MAJ. JONES' LETTER.

Miss Kesich makes a baminable for of Cousin Pete.

Pineville, J in. 5th, 1844 Mr. Thompson :

DEAR SIR-Well-Chrismus an New Years is gone, and a heap of furhas gone with them. Down here it Pineville we had a real time you may be sure. Every body tuck Crismus, especially the toggers, and sich other om of my hart. carryins on -sich dancin and singin, & sky rockets-you never did see.

But the best joke was the way cousin Pete got tuck in about gettin in sister Kes's Chrismus bag. Pere had a kind of sneskin notion of her for some time, but the stratted tool don't know no more about courtie nor a hown pup does bout "stronomy. He was over to our house kitchen got round the bag. Chrismus ever, gavior on with his non sense, and botherin sister Kis till she got rite tired of him-tellin her how he wanted to git morried so had he didn'nt know what would come of him, he wish ed somehody would hang up a bag for him, like Mary did for me.

Pete looked in the glass, and sort o' slicked down his whiskers, and then ses he, 'All the gals says that, but the facts is, Miss Kesiah, we's 'sceptible to female charms jest like common men. I can as shure you. And the fact is, I'm 'termin ed to marry the first gal that will have me for a Chrismus present."

"Now you all hear that,' ses Kesi ah.

"Yes,' we all said.

Now mind," ses she to cousin Pete are 'you ain't foolin'

I arver seed Pete look so quere-he look al sort o' skeered and sort o' pleas-. , and he trembled all over and his voice was so husky he couldn't hardly I was only jokin with you, but I had speak.
