The Ticket.

The democratic ticket, State, District and County, is now completed and settled, as found at the head of the Columbia Democrat. But one more issue of our paper can be made, before our readers will be called upon to vote; and of that issue some of our subscribers may not receive the benefit until too late to affect the result of this contest; we therefore seize the present opportuniy, to make an appeal to the members of the party to be up and doing.

Fellow Democrats! this is not a time to lie idly by, in fancied security, and in the belief that the democratic majority is so large as to carry the State without individual exertion. It is because every man did his duty last fall that we were enabled to give Mr. Buchanan over FOURTEEN HUNDRED majority in the good old county of Columbia; and it is only by the personal activity of each one of our democratic fellow citizens that we can this fall accomplish the same result.

Remember that we have the votes and the more shame to us if we supinely permit the glorious opportunity of thrashing David Wilmot, and the "nigger worshipping," "bleeding Kansas" opposition, to pass by unimproved. Never was there a time when it more behooved the democratic party to be active; not because it is so necessary in order to carry our ticket, but because a political stumping Judge and a venal, corrupt and unprincipled opposition are marching under a flag inconsistent in all its devices. "Up, Guards, and at them!" Lay David Wilmot out cold now, and you will have done with his proviso and his niggerism in Pennsylvania forever.

Friends, the secret of our success, apart from our glorious principles, lies in our harmonious action, our admirable order. It lies in the solid column with which we march to the polls and support our ticket from top to bottom. It lies in the fact that we feel and act like brothers for measures of policy and not for men. It lies in the fact that each man feels with his party, and that no personal feelings are allowed to seduce him from the support of his principles.

Knowing the staunchness and determination of our friends we call upon the Fishingcreek country, to roll out to the polls its indomitable legions; upon the western end of the county to stir up its pine woods and rally its cohorts under our time honored banner; and we look to Scott, and Centre, and Briarcreek, to maintain the battle as firmly as of yore; while from the east side of the river, from Maine and Mifflin, from Locust and Beaver, and their worthy rivals in democratic spirit we shall have such a vote as it will be a pride and pleasure to record.

The ticket, fellow democrats, as settled in the district and county, is eminently worthy of your support. We need not speak of the persons who compose it by name; we have already done that at some length in our columns; and we now ask you to give it that united and hearty support so characteristic of your principles and practice. Nothing can compensate your remissness in this respect. Give one day to your country, and see that no votes remain at home. The result of the election is in the hands of each one of you individually, and your country expects you to do your whole duty.

Dont cut the ticket. Vote it through from Packer to Yohe. Compare the nominees of the democratic party with those of the opposition, and you will be convinced that it is your duty to vote the democratic ticket, not more by reason of your politics, than by the fact, that they are the best men. Let nothing keep you from the polls—go early, stay all day, and see that the whole strength of your township is out. The work cannot be done on any other day, than on Tuesday, October the 13th. The next day it will be too late. Work in time.

Be active, be earnest—make no compromises; and let your watchword be "The ticket, the whole ticket, and noth ing but the ticket."

Paul Leidy.

We last week briefly announced the fact that Paul Leidy, Esq., of Montour county, had been nominated as the democratic candidate for Congress in the district, composed of the counties of Columbia, Luzerne, Montour and Wyoming. The struggle was somewhat protracted, but the result is one highly creditable to the people of the District.

Mr. Leidy is comparatively a young man, but his position at the Bar of Montour county, among lawyers of the professional standing of Comly, Baldy, and the lamented Montgomery, is high and firm. He has reached this point in politics by no mean arts or devices, he has bowed to no popular clamor, leagued with none of the wire workers of party; but by the force of high moral and christian character, through the absolute confidence in his ability and integrity, of every man in community, he has outstripped all competitors.

A self made man in the true sense of the term, rising from the ranks of the people with no adventitious advantages of birth, connections nor fortune; he began active life as a Teacher of a Common School, and devoting his leisure to the study of the noble and elevating science of the law, came in due time to the Bar; and from that day to the present, by a close, prompt, honest, and faithful discharge of his duties, personal, professional and social, he has acquired for himself a reputation among his neighbors and constituents that any man might envy.

Mr. Leidy has never been an office seeker. Almost against his consent he was forced to accept the post of District Attorney of Montour county; but while an active and influential member of the rank and file of the party, he has never aspired to be a leader. But that he will lead the column gallantly, and in Congress represent us ably, no man doubts. He is a gentleman of great industry, sterling sense, and sound judgment; qualities more especially necessary in a member of the lower house of Congress.

Modest and unassuming in his deportment, his cool head and high character must make his influence felt wherever he is known. Not a noisy, but an able member, not a talking, but an acting one; we predict for Mr. Leidy a career of usefulness and honor.

Hon. C. R. Buckalew.

This distinguished gentleman has been chosen by the Conferees, representing the district composed of the counties of Columbia, Montour, Northumberland and Snyder, as the democratic candidate for State Senator. Personally and politically we are gratified at this result. It is a tribute to the worth and abilities of Mr. Buckalew which he deserved, and which the party has honored itself by offering.

When we remember that Mr. Buckalew was not named as a candidate before the primary elections, we see at once that the nomination is purely the result of his superior fitness for the post. He has already spent six years in the Senate, and at the present crisis, there is no man whose capacity, sagacity and experience the State and the party more urgently need. In the opinion of every man in the State, the thirteenth Senatorial district has done itself credit, in selecting its candidate, and the people will never have cause to regret his election to a seat in the Senate.

Able and excellent gentlemen were presented by each of the other counties, composing the District, any one of whom would have made an active and influential Senator; but it is not too much to say, that the advantages of fitness, ability and experience were so vastly in favor of the nominee, that the satisfaction at the selection, was actually felt even by the opposition; knowing that he must be elected, and that there was no man either in or out of the party, so well qualified for the post.

☞ THE U. S. DEMOCRATIC REVIEW, published by C. Swackhamer, at 335 Broadway, N. Y., for October, is on our table. It is the best number of the new series, and worthy the warm support of the democratic party. It is embellished with a portrait of our Minister to Sweden, and a sketch of his life is appended. The number contains fourteen articles, politics and literature, tales and poems. Three dollars per annum, in advance.

TICKETS.—The Tickets for the Democratic candidates, are printed and ready for distribution. Friends from the country, when in town, will please call and get a supply for their respective townships.

☞ The Montour Rolling Mill at Danville has suspended operations on account of the heavy failures in the East, and the tightness of the money market.

Gov. Pollock and the Banks.

In another column of our paper will be found the Proclamation of Gov. Pollock, calling an extra Session of the Legislature, to convene at Harrisburg on Tuesday, the 6th day of October. In this case, the session of the Legislature can last only five days, and any action of that body, must of necessity be hasty; and any person who remembers the performances of last winter, will naturally conclude that it will be injudicious. No man in the State has any confidence in the moral character of a majority of that body, and what object the Governor can have in view, in calling it together, we are at a loss to conjecture.

What wise and judicious system could any legislative body mature and perfect in all its details, in five days? None. Why not wait, therefore, a few days longer, and call the Legislature about to be elected, to his counsels, take their advice, assist in their action, and permit them to sit so long a time as the present financial crisis, demands? We believe this hasty and ill-advised course on the part of the Governor, is of a piece with his well known bank policy; and those who yet remember the facility with which all sorts of banks were chartered, in all sorts of places, by the body of men, now again called into life and vitality, by the Governor's Proclamation, will tremble to think of the hands into which, in this great monetary crisis, we are falling.

We say again, it is impossible even to conjecture what course the Banks will force the Governor, and induce the Legislature to take; but we greatly fear that the result will be to legalize, because it will mean that, the suspension of specie payments by the banks. If so, when are we to reach the end of these financial difficulties? If banks knowing the result of a suspension, conduct their business in such a manner that in any event, a suspension becomes necessary, ought they not to be held responsible for such result to themselves, and is it good policy to relieve them of the consequences? We think not, and we believe the people will so decree. Since the fiat has gone forth, may good councils guide them.

Constitutioual Amendments.

We trust our friends will not forget the necessity of casting a full vote on the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State. It is true they seem to meet with general favor, at least we have seen no active canvass against them in any part of the State; but it is of the first importance that they receive a very general support, and thus become an invincible check upon the recklessness of corrupt politicians.

These amendments are not a party matter. Our citizens are all interested in them, and we hope they will see that the vote is general, not confined to localities or parties.

There are four alterations proposed, and they will have to be voted on separately, that is, on four tickets. They are:—

1. In relation to the creation of Public Debts:
2. In reference to the erection of new counties:
3. In relation to the Legislative Appointments, and the election in certain cases of Representatives by single districts:
4. In relation to charters of incorporation, proposing to give the Legislature power to alter and revoke any charter when deemed necessary.

The manner of voting is described and regulated by the Act of May 12th, 1857, Pamphlet Laws, page 467; and care ought to be taken by Editors, to print the tickets conformably to the regulations there made. We hope the citizens of Columbia county will not lose sight of these, in their zeal for the other matters claiming their attention, on the day of the election.

A DIFFERENCE.—The Black Republican papers in all parts of the State are engaged in publishing notices complimentary to Mr. WILMOT, taken from Democratic jounrnals at a time when that gentleman was acting with the Democratic party, and contrasting them with what the same papers say of Mr. WILMOT'S cours at the present time. Well, what does that prove?—General WASHINGTON praised ARNOLD when he was fighting for the liberties of his country, but when he turned traitor and joined the enemy he changed his opinion and denounced both the man and his treasonable acts.

☞ Judge WILMOT, the Republican candidate for Governor, continues his travels through the Western countries, discussing the wool question, and that only; but nowhere has he excited the least enthusiasm. He finds the people even colder than the weather, and is preparing to retreat to his winter quarters.

☞ It is reported on good authority that Mrs. Cunningham has retained David Paul Brown, Esq., of Philadelphia, as her counsel in the coming trial upon the bogus baby charge.

☞ The Presbyterian Congregation of North Danville, are building a beautiful parsonage.

☞ Contributions are being taken in the different cities for the relief of the sufferers by the Central America.

☞ A military encampment is proposed to be held at Selinsgrove some time next month.

TO YOU.

The chairman of the State Committee, in the following circular, addresses, individually every member of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. We hope each one will act upon his suggestions.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22, 1857.

DEAR SIR:

The Democratic State Committe are impressed with the importance of effort to secure a full vote of our friends at the election. With a full vote, our triumph is sure; and nothing but exertion is necessary to secure it and obtain an overwhelming victory over the opposition. We appeal to you to see that every reasonable effort is made in your County to get out the full vote of our party. We do this because there is room to fear that a sense of security—a confidence in our strength—is operating to decrease interest, and paralyze exertion. The opposition are adapting their tactics to this condition of things, in failing to nominate local tickets in Berks and many other Counties where Democratic majorities are large, and in holding meetings and putting forth their exertions in those parts of the State where they have majorities.—Their object, doubtless is, that the vote shall be full where they are strong, and light where they are not. We therefore earnestly urge you to give your influence and active aid for the short time that will elapse before the election, to the measures necessary to secure a full Democratic vote in your County. Our friends everywhere will be urged to co-operate in this duty, and it is hoped that it will be everywhere fully discharged. The salutary results of a decided victory over the opposition at this time, will be felt for many years, and will relieve us from much effort and difficulty hereafter. It will settle all the fanaticisms of the day, destroy the factious spirits who would array one portion of the national confederacy against another, and utterly crush the fell monster of disunion. Every instinct of patriotism, then, demands our best efforts, and every man who loves his country, his party, and his race, should now show his faith by his works—by decided, vigorous, energetic effort. We look to you for it.

The candidates on the State ticket deserve our exertions, and their success will be ours; and besides, years will elapse before another important election will be held—before an opportunity will offer to do so much as can now be done for our principles and our cause.

It is not a mere assumption that Pennsylvania holds the fate of the nation in her hands, dictating its policy, and curbing and controling its factions and its fanaticisms. If she waver, these latter will soon riot in triumph over the ruins of our national glory, and power; but while she remains firm, patriotism can bid defiance to wrong, and the bulwark of civil liberty will remain as free from injury as though no boisterous wave beat against its base. In a recent contest, Pennsylvania, by the influence and power of her great name, while the country was trembling with fear of the worst results, placed her most eminent son in the National Executive Chair. He has administered the Government with marked ability and justice, and has well nigh stilled the voice of faction and turbulence. Shall we now prove recreant to him in the hour of his triumph, and by supineness lose the glory and the public profit of his achievements? Rather, shall we not, like true men, strike a final blow with energy—with all our power—to overwhelm the opponents of his policy, establish his and our doctrines as indisputable law, and thus secure lasting peace to our country, and good will amongst all our people? To discharge this great duty, and to secure these highly patriotic ends, we repeat to you, it is only necessary to go to work with manly determination to get out a full vote of the people at the ensuing election. Let us not fail in this, nor have cause hereafter to reproach ourselves with indolence or indifference.

We desire also to call your attention to the proposed amendments to the Constitution. These are of very great importance, and deserve general support. They will arrest much improper legislation, prevent many local difficulties, and protect the people against the accumulation of public debts. We hope you will see to it that tickets in proper form for them are printed and circulated with the State ticket in your County.

The Extra Session.

The Governor has called an extra session of the Legislature, to devise some relief to the present financial troubles. The efforts of the members when they meet should be directed to a resumption of specie payments at the earliest practicable period. An indefinite suspension would be an extended evil. The community believe that suspension has been forced upon the banks as a temporary measure, and sound policy should induce the banks so to regard it, and use every means in their power to place themselves in a proper position by resuming at the earliest day.

The Presidents of the various banks, yesterday, held a meeting, and decided upon the following important measures:—

1. A suspension of specie payments on all notes, large and small. 2. The prompt issue of their own notes of the smaller denominations, for checks, and all other obligations against them. 3. An increase of Discount to their customers, with the object of affording immediate relief.

In regard to the third proposition, there may be different opinions as different desires actuate those that entertain them. It is not calculated to effect an early resumption, and the Legislature should authorize no movement which will tend to delay beyond a limited and reasonable period that desirable event. It is manifest to the commonest intelligence that the banks cannot resume till they have reduced their business, and increasing their loans is not such a reduction. The following is the Governor's Proclamation:—

IN THE NAME, and by the Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, JAMES PLLOCK, Governor of the said Commonwealth:

A PROCLAMATION!

Whereas, A serious financial revulsion has occurred, resulting in the suspension of specie payments by the Banks of this and other States of the Union, and the failure of many long established commercial houses, leading to the distruction of confidence, and to the general embarrassment and depression of trade, and threatening to affect disastrously the credit of the Commonwealth, and the great industrial interests of the people;

And whereas, An occasion so extraordinary requires prompt and efficient action to relieve an alarmed and suffering community;

Therefore, I, James Pollock, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by virtue of the powers conferred on me by the constitution, do hereby convene the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, and require the members of the Senate and House of Representatives to meet in their respective houses in the capitol at Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the sixth day of October, A. D., 1857, at 12 o'clock at noon of that day, then and there to take into consideration, and adopt such measures of relief in the premises as the present exigency may seem to them in their wisdom to demand.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed, at Harrisburg, this 28th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1857, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-second. By the Governor,

ANDREW G. CURTIN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

NOTICE.

In the matter of the "German Reformed Church in Bloomsburg:"

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Take Notice: That George Weaver, Daniel Fernwald, David Betz, John Reiswick, William Snyder, Jacob Bombey, and Rev. William Goodrich for themselves and their successors, all being citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, and being desirous of acquiring and enjoying the immunities and privileges of a body corporate, have exhibited and presented to the Court of Common Pleas of Columbia county, an instrument in writing, purporting to be the proposed charter of "The German Reformed Church in Bloomsburg," in the township of Bloom, and county of Columbia, specifying the objects, articles, conditions, names, style and title, under which they have associated, and mean to associate; and the said Court having perused and examined the said instrument and having found the objects and conditions therein set forth and contained to be lawful, and not injurious to the community, have directed said writing or instrument in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of said county, and notice to be given in one newspaper published in said county for at least three weeks, setting forth that an application has been made to said Court to grant a charter of incorporation, as recited in said instrument or writing, that application has been made at the September Term of said Court, A. D. 1857, to grant such a charter; and that if no sufficient reason be shown to the contrary by the first day of December Term, 1857, of said Court, it will decree and declare said persons so associated to be a body politic or corporate, in law and fact, according to the said articles and conditions, and to have continuance by the name, style and title in said instrument mentioned.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS!

THE APPLE HARVEST OF 1857 HAS ARRIVED.

ANE if you wish to make money, please your customers, and have unbounding agents (who can make one, two, and even three hundred dollars per month) there supplying the goods in your town and county which you ought to sell, you can do it by sending ten dollars for a single box containing six of Pratt's Apple Parers (each one already used and Pratt's Apple Slicer, (a new article,) and one thousand prize envelopes to distribute in your town or county. By so doing you will find profitable employment in ordering and selling at a very large profit ten, twenty or even a hundred dozen machines during the season.

PRATT'S APPLE PARER was patented in 1853.—Having a basis fastened under carrier so arranged as to readily adjust itself to the irregularities of the surface of apples, or other fruit, the working qualities of which have proved so excellent and advantageous to the economy, that the manufacturers, Messrs. Rogers & Foster have already been called on to supply more than half a million machines.

PRATT'S APPLE SLICER, made to accompany the Parer, was patented in 1856. It is a small neatly constructed machine, and like its companion, the Parer, does most excellent work, cutting in about five seconds, each apple into twenty-two equal parts, leaving, without waste, only a small core to be removed. A child can readily work either Parer or Slicer at a speed of about three inches per hour.

RETAIL PRICE OF EACH $1 50. All orders by mail or otherwise should, to meet prompt attention, be addressed to

E. L. PRATT,
617 Sansom st., Philadelphia, Pa.

Our readers are aware that the subject of every commercial city is the very highest authority. As such an instance we may mention Dr. CRAVENWELL'S new publication on Nervous Debility and other maladies, the result of early indiscretion. It is a small but valuable pamphlet. His prescriptions are unfailing in Nervous Affections. Nervous are now considered the safe and only effectual remedies extant for the complaints referred to.

Dr. CRAVENWELL'S Sexual Regeneration and Revivifying Nervine, the sovereign remedies for Sexual Weakness, Sexual Debility, Impotency, Involuntary Emissions, Piles, &c., are for sale by most of the leading Druggists in the country.

Dr. C.'s Treatise, as above, containing full advices for the cure of Spermatorrhœa, &c., can be had in a secure envelope, by enclosing a stamp to
