

Potatoes! Potatoes!!

Mr. S. A. Brady, the Proprietor of the Exchange Hotel, yesterday received a present from Mr. Caleb Barton, J., of 25 Potatoes which weighed 35 1/2 lbs.

The great "Whig" Protective Tariff President General Taylor has just bought an imported carpet for the White House in place of the domestic one Mr. Polk used?

We call the attention of the public to the advertisement of Messrs. JOHN C. BAKER & Co., of Philadelphia, in another column. The pure, fresh Cod Liver Oil, advertised by them, is recommended by the highest medical authorities of University College, London, and numerous eminent physicians of this country, and has proved of the greatest value in nearly all cases of consumption and affections of the lungs, where it has been used. The article, we are assured by men who know, does not belong to the class usually denominated patent or quack medicines, but is of intrinsic value for the purposes indicated.

PURE FRESH COD LIVER OIL.

This new and valuable medicine, now used by the medical profession with such astonishing efficacy in the cure of pulmonary Consumption, Scrophulous, Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, General Debility, complaints of the Kidneys &c., is prepared from the liver of the Cod Fish for medicinal use, expressly for our sales. [Extract from the London Medical Journal.] "C. J. B. Williams, M. D., F. R. S., Professor of Medicine in University College, London, Consulting Physician to the Hospital for Consumption, &c., says: I have prescribed the Oil in above four hundred cases of tubercular disease of the Lungs, in different stages, which have been under my care the last two years and a half. In the large number of cases, 295 out of 324, its use was followed by marked and unequivocal improvement, varying in degree in different cases, from a temporary retardation of the progress of the disease and a mitigation of distressing symptoms, up to a more or less complete restoration to apparent health. "The effect of the Cod Liver Oil in most of these cases was very remarkable. Even in a few days the cough was mitigated, the expectoration diminished in quantity and opacity, the night sweats ceased, the pulse became slower, and of better volume, and the appetite, flesh and strength were gradually improved. "In conclusion, I repeat that the pure fresh oil from the Liver of the Cod is more beneficial in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption than any agent, medicinal, dietetic or regimenal, that has yet been employed."

As we have made arrangements to procure the Cod Liver Oil, fresh from head quarters, it can now be had chemically pure by the single bottle, or in boxes of one dozen each. Its wonderful efficacy has induced numerous operations imitations. As its success depends entirely on its purity, too much care cannot be used in procuring it genuine. Every bottle having on it our written signature, may be depended upon as genuine. Pamphlets containing an analysis of the Oil, with notices of it from Medical Journals, will be sent to those who address us free of postage. JOHN C. BAKER & CO., Wholesale Druggists and Chemists, 109 North Third Street, Philadelphia. Oct. 13, 1849—6m.

REMARKS OF COUNTERFEITS!!!

As there are spurious Pills in circulation called Oriental or Sovereign Balm, be sure to see before you buy that the name of "Dr. E. L. SOULE & CO." is on the face of the boxes. None others can be genuine. We are not aware that any one who is making a spurious article has yet dared to make use of our name; but some of them have had the impudence to imitate our boxes and copy our circulars, certificates, &c. Unless the public are careful when they purchase, they will be deceived.

SINGULAR OBITUARY.

The following singular obituary notice appears in the Athens (Ga.) Messenger: "He was the father of eleven sons,—five of the sons having married five sisters. He had also one hundred and eighty-nine great-grand children; and at his funeral two weeks ago last Sabbath, two horses were strung to death by bees and another came near losing his life by the same."

Musings—No 11.

BY QUIZ:

"The man recovered of the bite. It was the dog that died. I am his highest dog at law; Pray tell me sir whose dog are you?"

In this insinuation of Mr. Pope, there is, perhaps, as much truth as poetry; and I am often inclined to the opinion, that there are in this country, some dogs that do not walk on four legs. Both kinds, are, without doubt, public nuisances. Dr. Franklin says, "What maintains one vice, would bring up two children." I beg leave to amend, by crossing out the word "vice" and inserting "dog," merely for the present occasion, for both the "sayings" are as true as preaching.

I was led into this fit of "musing" by a "sight I saw" not long ago, during a jaunt into the country. Passing by rather a squand and neglected house, which, nevertheless, might have been made pretty by a little, a very little attention; I observed round about the door a half dozen ragged, dirty looking children, and at least half as many sleek, fat, lazy good-for-nothing dogs. As soon as the sound of the buggy struck their ears, they were all heels over head over the fence, and setting to in regular fashion, one behind the buggy, one at the side and one before the horse, kept up a sort of infernal music, very much resembling that described by Milton in his "Paradise Lost."

It would be a national blessing if the Philadelphia Dog killers would condescend to take a journey through the country, and shoot two thirds of the dogs in it, and cut the tails off of the remaining third, close behind their ears. It is not meet to take the childrens bread and cast it to the dogs. Where one dog is necessary, twenty-five are a decided nuisance. A "big dog" I have no objection to, if he knows his place; but these mean, contemptible, insignificant, snarling, snapping, barking "little curs," I do abominate. I would as soon walk the streets with a newspaper or a dish cloth pinned to my coat tail, as to be followed by a store, tavern and parlour, by a dirty little cur—dog.
