FARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

From the Dollar Newspaper.

A Place for every Tool.

"In vain the search;
Nor hoe, nor spade in its own place is found."

Everybody, who is anybody, likes to see system and order displayed in the various operations of the farm; and even the most careless and negligent admire and approve the practice of him who has an appropriate place for every tool, and who strenuously insists on keeping them there. "A place for everything and everything in its place," is a maxim coeval with the art of printing, for aught I know, and we find many times that those who often insist on having this precept carried into practice, come the shortest of keeping it themselves. Many farmers fail grestly in keeping this precept, and in time lost, patience tested, and the many hindrances which result therefrom, they are often obliged to suffer a morty'ying penalty.—Ask Mr. A. where he keeps his hand-saw, or his augers, or pick, crowbar, &c.—"Well, let me think; where did I use them last? Look in the wood house; if they are not there, look in the carriage house, and if they are not to be found there, let us see if they are not somewhere about the barn or in the stable." Mr. B. says, "I usually keep my tools either at the house or barn, or in the path that leads from the house to the barn, and it generally gets carried to one place or the other." There being generally such a destitution of order, in reference to keeping tools in their appropriate place, it is deemed a matter of no impropriety to speak of the order and arrangement in the disposition of the various tools of the workshop and farm, which is practiced by a young farmer, not a hundred miles from the residence of the writer. Ask him, for instance, where his hand saw is, or his drawing-knife, or his augers, or any other tool you may need, and the unhesitating reply is, in such a part of the shop, hanging on such a pin or nail, or standing or lying in such a corner, or on such a shelf. There hang the augers, each in its appropriate place, and on all the premises they are allowed no other place. There hang a half dozen saws, and if one of them is taken down, but for a moment's work, its first and last resting place is on itsown peg. There is a drawer with an apartment for screws, one for rivets, one for washers, for bolts, one for nails of different sizes, and so on. In one corner is a hollow box-shelf, where a lot of carriage bolts, and other bolts, and where everything in the bolt line is kept, in case of a breakdown. There hang a number of extra plow handles; in case one should be broken in seed-time, a half day need not be spent in going several miles to have it repaired. There hang a variety of useful little articles, instead of being tumbled into a box, where they can never be found when needed. There hang the chains (not on the fences anywhere on the plantation) in the corner. There the beetle and wedges are kept. Are they any extra plow-points about the shop? You will find them up stairs, in such a place, and nowhere else. Every one who assists about the barn and stables understands that this shovel, when not in use, must be in that corner. The manure-fork must be kept here. That fork and that shovel in the feeding room must always stand in this end of the box where feed is mixed.—This fork must be left on the mow, and when not in use, the end of the handle must be rested on the ladder, so that one always knows, even in the dark, where to find the fork to throw down fodder. When the halters are taken off the horses, each halter is hung on its appropriate hook. A score of other little things, which are generally thrown here and there by a majority of people, have their own place, and will always be found there when not in use—Where there are a large number of workmen and boys to use tools, it is just as easy to keep them in one place, and far more important, as where there are but one or two individuals to use them. Let it be understood by each one, that every tool must be returned to its proper place; for when tools are lying here and there, thinking to return them when it is more convenient, they are forgotten, and hours are lost in search of them, even when one is in the greatest haste. There is always a great satisfaction when one needs a certain tool, in having the assurance that the hand can be laid directly on it, even in the dark. Those farmers who succeed best in their operations, are noted for their strict adherence to system and order; and those who set at naught all order and system, are always in a hurry, never know where to find anything, never have a place for anything, except somewhere on the farm, and they accomplish but little in comparison to what they might, were system and order their watchword. PEARS.—Winter pears should not be picked till very late in the season. This is just the time when they are perfecting their grown. Many make a serious mistake in picking and bringing them to market too early; they loose five-sixths of their value. Good Winter Nelis pears are worth in November and December 84 or 86 per bushel; picked now they might sell for 50c. to 61, and would be very dear at that.

Of all diseases; the great, first cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

SUFFE NOT.

WHEN ACURE IS GUARANTEED IN ALL STAGES OF SECRET DISEASES,

Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Strictures, Gleets, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers Dropsy, Ist hypic Fits, St Vita's Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual Organs.

Such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the face, Pain in the back and head, Female irregularities and all improper discharges from both sexes. It matters not much what caus the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. That medicines are pleasant without odor, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During twenty years of practice I have rescued from the jaws of Death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a perfect and most speedy cure. Secret diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of Consumption, Scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. As a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of the cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the diseases but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid Consumption.

But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in Scrofula, Tetter, Ulcers, Eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat, and Lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave.

SELF ABUSE is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so sudden a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, destroys business, and all earthly happiness, renders the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-Abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

The afflicted are cautioned against the use of Patent Medicines, for there are so many ingenious shares in the columns of the public prints to catch and rob the unwary sufferers that millions have their constitutions ruined by the vile compounds of quack doctors, or the equally poisonous nostrums vended as "Patent Medicines." I have carefully analyzed many of the so-called Patent Medicines and find that nearly all of them contain Corrosive Sublimate which is one of the strongest preparations of mercury and a deadly poison, which instead of curing the disease disables the system for life.

Three fourths of the patent nostrums now in use are put up by unprincipled and ignorant persons, who do not understand even the alphabet of the materia medica, and are equally as destitute of any knowledge of the human system, having one object only in view, and that to make money regardless of consequences.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by twenty years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States or Canadas, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. Business correspondence strictly confidential

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATION
OF
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weaknesses, Obstructions, Secret Diseases, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

Arising from Excesses and Imprudencies in life, and removing all Improper Discharges from the Bladder, Kidneys, or Sexual Organs, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE.

From whatever cause they may have originated, and no matter of how long standing, giving health and vigor to the frame, and blood to the pallid cheek.

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!

It cures Nervous and Debilitated Sufferers, and removes all the symptoms among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyes, frequently Black Spots flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight; want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no repose of mind, no correct ness nor speculation, but a Hurried transition from one question to another.

The first symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows Loss of Power Patently, and Epilepsy or Fits, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by these direful diseases—Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither mirth or grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"While woeful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Debility is most terrible! and has brought thousands upon thousands to untimely graves, thus blasting the ambition of many noble youths. It can be cured by the use of this

INFALLIBLE REMEDY.

If you are suffering with any of the above distressing ailments, the Fluid Extract Buchu will cure you. Try it and be convinced of its efficacy.

Beware of Quack Nostrums and Quack Doctors, who falsely boast of abilities and references. Citizens know and avoid them and save long suffering money, and exposure, by sending or calling for a bottle of this popular and specific remedy.

It allays all pain and inflammation, is perfectly pleasant in its taste and odor, but immediate in its action.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

NEW AND USEFUL.
OLEUM LIQUOR.
A Substitute for Linseed Oil.
[PATENT APPLIED FOR]

THE undersigned offer to the public their Oleum Liquor as an efficient substitute for Linseed Oil, as a thinner for all sorts of Paints ground in Oil, except Venetian Red.

When thinned with the Oleum the Paint will cover better, dry quicker and will be more durable, and when varnished, the paint will have and retain the most glossy appearance; and the elasticity of the thinner will enable the paint to yield to the varnish; and the cracking and peeling off, so common in ordinary varnished oil paints is entirely avoided.

For painting Tin Roofs its equal cannot be found.

The Oleum can be used by itself, or in common with Linseed Oil. Varnish, Japan or Turpentine at the option of the Painter.

Its cost is about one-half of that of Linseed Oil, thus considerably reducing the expense of painting.

We faithfully recommend it for all purposes indicated and warrant it to give satisfaction. A liberal discount to the trade.

DIRECTIONS.—Thin the paint with the Oleum Liquor and work it well, until it flows freely from the brush.

The brush must be free from all moisture and invariably ought to be soaked well with the Oleum Liquor, previous to painting.

Instead of placing the brushes in water over night, as painters generally do, they ought to be put in the Oleum Liquor, which will greatly facilitate the work.

The paint mixed with the Oleum Liquor will work better if it be allowed to stand from 12 to 24 hours previous to its being used, and then stirred to such a consistency as to work free and easy under the brush.

In the use of Japan, the paint will be rendered still firmer. Mix the Japan first with the paint and then thin it with the Oleum Liquor in the manner mentioned above.

☞ 100 pounds of Paint thinned with the Oleum Liquor, will cover a larger surface than 15 pounds thinned with oil.

The Oleum Liquor is not to be used with Venetian Red, nor with Paint containing any proportion of it.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY AND WILL PREVAIL!

Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

READING, March 4, 1857.

The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two safes, originally agreed upon by Parrels & Herring and Evans & Watson, place side by side in a furnace, viz: The Safe in use by the paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in the office at Reading, manufactured by Parrels & Herring and the Safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers, precisely alike.

The fire was stated at 2½ o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry oak and half chestnut top wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the safes' heirs members of the Committee. The Safes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and sent to H. A. Lantz's store for positive examination, and marked by the Committee.—The books and pap rs taken from the Safe, no notice. The books and papers taken from the Safe, in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent. more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe.

We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both Safes.

JACOB SNYDER,
DANIEL S. HUNTER.

Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of the respective Safes.
