THE FARMER.

"To thrive by the plough would thrive,
Himself must either hold or drive."

The Plow, the Rake and the Hoe.

A song for the golden past—
And the high old forest trees—
A song for the curls of ladies fair,
Out floating upon the breeze;
A song for the knightly halls of Spain
With their chivalry long ago—
But a song of songs for the farmers tools,
The plow, the rake, and the hoe!

A shout for the men of War!
From the blood red fields they come
They look for the world to rise with awe
At the sound of the fife and Drum!
Hark! how do rabble cheer,
On hill and valley low—
We'll heed them not, for our song shall be
The plow the rake, and the hoe.

Oh, a farmer's the man of men!
With sinews like cords of steel,
With a stingly step and a flashing eye,
And a heart that is made to feel—
To feel the boundings of joy,
And throb at the sight of woe,
Then sing a song for the noble knight
Of the plow, the rake and the hoe.

Come forth, thou son of toil,
The earth, like bridesmaid gay,
Is putting on a carpet of verdure down,
For the feet of the blue-eyed May.
Come forth—with a lavish hand
The seeds to the furrow sow—
While we gaily join in a cheerful song,
For the plow, the rake and the hoe.

Corn and Potatoes.—Prices.

In one of the late agaiculture meetings at Boston, Asa G. Sheldon spoke of the comparative prices of corn and potatoes, as well as the price of all sorts of cultivated roots. Sixty years ago, corn was as dear as now, say one dollar a bushel at retail, and potatoes were thirty to forty cents. About forty years ago, there was a great rise in these products; corn sold for $1 50, and potatoes for the enormous price of 50 cents a bushel. Now, in this city, corn may be set down at 75 cents, and potatoes at $2 a bushel. What a change in fifty years. Potatoes have generally been higher than corn for several years.—Yet Mr. Sheldon thinks it as easy to raise three bushels of potatoes as one of corn.—If a farmer wishes to make the most money he can, let him cultivate potatoes, beets, carrots, onions, parsnips, &c., and he will get more dollars than he will by raising corn.

Mr. Wetherell said, the Patent returns show that the avarage crop in Massachusetts is less than one hundred bushels to the acre. He had heard, on good authority, of a farmer in Belchertown who raised 800 bushels formerly on one acre. That was the largest crop he ever heard of. As to the price of potatoes formerly compaired with the present, he stated that he had known as good potatoes sold, twenty five years ago, for 12½ cents a bushel as can be bought now for $1 a bushel. There are some 150 kinds of potatoes cultivated, but only a few are really valuable or profitable. The sweet potato can be raised with profit in Massachusetts, by starting them in hot beds and planting in the open air early in May.

Mr. W. J. Buckminster said that last year he cultivated sixteen varieties of potatoes, but he found only a few kinds of much value. The Chenango and the Davis Seedling were spoken of as among the best in all respects, if not the very best.—He did not think that potatoes raised from the seed were sure not to rot.

Mr. Brooks said the potato crop now is about five or six tons, or 180 to 200 bushels to the acre. It takes about 1½ tons to equal 1 ton of hay. He spoke of a potato called the Nicaragua potato as being very good. They are a long red potato, and mealy at one end, but are apt to be watery at the other. The sprouts of potatoes should not be broken off before planting.

Women in the Garden.

Much in these days is said about the sphere of women. Of this vexed question we have nothing now to say. The culture of the soil, the body and soul are our themes. Rich soils, healthy bodies, pure, cultivated souls, these are what we are aiming at. And to this end we recommend that every country woman has a garden that she keeps and dresses with her own hand, or at least that she supervises and manages. The culture of strawberries, raaberries, blackberries, gooseberries, currants and gaden vegetables are as delightful and profitable as anything in which woman can engage. She may sprinkle her garden with flowers. All the better for that. A snowball in this corner, a rose in that, a dahlia bed there and a moss border here will not be out of place. Only let the substantial and useful constitute the chief part. A touch of the ornat like a ribbon on a good bonnet, is not in the least objectionable. In all the schools the girls study botany. In all families the women ought to practice botany. It is healthful, pleasing and useful. The principles of horticulture are the principles of botany put into practice. Farmers study agriculture, why should not their wives and daughters study horticulture? If any employment is feminine, it would seem that this is. If any is healthy this must be. If any is pleasurable none can be more so than this. A rich bed of strawberries, a bush of blackberries or currants, a border of flowers produced by ones' own hand, what can well afford a more rational satisfaction? We say to all our country sisters, have a garden, if it is only a small one, and do your best with it. What woman cannot raise beets, tomatoes, melons, onions, lettuce and furnish her own table, with them?—What woman cannot plant a raspberry bush or currant or gooseberry, and tend it well? Come, good woman, study your health, your usefulness your happiness, and your children's also.

Holloway's Pills

A MEDICAL REVOLUTION.

The World Unanimous!

THE GREAT COUNTER IRRITANT!!

THE cause of disease often makes its way to the internal parts through the pores of the skin. This penetrating Ointment, nothing under the hand acts is rubbed in, is carried through the same channels and, reaching the seat of inflammation, promptly and invariably subdues it, whether located in the kidneys, the liver, the lungs or any other important organ. It penetrates the surface in the interior, through the countless tubes that communicate with the skin in manner then passes into the severed parts, diffusing its cool and regenerating influence.

SKIN DISEASES AND GLANDULAR SWELLINGS.

Every species of exterior irritation is quickly reduced by the anti inflammatory action of this Ointment.—Angry Eruptions, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Nettle Rash, Scabies, (or Itch) &c., die out, to return no more, under its application. Hospital experience in all parts of the world proves its infallibility in diseases of the skin, the muscles, the joints and the glands.

ULCERS, SORE AND TUMORS

The effect of this unrivalled external remedy upon Scorbutic and other virulent ulcers and sores is almost miraculous. It first discharges the poison which produces suppuration and proud flesh, and thus the cure which its healing properties afterward complete are safe as well as permanent.

WOUNDS, BRUISES, BURNS, AND SCALDS.

In cases of the fracture of the bones, injuries caused by steam explosions, Bruises Burns, Scalds, Rheumatism, Stiffness of the Joints, and contraction of the sinews, it is employed and warmly recommended by the faculty. This marvelous remedy has been introduced by the inventor in person into all the leading Hospitals of Europe, and no private household should be without it.

UNDENIABLE TESTIMONY.

The medical staff of the French and English armies in the Crimea, have officially signed their approval of Holloway's Ointment, as the most reliable dressing for sabre cuts, stabs, and gun shot wounds. It is also used by the Surgeons of the Allied Navies.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Heads,
Bads,	Rheumatism,	Sore Throats,
Chapped Hands,	Ringworm,	Stones of all Kinds
Chilblains,	Scrofula,	Stiff Joints,
Fistulas,	Scalds,	Tetter,
Gout,	Skin Diseases,	Ulcers,
Lumbago,	Swelled Glands,	Venereal Sores,
Mercurial Erup-tions,	Sore Legs,	Wounds, all kinds.

SUFFER NOT.

WHEN A PERMANENT CURE IS GUARANTEED in all stages of SECRET DISEASES. Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Strictures, Gleets, Gravel, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Ankles and Bones, Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body, Female Irregularities, and all improper discharges, no matter of how long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure could be effected by any other treatment, even after the skill of the most eminent physicians had failed, and the disease rejected all other means of cure. The remedies are free from odor, causing neither sickness nor inconvenience, and without mercury or balsam. During twenty years' practice, I have restored to health over seventeen thousand patients who were suffering under the worst forms of all the above mentioned diseases, which guarantees me in promising a perfect and most speedy cure. Secret diseases are the greatest enemies to health and happiness, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, &c., and should be a terror to all nations on the earth: for as the disease is becoming so common, and treatment so little understood, that a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, as a majority of the cases fall into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the malady, but ruin the constitution with corrosive sublimate—a dangerous poison, a preparation of mercury—which, with the remains of disease in the system, produces many of the above named affections, which finally terminate in consumption, and frequently a rapid one; but should it not cause death speedily, and the victim to disease marries, the disease is then conveyed from the parent to the offspring, causing them to come into the world with scrofula, affections of the skin, eyes throat, &c., and again terminates in consumption, and consigns its victim to an untimely grave, between the ages of six months and thirty-five years. Self-abuse is a fearful enemy to health; it destroys the nervous system rapidly wasting away the energies of life, causing mental derangement, preventing a proper development of the system, and disqualifying its victim for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness. Female irregularities and all other diseases of females treated in the most skilful and scientific manner.
