking, I am an equal mixture of vice and virtue—a kind of vinegar and molasses mess. So nicely are they mixed together that the vinegar of vice is not so sour as to be unpalatable, nor the molasses of virtue so sweet as to be sickening. My feelings are as tender as young toad stools—my passions are as strong as a decoction of tobacco juice—my sympathies are as soft as the down under an angel's wing—and my desires for the proportion of human happiness are just as I happen to feel about the head heart and stomach.

Metaphorically speaking, I am a toy thing of time, played for a short period and then cast among rubbish, a foot ball of fate, kicked about till I burst, and am no longer worthy even of a kick; a wind mill of excitement, that moves with the popular breeze, but is still in a calm, and a correct thermometer, my mercury rising to summer heat by the warm rays of hope, and sinking to below zero in the cold atmosphere of doubt, a meek tallow candle, already burnt one third of its way to the socket, and every moment in danger of being extinguished by the sufferers of Death, an old boot worn by a pilgrim, with a wooden leg, over the rough road of existence, till it is neither worth feeling, patching nor preserving. In fact, my friends I don't see that I am of any more use to the universe (considered as a whole) than a shovel of powder to a ten acre cornfield. When I am dead and gone, I shall be as a thing that never had been; and the children of posterity will probably shoot marbles across my grave, as unconscious of their sacrilegious doings as a parcel of mice gnawing at the greasy leaves of an old and favorite family bible.

MISS SUSAN STIFFLE, SPELL SHAW!

No, try again
S-h-o-r-l
Lal-no, that ain't right. Susan, what do you put round your neck?
My beads, mam.
What else?
My new lace cape, mam
Pshaw! Did you go to church last night?
Yes mam

Well, now, what did you have round your neck, besides the cap and beads, just before you started?
O dear me, I can't tell
Bilby child. Recollect now, for you must tell
I am afeared'to, mam
Afraid to? What nonsense! Tell it right out, Miss, or I will give you black mark
Well, then, Jim Smith, the carpenter man, but it was only once
Good gracious, lordy me! Why the child is ruined. O, lad! I ever hear the like. Go right into the closet, Miss Susan Stiffle this minute

Elasticity of a Jew's Conscience
'What do you see for that coat?' said an Irishman to a Jew on Main street yesterday as he flitted up the side of a calico coat, whose texture you might in all probability have dated straw through—cheap and nasty like the People's theatre.
'Vat you want to buy dat coat, vell you shall have it for three dollars, cheap as dirt.
'Three dollars be faggers, I can buy them for less nor that on Wabsters street
'Vell run in, I sell 'em cheaper nor any store in dis city, by got now vat' ill you give for 'em I sell it to you for two dollars and a half not a dam cent less, so help me got!
Be dad I shan't give that for it, I'll give ye a dollar and half and not a d—d cent more
Well dat ish too bad by got to expect me to sell you a cote votcost me two dollar and a half in New York by the case for one dollar and a half tish too bad
Well by my troth if ye can't sell it for that I shall take it at all!
'Stop, I sell it for two dollar—not a d—d cent less so help me got.
'De'ia haproth more will ye get for that a dollar and a half
'Come back, you shall take it for one and seventy five!
'Say the dollar and a half—'
'Vell take it along—by got it is too cheap, I wouldn't sell it to nobody else for dat price, so help me got.'

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE FOR 1845.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE has long enjoyed the enviable reputation of being the best published in the U. S. both in the quality and number of its embellishments, and in the tone of its literary matters. It is the cheapest as well as the best. For the year 1844 the publisher has given about 100 pages more original matter than any of his contemporaries more original steel engravings, in addition to fashion plates and colored flowers. The cheapness and merit of a three-dollar magazine over all others is apparent, which has made an outlay of Seven Thousand Dollars greater than others, and an addition of engravings over other magazines that would embellish the costliest Annual. The publisher is however satisfied that nothing but real excellence can maintain the high position his periodical has attained in the United States.

The publisher does not hesitate to say that he defies all competition with Graham's magazine for 1845. His immense subscription list, the merit and number of his contributors, the high order of the engravings engaged, the number and variety of elegant plates already purchased and on hand, and the immense facility which his capital and position give to prosecute the work under any efforts at rivalry to procure the most valuable number of the work issued, bears with it the evidence of its triumphant success, and establishes the impossibility of successful competition, improves and extends for good works, that nothing of a humbug order will be tolerated.

Every number of Graham's magazine is issued at a cost of nearly $4000—the plates alone consisting nearly half the sum most of the plates are from Original American Paintings, executed expressly for the proprietor, for engravings for the magazine. Among the pictures painted for the volume for 1845, are two by Sully, the greatest artist, several by Leutz, Chapman, Inman, Conaroe, Rotherwell, Thomson, and others of the best artists of America. The cost of getting up embellishments of this style may be estimated when we state that some of these pictures cost $200 a piece, and will cost us some of them three times that sum to have them engraved and worked off for the edition of 'Graham's' But no cost shall be spared to keep our proud position at the head of the Periodicals of the world.

GRAHAM'S ELEGANT EMBELLISHMENTS.
The most splendid engravings of all sorts lend their charm to the pages of Graham's magazine. Everything in the way of novelty and beauty that has ever been invented is laid under contribution. Nothing that capital and taste can supply is omitted. First, as the most elegant and appropriate, as well as the most popular embellishment, we place Salsolin's Brilliant Mezzotint Engraving.

We were the first to introduce this beautiful style of work, as a regular embellishment of the popular monthlies. Its wide spread reputation thro' the means of our amplet, called forth a host of imitators, but up to this time nothing has been produced to rival the glorious pictures given in Graham's 'The Shepherd's Love,' and 'The Cottage,' these with a host of others, done for us by Mr. Sartain, stand unprecedent and alone as the head of American engraving. We have several of these inimitable plates under way, and shall give one in the January number.

The high merit of Graham's magazine considered the publisher flatters himself that the following liberal terms will induce thousands to subscribe.

The following proposals are made—2 copies for $5; 3 for $10; 6 for $15; 11 for $20.

To the Postmaster, or other persons forming a club, the Publisher will forward a Novel for every 'subscriber sent, so that by varying the books, a complete library may be obtained by any person in a short time.

Single Copies, three dollars per annum in advance. And to the person sending the money, a copy of 'Ringwood the Rover,' Herbert's pious Novel and also a copy of 'The Gems of Art and Beauty,' a beautiful work for a lady's Cabinet, containing thirteen splendid steel and mezzotint Engravings, will be forwarded gratis.

Brag's a good dog,
But Holdfast is better.

THE undersigned would return his sincere and humble thanks to the citizens of Bloomsburg and vicinity, for the favors thus far bestowed upon him, and would still further ask a continuance of the same, so long only as satisfaction is rendered. He would not say, Come one come all, but come as many as conveniently can. Neither would he promise, (as others have,) to do his work better than can be done in any other shop in the place; but in short, he would neither brag nor bid, but defy any one who does brag to do work nearer than he does, in all cases. He has also lately received the late

Whatsoever offer is made, by any other Family Journal, at all approaching in worth, beauty or pretensions, to the Saturday Courier, will be furnished by us.

The Courier has become so well and favorably known through a triumphantly popular course of fourteen years, that it would be superfluous to say much that subject here. We may remark, however, that to the industry, talent and enterprise, which have for its initiators, will constantly be added the productions of every available writer, and continued judicious and liberal expenditures will continuously be made, as well in the Literary as the Typographical departments. Our means will always enable us to be in advance of all others, and we shall be so.

Histories of Modern Republics.
A new and important announcement for the coming year, in addition to our already numerous popular features, will be a series of Condensed Histories of Modern Republics, by a fresh and vigorous writer, who will impart a wealth of important instruction to the rising generation, in the most entertaining Romance of History.

Biographies and notices of Distinguished Literary and Scientific Men.
Among the interesting essays and sketches of value, which we shall continue to present in the Courier, will be a full and interesting account of the rise, progress, and present elevated standing of all distinguished men, of the Past and Present, (at home or abroad,) in all departments of Art, Science, Literature, Statesmanship, Poetry, Mechanics, Planning, Agriculture, Printing, Merchandize, &c.

This will be a very interesting feature for the Young. It will be a department of the Courier, which it has ever been our aim to render of inestimable value to those for whom we feel so deep an interest as we do for the Young Men of our great and growing Country. The Lives of Distinguished Men are of such value to those who are yet forming their own characters, for the purpose of emulating the good, and avoiding the evil, of the great.

Under this head, (which is, by the way, not at all new in the Courier,) we shall hereafter give graphic and interesting accounts (occasionally beautifully illustrated) of the thrilling incidents, so profusely studied through the deeply important history of the American Revolution, and of all other revolutions that we may regard of the least interest of value to the readers of the Philadelphia Saturday Courier. This will be of deep consequence, also, to every member of any family of the American Republic, who may choose to do themselves and the favor of securing, regularly, the visits of the Courier at their Family Fireside.

POPULAR TOPOGRAPHY.—To gratify the growing appetite for a better knowledge of the important features of our great and glorious country, our past exertions shall be redoubled in future to present vivid pictures of American cities, towns, mountains, lakes, rivers, caves, scenery, &c.

Our original domestic Tales, Essays, Poems, &c. will continue regularly to be furnished by the minds and pens in the country. These chaste productions are acknowledged to be the best, for useful instruction at the family fireside, that appear in any periodical.

OUR EXERCISES comprise subjects in all branches of Art and Nature, suitable for the family circle, and appear in rapid succession.

OUR TRAVELLER is constantly traversing the world, in search of the wonderful and instructive.

OUR ASSOCIATE occupies weekly an important space, with all matters of interest for the noble fillers of the soil.

Our European Correspondents, in Liverpool, London, Ireland, the East, &c. keep us regularly advised of all subjects of special interest.

Our Markets and Prices Current embrace all the earliest advices in reference to the prices of all kinds of Grain, Produce, &c., the state of Stocks, Banks, Money, and Land, and our extensive arrangements will hereafter render our Prices Current of inestimable value to the Traveller, Farmer, and all Business Classes whatever.

He deems it unnecessary to go into the game of brag, or to use any soft seditious about his SKILL in the PROFESSION OF GARMENT CUTTING as his shop is of long standing, and his work he thinks will speak for itself, and far more loudly than words. But, he would merely say that, he warrants his work done with neatness, durability, and in the late fashionable manner, and will ensure a good fit in all cases.

THE DEMOCRATIC UNION,
Semi-Weekly during the Session of the Legislature at TWO DOLLARS!

The Democratic Union will, as usual, be published twice a week, during the coming session of the Legislature, and we embrace an early opportunity to commend it to the favor of the reading public. Neither pains or expense shall be spared to impart to its columns additional zest and vigor. Ample and correct report of the proceedings of the two branches, together with sketches of the debate on all public and important questions, will be furnished, competent correspondents having been engaged for that purpose. The installation of new administrations, State and National, and the development of the measures they may propose to the country, will render the coming winter one of unusual public interest. Persons desirous of obtaining true and early intelligence will always find in the Democratic Union a "true and honest chronicle."

—To Attorneys, Judges, Justice of the Peace, and public officers generally, it will be invaluable, as the Union executes all the STATE PRINTING, and the LAWS of a public and general nature are published in it immediately after their passage, and fully three months before promulgated in pamphlet form.

To increase our facilities for the most prompt execution of all the public printing, we are now procuring our presses by the aid of STEAM'S most important matter to the legislative body.

A corps of able correspondents have been employed at Washington City, who will keep our readers constantly apprised of events transpiring at the seat of the National Government.

Brandreth's Pills.
PICTURE OF HEALTH.

HEALTH is cherished in an individual by the absence of all pain, suffering, or affection in any part of his body; by the free and regular exercise of his functions without any exception. They consist in having a good appetite at mid-day, an easy digestion, free evacuations, without hoarseness or constiveness at least once in every twenty-four hours, and without heat, dryness, or burning at the passage, the free issue of the water without acrimony or burning, and without a reddish sediment which is always a sign of a present or approaching pain; quiet sleep without agitation or troublesome dreams; no taste of bile or other bad taste in the mouth upon rising in the morning; no sourness or disagreeable rising of the stomach; a clean tongue; a sweet breath; no itching pimples or spots on the skin; no piles; no burning heat upon any part of the body; no excessive thirst when exposed to labor or other known cause; no interruption to any natural evacuation, nor pain at their periodical return.

Where the state of the system does not harmonize with the above picture of health, it is of the greatest importance that no time be lost in sending for a doctor, or in the use of foolish remedies, but often the result of speculation, instead of this course a dose of BRANDRETH'S PILLS be taken, which will not deceive, but will at once restore health to the organ or part that requires it.

All who wish to preserve their health, all who are determined to defend their life against the encroachments of disease which might send them prematurely to the grave, will, without hesitation, have recourse to the Brandreth Pills, when the state of the system does not harmonize with the above picture of health.

Those who live in a country where contagious or other diseases prevail, should often think of the true picture of health, and observe himself with particular attention, in order to act accordingly. The wise and rightly directed will follow this advice the unwise are left to their own destruction.
