

DESTRUCTION OF THE NESTORIAN MISSION.

The following extraordinary intelligence we copy from the New York American. The editors say that the letter is from a reliable source.

Extract from a letter, dated

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 28, 1844.

I write in great haste, to inform you that the mission at Orcomiah, has been broken up (the schools being discontinued) by the Nestorians themselves, with Mar Yohanna, (the Bishop who visited the U. States) at their head. Many reasons are assigned, but there is a report which comes from an authoritative source, that the Nestorians often begged to have their Scriptures printed for them, but instead, the missionaries are continually making and printing books of their own, and are always preaching to them about leaving off their fasts &c. Mar Suimon, (the Patriarch) says they shall be expelled from the country. This which follows is the extract from his letter:

'We would further make you acquainted with what has just happened in Orcomiah, among those Americans who are residing there. Quite a quarrel has taken place between the Bishops and the people on the one side, and Americans on the other, on account of the improper proceedings of the latter to the said town. This led to a removal of the zealous and true shepherds, with their rational sheep, and they closed up and disbanded the vain schools which the Americans had established in Orcomiah. We moreover, have written to them a letter, under our seal, that the schools should remain closed, and that the Americans should be sent away from there.'

Betting on Elections.—Apropos of betting here is a specimen, from a Michigan paper, which is the best bet on the election we have seen. Some Yankee girl is offering to bet on Polk's election with any respectable, good looking young man, as follows: 'The stakes shall be the parties; if Polk is elected I win, and marry the gentleman who bets against me; if he is not, the gentleman wins and marries me.'

THE COST.

It is, perhaps, not exaggeration to estimate the cost of the recent Presidential campaign, to the Whigs; at a sum greater than that incurred by the whole country during her two wars with Great Britain. The profit to coonery has been very small compared with the outlay. 'It was going through a great deal, to arrive at very little,' as the charity boy said when he got to the end of the alphabet.

MAIN LINE.

The Commissioner for the sale of stock in the Pennsylvania Canal and Railroad Company, agreeable to the act of the Legislature, met at the Exchange Philadelphia, on Monday last, and fixed upon the 20th of January 1845, as the day for exposing said stock for sale.

J. WASHINGTON TYSON, Esq. has tendered to President Tyler his resignation of the office of Assistant Postmaster General. With the President and all the friends of the administration; Mr. T. continues to bear the most friendly and intimate relations. Who his successor will be is not yet known.

GIANTS.

Nathan Lampman, of Coxsackie N. Y., who is now sixteen years of age, and seven feet one inch in height, bids fair to become a man of higher standing in the world than any man now living, having grown nine inches during the past year; and on the usual rules of growth, will probably reach at least one foot more. He weighs 198 pounds. Judging from analogy, in such unnatural cases, by the time he gets his full growth upwards he will begin to become corpulent, and may attain the monstrous bulk of Daniel Lambert, if not surpass it.

Lambert was a native of England, and was buried at Stamford, where two suits of his clothes are preserved for the inspection of the curious. Mr. Lambert's bulk did not increase above the ordinary size until he had reached the age of 21.

A pair of stockings made for and worn by him measured in circumference, at the ankle, twenty-four inches, and at the calf nearly forty inches.—The weight of this mass of mortality was 672 lbs.

TART REPLY;

Last night, says Saturday's Baltimore Argus, about 12 o'clock, a noisy brawling whig, who has distinguished himself for his recent whig bacchanalian songs and rejoicings, after hearing the result of New York State, cried out under the window of a good democrat in High street, 'Harrah for Polk and starvation,' when a lady in the house raised the window and replied, 'Good bye war, pestilence and famine.'

David Miller Convicted.—David Miller who was recently indicted in Baltimore, on a charge of conspiracy to vote for certain persons—some fourteen or more—who were 'couped' under his charge, in the 3rd, 4th, and fourteenth wards in the city of Baltimore, at the Governor's election on the 3rd ult. was tried a day or two ago, convicted, and sentenced to 6 months' imprisonment and a fine of $100.

A PRESENT.

The publishers and booksellers of New York city have caused to be prepared a beautiful rosewood rocking chair, cushioned and lined with crimson velvet, and finished in the highest style. It was shipped from that port, the other day, for England, it being intended as a present to Miss Jane Porter. A suitable letter accompanied the chair, and it will be presented through the Lord Mayor of London.

The Marquis of Cara Irujo, who has recently assumed the title, through marriage, of Duke of Santomayor, has been appointed minister from Spain to the court of London. The duke was born in Philadelphia and is a son of the Marquis of Cara Irujo, for many years minister from Spain to the United States, and who in 1800 married a daughter of the late Gov. McKean of Penna.

WILD PIGEONS.

For two mornings, says the Nashville Gazette of the 25th ult., the skies have been literally hid from the view by immense flocks of wild pigeons—so heavy that they can only be computed by square miles and acres.

BORROWING A HAT TO HURRAH WITH.

H. C. Wright, in one of his letters from Dublin to the Boston Liberator, gives a description of a scene which followed O'Connell's liberation. 'All the people,' he says, 'seemed frantic with joy. Those who had no hats or caps to wing and throw up, waved the latter & skirts of their old coats, gowns and cloaks. One old woman, withered and shrivelled, and bent all up, who in her frantic ecstasy could get hold of nothing to swing, reached up her withered arm and seized the hat of a well dressed gentleman who was pushing his way past her, pulled it off and swung it about her head, and gave three cheers; and huzzas for the Liberator, then coolly replaced the hat again on his head; the gentleman folding his arms and letting the old woman swing his hat to her heart's content.'

CHARLES KAHLER

Tailor.

EMBRACING the present opportunity of expressing his thankfulness to his friends and the public generally, for the liberal patronage he has heretofore received, informs his friends and the public in general, that he still continues to carry on the above business at his old established stand, at the corner of Main and East streets, where he hopes, by strict attention to business, to receive and merit a share of public patronage as heretofore. He deems it unnecessary to go into the game of brag, or to use any such soldier about his SKILL, as the PROFESSION OF GARMENT CUTTING as his step is of long standing, and his work he thinks will speak for itself, and for more loudly than words. But he would merely say that, he warrants his work done with neatness, durability and in the latest fashionable manner, and will encourage a good fit in all cases.
