

Democratic State Nominations.

FOR GOVERNOR, GEN. WM. F. PACKER, OF LYONING COUNTY.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, NIMROD STRICKLAND, OF CHESTER COUNTY.

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT, HON. ELLIS LEWIS, OF PHILADELPHIA.

Hon. GEORGE SCOTT, of the Canal Board, has our thanks for a copy of the Report of the Board of Toll, to be charged on the Pennsylvania Canals and Railroads, for 1857.

Mr. J. B. SILKMAN, Assistant Engineer on the Lackawanna & Bloomsburg Rail Road, will accept our thanks for a pamphlet copy of the Report of the Directors of the Board Stockholders of said Road for 1857.

The Apportionment Bill.

The new apportionment bill, now pending before the Legislature, of which there have been two versions reported—proposes to make Columbia, Montour and Northumberland, one Senatorial District, (one member), and the other names Columbia, Montour, Sullivan and Lycoming, as said District with one member. Both reported bills, by the House Committee, propose Columbia, Montour and Sullivan, as the Representative District, with two members. We shall publish the bill, as soon as they have passed, remarking here, that in either event, the arrangement would not be considered very objectionable.

Republicanism Triumphant!

The State Convention or Conventions which met at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, of last week, were completely under the control of the Black Republicans, who had every thing their own way. They effectually out-generated the American wing of the opposition, and, despite all the efforts of the latter faction to prevent it, accomplished the nomination of David Wilmut, for Governor; William Millward, of Philadelphia, for Canal Commissioner; and James Veech, of Fayette, and Joseph J. Lewis, of Chester, for Judges of the Supreme Court. That Wilmut would be the nominee of the Republican party has been for several weeks a foregone conclusion with everybody except our Know Nothing friends who had worked themselves up to the belief that such an event could not occur. They would not believe that the arrangements were all made by self-constituted leaders for their regular transfer to the Black Republican party. And yet it has come to pass, just as was foreseen by every one not wilfully blind to passing events. They have been literally and unconditionally sold to Black Republicanism, and must either gulp down the animal, tail and all, no matter how nauseous the dose may be, or else repudiate the whole concern, act with becoming independence, and vote for the Democratic nominees.—They must now make their election.—They have no alternative, if they wish to participate at all in the contest. Or they will have to act with the Democrats, or with the Black Republicans. Which course will they take? Time will determine. We have no desire to make proselytes of them, but we only ask the Americans to act like men—like freemen in the approaching campaign. If they are willing to be the dupes and willing instruments of designing men, and become thoroughly abolitionized, they will vote for Wilmut, Millward, Veech and Joseph J. Lewis—if not, they will cast their suffrages for the Democratic nominees.

Hon. Robert J. Walker.

This gentleman is unquestionably one of the greatest and most sagacious statesmen of the age, and his appointment as Governor of Kansas, in the room of Col. JOHN W. GEARY, resigned, shows the wisdom and discrimination of Mr. Buchanan, in reference to the troubles of un-fortunate Kansas. Mr. WALKER, is a Pennsylvanian by birth, but has resided some years at the South, and from his connection with various national enterprises, and his occupancy of high national positions, is as deeply imbued with those national sentiments which are peculiarly necessary in a Governor of Kansas, as any man in the country. In eminent administrative abilities, high character, and superior fitness for a responsible post, he has no superior in the United States. The Governorship of Kansas, in view of the unfortunate difficulties, which have prevailed in that Territory, and the deep interest in its condition manifested throughout the entire country, is an office of the most responsible character.

The Philadelphia Daily News, the organ of the American Party, gives "particular Jesse" to the late Fusion Convention and its nominees. It looks upon the Convention as an attempt to Republicanize the American party, and calls the managers unscrupulous and unprincipled.

THOMAS F. MEAGHER Lectures in Wilkesbarre on the evening of the 21st inst.

Murder in Philadelphia.

On Saturday evening a dreadful murder was perpetrated in one of the low drinking shops in Shippin street, near Fourth, Philadelphia. The keeper of it, Wm. Kelly, was killed by Lawrence Riley, who went there in search of a notorious woman living with Kelly, nicknamed Liverpool Liz, but who had formerly been Riley's wife—Kelly told him to take her, and said that if she would not go peacefully he might get a policeman to aid him. Thereupon Riley stabbed him in the neck, cutting the jugular veins so that he fell and bled to death in a few minutes. The murderer then started to run, and as he went out of the door a man named Russel struck him a desperate blow on the head. Nevertheless he made off and hid himself in an alley, where he was soon afterwards captured and taken to the police station. The murdered man was one of the most notorious characters, and was well known to the police by the sobriquet of "York Bill." The murder was deliberately threatened in the street a short time previous to its execution, and the threat was immediately reported to Kelly, who laughed at it. The informant then went to give the information to the police, and while he was gone the murder was perpetrated. The scene of the murder was one of the lowest dens of vice, misery and crime in Philadelphia.

The Late Dr. Norcross.

An uncle of Mr. Norcross, the young man murdered at Altoona, and for which M'Kim is now arrested, gives some very interesting facts. He states that the parents of the young man, although of high respectability, are in very moderate circumstances, and were so at the time the son, Norcross, departed for his western tour. At the date of that departure, great commotion existed in his family, and among his friends, for his demeanor had won universal favor, and they were loth to part with one so universally esteemed. His two sisters were school teachers in East Lexington, and helped to support the family. When their brother expressed his intention of going west, they gave him all the money they had been enabled to save, by a long course of labor. He received $500 from each, and bid his home farewell. At Dunleith, so well did young Norcross improve his opportunities, that in his short stay he obtained no less than $3,500 in money, and the two bonds for $800 each. But an abscess in the side troubled him, and he determined to return home to give some account of his success, and to retire to his kind sisters' care. He wrote home just before leaving Dunleith, to this effect: "I have found a friend, (M'Kim) who is to be my travelling companion, homeward, and whom I believe to be a friend indeed. He dresses my wound and attends me like a kind brother." When the murder was committed near Altoona, it was about eight o'clock in the morning. After being struck, the victim did not instantly die, but until noon reposed in his blood, with the thermometer at 12 degrees below zero.

The Wealth of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet.

Most of the members of the present Cabinet are wealthy, and as a unit they represent an aggregate wealth of some four and a half millions of dollars, divided as follows: Lewis Cass, $2,000,000; Howell Cobb, 500,000; John Thompson, 1,000,000; John B. Floyd, 500,000; Mes. Touchy, Black & Brown, 500,000.

Regarding the force and virtue of these figures, the New York Herald remarks:

"They are the hostages which the members of the administration give to the people for the faithful, honest and virtuous performance of their public duties. Men possessed of property to such an amount are raised beyond the reach of the baneful and corrupting influences which would otherwise be brought to bear upon them by the jobbers, speculators, schemers and plunderers of all descriptions, who fatten on the public treasury. The artillery which this army of spoilsmen would bring to bear upon a pauper Cabinet, is of far too small a calibre and too circumscribed a range to be of any effect against even the outworks which defend this citadel of four and a half millions. We have, therefore, in the Cabinet chosen by Mr. Buchanan the best prima facie evidence of incorruptibility."

Hon. C. R. Buckalew.

In another part of our paper, says the Bradford Times, will be found the names of the present Democratic State Central Committee; and are gratified to see that Mr. Buckalew, of Columbia County, is the Chairman. No man in the State more pre-eminently deserved that position; and we can promise our opponents in advance, a campaign conducted on the strictest principles of political honor and courtesy; but at the same time, with the most untiring zeal and devotion to the principles and measures of the Democratic party.

No man of his age in the state stands so deservingly high in the estimation of the public as does he. In the Senate, he left a name second to no man who has ever lived a second in that body; and on the stump as a chaste, clear, lucid, argumentative speaker, he has no superiors. We hope to hear the ring of his clarion voice among the hills of Bradford County.

The National Hotel, at Washington, has been closed, in consequence of the sickness prevailing there.

New Castle Bank Bursted.

This banking institution located in the Borough of New Castle, Lawrence county, Pa., has exploded. The Cashier, Jno. N. Wagenseller, formerly of this place, absconded. He is a defaulter to the amount of $53,000—according to a statement of the Directors—but it may be much more. The notes out do not exceed $50,000.—The assets are nominally $200,000, but may prove one fourth that amount. The stockholders are individually liable for the redemption of every note will, we have but little doubt its circulation will be redeemed at par.

The Bank has been in operation 18 months. When it was first organized, J. P. Sherwin formerly of Pottsville, obtained control, and put in a young man formerly clerk in Wagenseller's employ when in the Exchange and Banking business in this Borough, named Samuel Neiler, who is not a German as the papers have it, but is originally from Chester county. Sherwin established a shaving shop at Pittsburg and Neiler supplied him with New Castle Bank money to the amount of $60,000, whereupon a prosecution was instituted against Sherwin, who disgorged $10,000, and subsequently, all they could ascertain he had received, except four or five thousand dollars. Of the amount returned, $16,000, it is alleged, was retained by a Pittsburg broker, for his services in forcing the Wall street man to disgorge.

After this transaction, Samuel Neiler was turned out and J. N. Wagenseller elected Cashier, who gave Richard Carter of this place and Hon. Henry M. Fuller, as bail in the sum of $30,000. The Directors commenced withdrawing the heavy issues of the Bank, and in two months past has redeemed nearly $200,000, when on Wednesday last week the Cashier was missing, and with him whatever small sum in cash that might previously have been in the "vaults" or safe of the institution, leaving but four dollars in change behind him.

Mr. David Tidball, formerly Postmaster at New Castle, was examined before the Board, and gave a detailed statement of what he knew of J. N. Wagenseller's departure. Wagenseller, the Cashier, it seems, induced the Board to send William T. Carter, the teller, east on business, on Monday; and on Wednesday he sent the chief clerk to a director residing at some distance, to notify him of a meeting of the Board—leaving no one in the Bank with him but a young man not very well acquainted with Banking business. He then removed from the cash drawer sundry slips and memoranda of money he had previously taken out; amounting to some $20,000 charged himself with the amount or took about $20,000 of notes of the Bank charging himself with the money—and then squared the account by placing in the safe his note for twenty, eighteen and twenty thousand dollars, payable in two, three and four months—which when paid will square his accounts with the institution.

On Wednesday evening he left New Castle in company with Mr. Tidball, for Enon Station, intending to take the night Train for Pittsburg. Being too late, they got on the freight train at two o'clock Thursday morning, arrived in Allegheny at five, and took breakfast—after which Wagenseller came over to Pittsburg, and took the morning boat for Brownsville.

The runaway Cashier was arrested in Philadelphia on Wednesday last by officer Patterson of Pittsburg, and one of the Directors of the Bank, they having met with Wagenseller on the Street. The accused was taken to Pittsburg for trial.

Death of Hon. W. J. Brown.

This gentleman died at his residence near Indianapolis last Wednesday. He has been for many years a leading Democrat in that State, and has been frequently honored with the confidence of the citizens of Indiana, by placing him in high and important official positions. Mr. Brown was Assistant Postmaster General under Mr. Polk's administration, and was elected to Congress from the Indianapolis district in 1842-48. He was for many years the Editor of the State Sentinel and at the time of his death, was one of the first men in the State. The loss of so able a champion will be keenly felt by the noblehearted Democracy of Indiana, and will be deeply lamented by his numerous personal friends.

In a TRANCE.—On Friday last, Miss Williams, a young lady of 19, who is a sister-in-law of Mr. Victor Williams, went up stairs to dress for a visit. Not returning, some of the family entered the room, and found her lying lifeless on the floor.—As she had suffered from palpitation, her death was considered to be the consequence of a disease of the heart. The event was published generally in the papers, and Sunday the friends of the deceased were assembled to pay the last honors to her remains. While the hearse and carriages were at the door, one of the party discovered a flash come on the face of the occupant of the coffin. On feeling her heart no pulsation could be perceived, but a slight warmth was felt. Medical men were summoned, who advised a delay of the funeral, and the hearse and carriages drove away. The young lady still lies in an unaltered condition. The flush and the warmth are still perceptible, but in other respects the appearances are the usual ones of a corpse.—Cincinnati Gazette, 11th.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

HARRISBURG, March 31, 1857. SENATE.—The following bills passed finally:—For the appointment of Commissioners to sell the Franklin Railroad; to incorporate the Pennsylvania Farina Co.; to extend the charter of the Diogen Engine Company of Philadelphia; to incorporate the Richland and Lumberville Turnpike Company of Bucks county; to incorporate the Allegheny Iron Company; to incorporate the Marine Exploring Company; to incorporate the Sandy Creek Improvement Company; a supplement to the act incorporating the Spring House and Sunnyside Turnpike Road Company. The Senate then adjourned till to-morrow.

House.—The Appropriation Bill was considered in Committee of the Whole, and the section removing Mr. Maffitt was discussed at great length by Messrs. Jenkins, Ball, Struthers, Foster, Hine, Gildes, Johns and Willetton; after which, it passed the committee. Adjourned till 3 o'clock, P. M. Afternoon Session.—The House went again into Committee of the Whole, for the purpose of considering the general appropriation bill, and after a time the Committee rose and reported the bill to the House as amended.

The bill was then taken upon second reading. The House by a vote of 44 to 33, refused to strike out the additional appropriation of $100,000 for school purposes. The section appropriating $50,000 to the enlargement of the Delaware Division, was adopted. Yeas 42, nays 33. The House progressed with the bill as far as the 57th section, and then adjourned.

New Tariff.

The following are the principal features of the amended Tariff bill passed by the Thirty-Fourth Congress: 1. A large extension of the Free List, placing thereon many articles scarcely produced or rivalled in this country. 2. A reduction of the present rates of duty on Iron, Cotton and Woolen fabrics, Hemp, Sugar, Wool, to twenty-five per cent.

3. Wool, costing less than twenty cents per pound, will henceforth be free. 4. Distilled Spirits, Liquors, &c., hitherto charged one hundred per cent. are reduced seventy-five per cent. 5. Wines, Cut Glass, Meats, Raisins, Snuff, Segars, and all forms of manufactured Tobacco, all manufactures of Rosewood, M'hogany, &c., reduced from forty to thirty per cent. 6. A general reduction of twenty per cent. on all articles not carried to the Free List or reduced to four or eight per cent.

Recently the wife of a citizen of Petersburg, gave birth to a child with two tongues. The account does not state whether it was a "gal" baby or not.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

What's the use of 'stating' on that point! Of course it wasn't a gal baby.—Nature is fond of an occasional freak, but the idea of giving two tongues to one woman would be too preposterous a whim, altogether.

James Summons, who poisoned his father's family at Cincinnati, a few years ago, for which he was condemned to be hung, has had his sentence commuted by the Governor of Ohio, to imprisonment for life.

Mr. E. S. NEIBEL, the senior partner in the "Luzerne Union," has purchased the interest of his partner, Mr. CHAS. WALKER.

Arrested.—John N. Wagenseller, the defaulting cashier of the New Castle (Pa.) Bank, was arrested in Philadelphia, with his baggage, and taken to Pittsburg.

Mr. G. M. REYNOLDS, of the Carbonate Transcript, has associated with him in the publication of that paper, Mr. R. H. WILLOUGHBY.

Charles J. Faulkner, has been nominated for re-election to Congress by the Democrats of the 5th district of Virginia. In the Paquiter district William Smith, has been nominated for re-election.

A PAIR OF THEM.—Wagenseller, the defaulting cashier of the New Castle bank, is a brother of Wagenseller, the traitor.—If their parents are alive they must feel proud of the family they have reared. Bad Eggs!

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Morification may always be prevented, by the timely use of Holloway's Ointment, and lockjaw has never been known to supervene in any case of external injury where it was used as a dressing. Its healing properties are proverbial in all parts of the world, and it is used in all the great surgical institutions of Continental Europe, as the only reliable and unfailing specific for wounds, ulcers, dropsical swellings, cancer, tumors, and eruptive maladies.—The pills are prescribed by eminent medical practitioners as the most efficacious remedy for indigestion, liver complaint and disorders of the bowels.
