From the Public Lodger THE RACE YESTERDAY.

Shecking Accident-Full of the Building - Many Persons Injured -The great race between Fashion and Peytons, yesterday, upon the Camilei Course, was strended by thousands of persons from Philadeiphia and the sur rounding country. Every kind of ve hicle was in requisition, and the whol way to the Course could be traced for a mile or two by the clouds of dust. Hundreds of pedestrains footed it along the road, unable to procure a carriage of any kind, for love or money. The scene at the ground was an animated and exciting one. Among the crowd the usual number of gamblers, with their opparatus, were the most conspicuous The building in front of the Judges' stand, erected for the accommodation of spectators, was crowded in every pari; in the room below persons engaged in drinking and gaming, above and upon the roof hundreds of individuals looking on at the preparatory movements of the horses.

At a quarter past one the bugle sounded for the racers, and they were brought upon the track. The appearance of these fine animals excited much curiosity, and in a minute the persons on the sides to get a fair view of them.
