

Bloomsburg:

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1849.

E. W. CARR, Evans' Building, Third St. is authorized agent for the COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT for the transaction of business in Philadelphia.

On Friday morning of last week, on motion of Henry Johnson, Esq., JOHN G. FRETZE, Esq. of this county, was admitted to practice Law in the several Courts of Lycoming county.

Candidates for Military offices, at the coming Supplem. Election, advertised by Col. McFADDIN, in to-day's Democrat, can have their pretensions duly announced, yet in time, by remitting their names with the $1 fee in advance.

Our Advertising columns, this week, are again well-stored with profitable patronage. Duty to the partiality of our good friends, impels us to own, that our office-business is better now, in the broadest sense of that term, and has been for the last three months, than it ever was since the issue of our first paper in Bloomsburg. Not that we have a larger subscription, but a much better one—sufficiently large for all useful purposes, with an unmistakable and encouraging increase in the way of advertising and Job-Printing patronage; and for which we are thankful.

JOHN W. BEAR, the Daguerotypist, who has been operating in his new profession the past fortnight in our town, in which capacity he performs admirably, on Tuesday evening last, delivered an interesting and very entertaining Address on Temperance, to an unusually large concourse of people, in the Presbyterian Church. He stated many facts, of no common interest to his audience, in connection with the rise and progress of the Temperance Enterprise.—We think Mr. Bear acquitted himself with honor, on that occasion, as his remarks were received by the most lively demonstrations of general satisfaction.

The Gold Dollar.

This coin was ushered into circulation, on Tuesday last, having just been issued from the Mint in Philadelphia in pursuance of an act of Congress. It is described by the city Editors, who have handled it—one of whom, a La Du Soie, like, says he holds six of them in his hand whilst he writes—it is smaller in size than a half-dime (five cent piece), but feels like a very different coin. There is no Eagle upon it, but has the head of Liberty with stars on one side, and on the reverse of the margin, it reads "United States of America," with a wreath enclosing the words, "1849." They are generally made of the New California Gold.

A WORD TO THE P. M. GENERAL.

The people of Bloomsburg and its vicinage are suffering an intolerable inconvenience—we might say an outrage upon their rights—for the want of a trifling change in the arrangement of the Mails between here and Pottsville. We have a daily Coach running to and from Pottsville, and yet are deprived of the advantage of our daily mail.—The contractor, we understand, is willing to carry the mail daily without additional charge to the Department, and only waits an order from the P. M. G., to the Deputy P. M., at Fountain Spring, in Schuylkill county, to transmit it and we can then have it daily instead of Tri-Weekly. Can it be done?

Our Jersey Shore correspondent, O. P. Q., came too late for insertion last week, and consequently, appears on the first page of this week. Another from the same hand, will be found in the inside of to-day's paper.

"Bloomsburg Slanders."

Under this modest caption, the veritable and voracious Editor of the Danville Intelligencer, last week, read his patrons an interesting homily and promises more of the same sort.

He has taken umbrage at a paragraph which recently appeared in this Democrat, relative to the treachery of the late Legislature, the honest Democrats excepted, their love of corporation heresies and advocacy of federal measures generally. To make out his case he has perverted and by omitting the word "perhaps," misquoted, our article.

This is, however, so strictly in keeping with that Editor's political honesty—just think of his violated "pledges"—that we are not astonished. And since he has assumed the defence of the late federal bank Legislature, and become the apologist of its destructive measures, we shall expect to find him hereafter amongst his new friends, where he has been thrown by the force of circumstances, doing valiant service in the federal ranks. His democracy will not be offensive to his new associates, and we hope his honesty may not prove more troublesome to them, than his fealty to principle has been treacherous to his constituency.

We dismiss Senator Best, at the present, with the recital of the annexed wholesome lesson, from a late Pennsylvanian:

The editor of the Danville Intelligencer is a cool personage. He takes an article of ours commenting upon certain voting upon the banks during the last session of the Legislature, and makes it an assault upon such Democrats as voted for the new Judicial District bill! This would be called forestry in many places; but it may be the custom of the Intelligencer to think such fraud fair. The editor has been of little more use in the Legislature in carrying out Democratic principles than an avowed Whig would be, and he has done positive injury by persisting to call himself a Democrat. We trust he will not misunderstand this opinion of ours, and say we meant somebody else.
