

Crops adapted for planting in the Spring.

BEANS, which are in general cultivation may be considered as dividing themselves into two classes; those which are termed runners, and such as grow only to the height of 12 to 18 inches, and support themselves by their own strength, whereas the former require artificial aids to support them while developing their organs and maturing their seeds.

RUNNERS—Estimate of Sorts.—The tribe includes several varieties. Those most generally cultivated are the Lima Beans, the Case Knife, the Pole Cranberry, and the Scarlet Runner, &c.

These sorts are subdivided by another characteristic, those whose pods are used in like manner with the dwarfs and those produce is shelled like the Peas, and seeds only used for culinary purposes.

The Lima Bean surpasses all other beans, in point of excellence, both as respects quality and productiveness and may according to Wilson, be considered without a rival in the vegetable world. The Case Knife and Pole Cranberry are in more general cultivation, but are decidedly inferior to the Lima Bean.

CULTIVATION.—The whole tribe require good rich soil, and planted in slightly raised hills about 15 or 18 inches in diameter, and at a distance of 21 feet apart in the row, from centre to centre of each hill, and the same distance from between each row, arranging the hills so that they would intersect each other. Five or six beans should be planted at equal distances around the centre of the hill, and cover the beans from half an inch to three quarters of an inch with fine soil. After the beans have grown an inch or two, select three of the best, and draw the others. A pole of 6 or eight feet long should be placed in the very centre of each hill, and fixed in the ground at least 15 inches deep, for the plants to run on.

Dwarf String Bush or Snap Beans, are very productive—a delicious vegetable easy in cultivation, and peculiarly adapted for this country.

CULTIVATION.—These beans require a rich soil, thoroughly broken. Plant in drills an inch and a half deep and from 2 feet to two and a half apart, planting the beans two and a half inches distant from each other in the drill. Cover them with very light soil. Plant at regular succession in the months of May, June, July, and the last crop in about the first of August.

CUCUMBERS.—This vegetable, so universally cultivated, should be planted in the same manner as directed for the Lima bean. The same distance apart, and the same number of seed planted in each hill, thinning them likewise to three of the strongest plants when they have put forth their second rough leaf. Cucumbers, when coming through the ground, are very apt in this country, to suffer from the depredations of an insect which completely destroys the cotyledons or seed leaves, and consequently ruins the crop. I have seen a plan adopted by a friend of mine in the vicinity of Rochester, which has enabled him to set these destroyers at defiance, merely by placing a covering of raw cotton over the hills sufficiently thick to prevent the ingress of any insect. Such hills as were left exposed, the plants were completely destroyed, while those which were covered with the cotton, escaped free from the smallest injury.

PEACH TREES.—Plant tansy around the roots of peach trees. The peach worm will not trouble them after wards.

BE HAPPY!

A thankful man is a happy man; and we have always reason to be thankful. When you break your arm, you are glad it was not your neck; and above all temporal blessings, a sober man—no matter how poor—ought to be thankful he don't get drunk; for this nullifies him for either giving or receiving pleasure. And, beyond all, every mechanic ought to be thankful that his lot is cast in the plentiful country, for even though Jimmy have retained higher than a Jimmy, it is his wife who is a good manager, the good soper, and a good cook, besides her as sympathously every day, when she smiles in her G-zing, she sits on the sweat and blood of some white slaves.

INTEGRITY.

Integrity is a great and commendable virtue. A man of integrity is a man, and a bold man, and a sturdy man; he is not to be trifled with. No bribe can corrupt him, no fear daunt him; his word is as good as his promise; and his ship is brighter than the sun and his friends know what he is like; so he hates flattery and temporizing in others. He runs with truth and not with the times—with right and not with might.

BOOK FARMING—A FACT.

"I want to know if you believe in the book farming?" said a neighbor, as he walked into the room where I sat reading the Cultivator.

"Be sure I do," was the reply. "Well, I don't; I never took an agricultural paper in my life. There is B. S. of W——, who came into this country 15 years ago and had to buy 50 acres of land on credit. He has cleared that up and added from time to time, till he now owns two hundred acres—has good buildings, and considerable money to invest. He has always good crops. He has averaged 25 bushels of wheat to the acre for several years—it is the same with all his other crops—while his neighbor, E. W., has not raised more than seven bushels of wheat to the acre, and some of his other crops he never pretends to harvest. Now, I would give more for the experience of B. S. than for all the book-farming and farming by rule in the world."

"Very well, sir; now let me have a word. This 'experience' of B. S. of which you speak, is, e. the method he adopts to raise twenty-five bushels of wheat to the acre to where his neighbor raises seven bushels of wheat, and other crops in proportion, if written out and published would be the very essence of book farming, which you so much despise and might benefit others as well as you. And then, secondly, I know this B. S. also, and it gives me pleasure to inform you that he is a regular subscriber to, and constant reader of three standard agricultural papers—the Cultivator, the New Genesee Farmer, and the Western Farmer, while this same E. W. will not have an agricultural paper in his house, partly because he does not believe in book-farming, and partly because he cannot afford to take such a paper."

Here the man suddenly remembered his errand, which was to borrow an improved harrow, a plan which I found in my paper, and which he was pleased to say, "did the work so much better than mine," (his)—so the subject was dropped. I intend to speak to him a gain, ere long.

PICTURE OF HEALTH.

HEALTH is cherished in an individual by the absence of all pain, suffering, or affliction in any part of his body; by the free and regular exercise of his functions without any exception. They consist in having a good appetite at meal times, an easy digestion, free evacuations, without looseness or costiveness at least once in every twenty-four hours, and without heat, dryness, or burning at the passage, the free issue of the water without scum or burning, and without a reddish sediment which is always a sign of present or approaching pain; quiet sleep without agitation or troublesome dreams; no taste of bile or other bad taste in the mouth upon rising in the morning; no sourness or disagreeable rising of the stomach; clean tongue; a sweet breath; no itching, pimples or spots on the skin; no piles; no burning heat upon any part of the body; no excessive thirst when unexposed to labor or other known cause; no inclination to any natural evacuation, nor pain at their periodical return.

Where the state of the system does not harmonize with the above picture of health, it is of the greatest importance that no time be lost in sending for a doctor, or in the use of foolish remedies to defer the result of speculation; instead of this course a dose of BRANDRETH'S PILLS be taken which will not deceive, but will at once restore health to the organ or part that requires it.

All who wish to preserve their health, all who are determined to defend their life against the encroachments of disease will do right send them by mail to the grave, without hesitation, have recourse to the Brandreth Pills, when the state of the system does not harmonize with the above picture of health.

Those who live in a country where contagious or other diseases prevail, should often think of this picture of health, and observe himself with particular attention, in order to act accordingly. The wise and rightly directed will follow this advice; the unwise are left to their own destruction.

If in fact, whatever offer is made, by any other Family Journal, at all approaching in worth, beauty or pretensions, to the Saturday Courier, will be furnished by us.

The Courier has become so well and favorably known through a triumpantly popular course of fourteen years, that it would be impudently to say much on that subject here. We may remark however, that to the industry, talent and enterprise, which have for years kept this paper a bright exemplar for all its imitators, will constantly be added the productions of every available writer, and continued judicious and liberal expenditures, will continually be made, as well in the Literary as the Typographical departments. Our means will always enable us to be in advance of all others, and we shall be so.

Histories of Modern Republics.—A new and important announcement for the coming year, in addition to our already numerous popular features, will be a series of Condensed Histories of Modern Republics, by a fresh and vigorous writer who will impart a world of important instruction to the rising generation, in this new and entertaining Romance of History.

Biographies and notices of Distinguished Literary and Scientific Men.—Among the interesting essays and sketches of value, which we shall continue to present in the Courier, will be a full and interesting account of the rise, progress, and present elevated standing of all distinguished men, of the Past and Present, (at home or abroad,) in all departments of Art, Science, Literature, Statesmanship, Poetry, Mechanics, Painting, Agriculture, Printing, Merchandize, &c.

This will be a very interesting feature for the Young. It will be a department of the Courier, which it has ever been our aim to render of inestimable value to those for whom we feel so deep an interest as we do for the Young Men of our great and growing Country. The Lives of Distinguished Men are of such value to those who are yet forming their own characters, for the purpose of emulating their path, correctly, on the Great Stage of Human Life.

Indeed, we hope that this Department of the Courier will be worth more (each year) to every family who have sons and daughters to be reared, than five times the amount we ask for a year's subscription to the Saturday Courier.

Incidents, Histories Scenes, Battle Grounds, &c. of the American and all other Revolutions.

Under this head, (which is by the way not at all new in the Courier,) we shall hereafter give graphic and interesting accounts (previously mentioned) of the history of the thrilling incidents, so patriotically told to the youth, the deeply inspired history of the American Revolution, and of all other revolutions that we may regard of the best interest to value the readers of the Philadelphia Saturday Courier. This will be of very consequence also, to every member of any family of the American Republic, who may choose to fit themselves, and use the favor of reading, regularly, the visits of the Courier to their Family Fireside.

POPULAR TOPOGRAPHY.—To gratify the growing appetite for a better knowledge of the important features of our great and glorious country, our past exertions shall be redoubled in future, to present vivid pictures of American cities, towns, mountains, lakes, rivers, caves, scenery, &c.

Our original domestic Tales, Essays, Poems, &c. will continue regularly to be furnished by the minds and pens in the country. These choice productions are acknowledged to be the best, for which instruction at the family fireside, that appear in any periodical.

Our ESSAYS comprise subjects in all branches of Art and Nature, suitable for the family circle, and appear in rapid succession.

OUR TRAVELLER is constantly traversing the world, in search of the wonderful and instructive.

Our AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA occupies weekly an important space, with all matters of interest for the whole circle of the soil.

Our EUROPEAN CORRESPONDENTS, in Liverpool, London, Ireland, the East, &c. keep us regularly advised of all subjects of special interest.

Our Markets and Prices Current embrace all the latest advices in reference to the prices of all kinds of Grain, Produce, &c. of the state of Stock-Banks, Money and Lant, and our extensive arrangements will hereafter render our Prices Current of inestimable value to the Traveller, Farmer, and all Business Classes whatever.
