

NEW SERIES
OF THE
CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX

CONGRESS AT ITS LAST SESSION, through the Joint Library Committee of the two Houses having authorized a large subscription for the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX; and the Senate, by resolution, having directed the mode of preparing the reports of its proceedings, and authorized the Secretary of the Senate to contract with the undersigned, stipulating that the reports when written out shall be subject to the revision of the speakers; the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX is now offered to the public not only as an authentic, but as an official report of the proceedings of Congress, made under the eye, and published by authority of the body.

The undersigned originated the mode of journalizing the proceedings of Congress, which, thus adopted, is to be perfected with the aid and under the supervision of Congress. Their publication was the first and only one that gave each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress a record of all the debates; every important vote, and an Appendix, including at full length all the revised speeches delivered during the session.

The work, as it is now to be conducted by them, will be found a most perfect political history. The Senators from the States and the Representatives from every section of the Union bring with them into Congress a knowledge of the feelings, sentiments, and interests of their several constituents. Public opinion and the public information, as it exists among those they represent, are embodied by them, and in the crucible of Congress the wisdom of our times is brought to its test, and is there concentrated, in directing the political movements of the whole country. The impulses thus given through Congress from every quarter react upon the nation as a whole, and all its component parts are made to move in cooperation. The press cannot be more usefully employed than in diffusing and again spreading abroad the intelligence of our free country, tending to such happy results through our almost miraculously adjusted State and National institutions.

Having identified ourselves with the plan of advancing the usefulness of Congress, by publishing full and impartial reports, and having a large mass of the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX, issued during the last twelve years, which would be impaired in value to us and utility to the public if the work were discontinued, we have a double motive to prompt us to extend it through a new series. We are resolved, if possible, to give it permanence, and to hand it down to successors as a standard work, worthy of being maintained and improved. We shall enter upon our new undertaking without being disturbed or burdened by any associate labors of the press; and, thus unencumbered, shall hope to make the new series a step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one or the other) in attendance on Congress.

The reports will not be affected by our party bias. We believe every member of Congress will bear witness that our reports are fair and true.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress, and printed on superfine double royal paper, with small type, (brevier and nonpareil,) in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages. The speeches of the members, in this first form, are condensed—the full report of the prepared speeches being reserved for the Appendix. All resolutions, motions, and other proceedings, are given in the form of the Journals, with the yeas and nays on every important question.

The Appendix is made up of the President's Annual Message, the reports of the principal officers of the Government that accompany it, and all speeches of members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes about the same number of pages during a session.

During the first month or six weeks of a session, there is rarely more business done than will make two numbers a week—one of the Congressional Globe and one of the Appendix; but during the remainder of a session, there is usually sufficient matter for two or three numbers of each every week. The next session will be unusually interesting, therefore, we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix together will make near 1500 large quarto pages printed in small type—brevier and nonpareil. We furnish complete Indexes to both at the end of session.

We have on hand the Congressional Globe and Appendix for the last fifteen sessions of Congress, making together fifteen large royal quarto volumes, which we will sell, unbound, for $41; or bound, with Russia backs and corners, for $55. Those who want the back volumes should apply for them immediately, as they are in demand. Congress subscribed for 341 complete sets during the two last sessions. The proceedings of Congress for the last 9 years cannot be procured from any other source—Gales and Seaton having stopped printing their Register of Debates in 1837.

We will endeavor to print a sufficient number of surplus copies to supply all that may be miscarried, or lost in the mails; but subscribers should be very particular to file their papers carefully, for fear that we should not be able to supply all the lost numbers.

TERMS.

For one copy of the Congressional Globe $1.00
For one copy of the Appendix .60
For six copies either, or part of both .50

The money may be remitted by mail at our risk. The safest and best way to remit is, to pay the amount to the Postmaster where you reside, and take from him a receipt, according to the following form:

Post Office, _____, 1844.

Received from A. B.—dollars cents for the Globe, from which I have deducted one per cent, and charged myself in my account with the General Post Office with the balance. The Postmaster of Washington city will pay that balance to Blair & Rives or to their order on the back of this receipt.

Postmaster.

The rules of the General Post Office Department authorize such receipts to be given, and paid here, when the amount does not exceed $10. When it exceeds $10, it is best to remit as much as possible in bank notes and the Postmaster's receipt for the balance. The Postmaster's receipt should be sent directed to us, and not to the Postmaster of this city, as some persons are in the habit of doing. The money should be here by the 7th of December, at farthest, to procure all the numbers. If not here by that time, we may not be able to furnish the first numbers.

Proprietors of newspapers who copy this prospectus, and send us one copy of their paper containing it, marked around with a pen to direct our attention to it, shall have their names entered on our books for one copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session.

Our prices for these papers are so low that we cannot afford to credit them out; therefore, no person need consume his time in writing for them unless he sends money.
