

LEVI L. TAPP, EDITOR. Bloomsburg, Dec. 26, 1857.

COMPLETION OF THE Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Railroad.

We had the pleasure on last Friday—the 17th of December—of witnessing the completion of that great enterprise, the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Railroad. The rails met at Berwick, about 2 o'clock, P. M., amid the hearty cheers and congratulations of the assembled multitude who had convened there for the purpose of witnessing that much desired operation. Passenger Cars were immediately procured for an excursion, the Directors and Conductor politely inviting the party present and their friends to join in the first ride over the Road, when the Cars were at once filled to overflowing, a large portion of which was composed of the Ladies of Berwick, and the excursionists set out for Rupert Station. The train passed down, majestically, safely and pleasantly, in quick time, to the satisfaction of the entire company, arriving at Rupert about 5 o'clock, when it returned for Seranton, the same evening, but we can speak of its trip farther from observation, as we—with many others, made our exit from the Cars at Bloomsburg.

The erection of the L. & B. R. R. is truly a great enterprise for our citizens, and inaugurates a new feature in our country. We are no longer in the woods. We are all the time at home, and yet, convenient to everybody and everywhere. The Directors, Officers, and Managers of this magnificent Road, nine miles of which, between Bloomsburg and Briar-creek, is as straight as a dye, deserve great credit for their indomitable energy and perseverance in prosecuting this work to a speedy completion, in the face of the present overwhelming financial crisis. Indeed, we think, they did more than their duty, to accomplish the enterprise, as it is known that of the officers interested, with other public spirited gentlemen, have drawn largely upon their private fortunes, to raise the means for its early completion.

The Road is finished, and the Cars, carrying the U. S. Mail, now run daily between Rupert and Seranton. Its stock is believed to be among the best Rail Road investments in the country. It can be otherwise. The road is of quite a level grade, running parallel with the North Branch Canal and Susquehanna River, leading into the heart of the Wyoming Valley, opening up a direct communication between the Philadelphia, Cattawissa, Williamsport and Erie Rail Road, and the New York and Lake Erie, affording at once a direct interchange of the untold Iron Ore, Limestone and other mineral wealth of Columbia, and the inexhaustible Coal fields of Luzerne.

We are n for the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg. It is just the nearest little institution in this commonwealth. And, in conclusion, we take occasion to add, that the Company have been most fortunate in the selection of such eminent business gentlemen as F. J. LEAVENWORTH, Esq., Superintendent, and Col. R. S. ADAMS, Conductor.

Candidate for Canal Commissioner.

Hon. WESTLEY FROST, of Fayette county, is named in the Pittsburg Post, and Uniontown "Genius of Liberty," as the next democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner. Col. Frost is a gentleman of capacity, experience and fidelity—having, during Gen. Pierce's Administration, filled the office of Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania with distinguished ability, and various other posts of trust and honor to general satisfaction—and should the Western Democracy, who have the undoubted right to make the selection of the next Canal Commissioner, to succeed Mr. PLUMES in the Canal Board, confer this honor upon Mr. Frost, his nomination would be triumphantly ratified by the invincible Democracy of Pennsylvania. Col. F. has all the requisite qualifications for an efficient member of the Canal Board, and should he receive the nomination of the next 4th of March Convention—of which we have little doubt—he may calculate, with moral certainty, upon the honest, energetic and efficient aid of the Northern Democracy, so far as that can be influenced by the efforts of the humble Editor of the Columbia Democrat.

Pettengill's Newspaper Agency.

We have had considerable business transactions, during the past ten years of our connection with the Columbia Democrat, with Newspaper Advertising Agents in various cities of the Union, and it affords us great pleasure to be able to say, that the firm of S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., of New York and Boston, are the most competent, attentive and reliable gentlemen of our acquaintance. They always treat Editors fairly, and settle their accounts PROMPTLY. And this is not all; they always PAY CASH!

Opening of the McCauley Mountain Rail Road.

This new Rail Road, leading from the Cattawissa, Williamsport and Erie Rail Road, a distance of some six miles, recently built—we believe, for we write without note—by the united efforts of the "McCauley Mountain Rail Road Company," and the "Columbia Coal and Iron Company," runs through Beaver township, Columbia county, and has its terminus in the great Coal Mines, in McCauley's Mountain, was formally, really, substantially and most emphatically opened, on last Tuesday—Our information is, that the invaluable property, through which this Rail Road passes, and on which the Coal Mines are located, is partly owned by the aforesaid Companies, whereas is erected the "City of Monticello;" and partly by T. M. Hubbell, Esq., the proprietor of the "Village of Hubbellville." But, it is no part of our business to speak of ownerships, our object is to give a sketch of the enterprise and its improvements.

A special Train of Cars, containing some hundred gentlemen, was despatched on Monday evening from Philadelphia, which arrived at Danville at about 11 o'clock, where they remained over night.—On Tuesday morning, at 8 o'clock, the company—reinforced by many of the citizens of Danville took Cars for Rupert Station, where they were joined by a very respectable delegation from Bloomsburg (we had joined them at Danville) and with additions at Cattawissa, passed on very pleasantly, over the C. W. & E. R. R. to the junction of the Roads, at Beaver Station, where the train diverged to the East, on the new road, and conveyed the joyful party, without let or hindrance, about 10 o'clock, up to the City of Monticello. For our pleasant passage and safe deliverance, through the sera of unsteamed wilderness, we should not omit to make our acknowledgements to the ever faithful and gentlemanly management of Col. Henry A. Fonda, the efficient Superintendent of the C. W. & E. R. R., and his equally honorable co-laborer, Col. Coxell, the Conductor, who—on this occasion—entirely omitted that important part of his usual duties.

Arriving at the base of the McCauley Mountain, the company, after partaking of something good to drink and trying some of Col. Creswell's old Havana, ascended the rugged steps to the mouth of the Coal Mines, and made a thorough examination of the Steam Saw Mill, Coal cracker machinery, the Anthracite vein which is some 7 or 9 feet under the arching, and extends near a quarter mile into the hills. This Coal, of which there is a large quantity mined, appears to be of excellent quality, and is said to be inexhaustible. The large Coal-breaker, near the mouth of the mines is altogether a magnificent structure.

Descending to the City, we mean, Monticello, here the entire company, numbering as we suppose, some two hundred persons, were invited by Col. Creswell, one of the proprietors, to a most sumptuous repast.—The viands were of the first magnitude, and the other "fixtures," were of the same character. Satisfied we are, that all who participated in the opening as well as the filling, came away well satisfied.

On removing the cloth after dinner viands were drunk and sentiments offered. As a sequence, speeches were made, in response to frequent calls, by Gov. Pollock, Judge Samuel V. Merrick, Lawyer Maynard, Col. Paxton, Hon. Richardson L. Wright, Hon. H. K. Strong, &c.

The New Columbia Academy.

We had the especial pleasure last week, through the polite invitation of Judge Koons, and Esquire Chapin, two of the trustees of the Columbus Male and Female Academy, of visiting this flourishing Literary Institute, and witnessing one of the regular weekly examinations of its Students. Rev. H. D. WALKER, the Principal, is a gentleman of high literary attainments, amply qualified for the important trust he has assumed, and judging from the brief opportunity we enjoyed of witnessing the exercises, we are led to believe that the Columbia Academy, is destined, at no distant day, to occupy a high position in the Academic Institutions of this Commonwealth. The next Term of this Institution, will commence on Monday, 4th of next January, as per Trustees card in our columns, and we confidently commend it, under its new order of arrangement, to public confidence and the most enlarged patronage.

Hon. Charles R. Buckalew.

Our excellent friend and distinguished fellow-citizen, SENATOR BUCKALEW, who has been for the last three weeks, confined to his domicile, by indisposition, and as an evidence of his good sense and sound judgement, yesterday paid us a social visit in our sanctum. He entertains strong hopes, through the continued blessings of Divine Providence, of being able to take his seat, at the opening of the session, in the State Senate. This will be gratifying news to the numerous friends of that distinguished young statesman, throughout our Commonwealth, as it is generally conceded that his presence in the Senate the coming session is not only necessary and important, but that his absence would create an irreparable desideratum.

Gen. Scott's Annual Report.

This paper recommends an increase in the army, urging that the various regiments, horse, foot and artillery, are anything but a peace establishment. For years they have been almost constantly in pursuit of hostile Indians, through swamps and mountains, in heats and snows, and with no inconsiderable loss of life from frequent combats, and a still greater mortality from excessive labor, deprivation and disease.—In other wars those hardships are occasionally broken by rest and comfort, now long unknown to nine-tenths of our troops; and hence another great evil, the numerous desertions which daily thin their ranks. In order to mitigate these evils, the general suggests an augmentation of at least one regiment of horses, (dragoons, cavalry or riflemen,) and at least three regiments of foot, (infantry or riflemen.) This augmentation would no more than furnish the reinforcements now greatly needed in Florida, Texas, New Mexico, California, Oregon, Washington Territory, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota, leaving not a company for Utah. He speaks of the care that should be taken to provide moral and religious culture to the army—recommends more comfortable quarters in fortifications—and concludes by asking a revision of the pension laws, whereby the army, both regulars and volunteers, may be put on the same footing, as regards pay, with the navy.

Financial advices from Hamburg, Austria, Prussia, Sweden and Norway, show that the crisis is very severe. The free city of Hamburg has none but a hard currency, and the only relief afforded by the senate to the merchants has been the issue of notes of credit to the amount of one million upon the security of produce. The senate might issue paper money, and they might relieve the failing merchants by accepting their liabilities, but they are probably too wise and cautious to employ these remedies, which might prove worse than the disease. It is a curious fact that gold is dearer at this moment in London than in Hamburg, and exchanges between the two cities is in favor of Hamburg. The English papers trace the revulsion in Hamburg and Altona to the connection in trade with the United States—the larger portion of the exports of Hamburg, which amount to 30,000,000 lbs. annually, being sent to this country, almost all the German goods coming through that port. Hamburg and Altona, which has railroad communication with Kiel, are closely connected in the large import trade of the principal ports of Sweden and Norway, to which the commercial troubles have extended, through speculation probably.

Report of the Postmaster General.

The report of the postmaster general, Gov. AARON V. BROWNS, is a laborious and instructive exposition of the important concerns of this great branch of the public service. It is full of statistics of great value, presented with admirable clearness, showing in a marked manner the faithfulness and industry of its author.

The great business of the transmission of intelligence comes home to the business of each individual in this great republic; for wherever its area extends, there arises a call for postal extension. The net increase of officers the past year has been 1021. In thirty years the increase has been wonderful; on the 30th of June, 1827, the whole number of post offices was 7000; in 1857, 20,586. During the past year 8650 postmasters have been appointed, of which 1981 were occasioned by removals, 4767 vacancies were occasioned by resignations. There are now 27,148 postmasters; 7888 mail routes; and 6576 contractors.

Report of Commissioner of Pensions.

From this annual report it appears that the pension office has added to the roll of pensioners during the year, under all the various acts, 92 revolutionary soldiers, 338 widows of revolutionary soldiers, 265 half-pay widows and orphans, 291 invalids, total 946. The arrears due on the same at the date of issuing the pension certificates amounted to $241,049 72.

The amount paid during the year by pension agents is, to revolutionary soldiers $103,981 29; widows of revolutionary soldiers $483,320 42; half-pay widows and orphans $304,352 26; invalids $469,348 89; privateers $1547; total $1,362,648 89.

One hundred and seventy-four revolutionary soldiers and seven hundred and thirty-eight widows of revolutionary soldiers have died during the year. Total number of deaths of all classes of pensioners, 1431.

Hon. Samuel F. Headley.

The numerous friends of the Hon. S. F. Headley, formerly a citizen of Columbia county, and a State Senator in the Legislature of Pennsylvania, but now a resident of New Jersey, will learn with satisfaction, by the subjoined paragraph from the Newark Daily Mercury, that he has recently been promoted to the important post of Assistant President of the Great Erie Rail Road, a position for which he is admirably adapted and well qualified.

A GOOD SELECTION.—In the temporary absence of Charles Moran, Esq., in Europe, on business connected with the financial affairs of the Erie Railroad, the Directors have appointed Col. S. F. HEADLEY, of the Morris & Essex Railroad, Assistant President, who will fill Mr. Moran's place in the management of that great enterprise. Numerous are the difficulties which surround the control of the Erie road, and various are the demands which it makes upon executive ability, we feel satisfied that Col. Headley will prove himself equal to them. He will it is understood, enter immediately upon his duties, without, however, relinquishing his permanent connection with the Morris & Essex Road.

THE INAUGURATION PARADE.—Maj. General William H. Keim, to whom has been assigned the command of the Military forces at the approaching inauguration of Governor Packer, has issued the following Order:

HEAD QUARTERS, 5TH DIV., P. V., Reading, Dec. 26, 1857.—To the Volunteers of Pennsylvania, Fellow Soldiers:—I, The Major General of the 5th division, Penna. Volunteers, having accepted the command, tendered to him, of the military who will participate at the inauguration of the Governor elect, on Tuesday, the 19th of January, 1858, a cordial invitation is extended to the Volunteers of the State to unite and assist at the interesting ceremony, which a large and brilliant military display will render doubly imposing. If all companies, battalions, regiments and brigades, will report to Brig. Gen. E. C. Williams, Harrisburg, who will furnish all necessary information, and render such assistance as they may require. III. The details of the parade will be the subject of future orders.

WILLIAM H. KEIM, Maj. Gen. 5th Div., P. V., Officer Com. Maj. SAMUEL L. YOUNG, Maj. A. JORDAN SWARTZ, Aids.

Fortifications and Defences.

The total proposed expenditures under the direction of the war department, for fortifications and other works of defence, is $1,932,000. The following shows the amounts that will be required at different stations:—

Table with 2 columns: Station Name and Amount. Includes Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk, Pensacola, and Mars Island.

Our Distant Subscribers.

We have quite a number of subscribers scattered over the States of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Texas, to whom we weekly mail our paper. Some of these are among our most prompt and true paying subscribers, whilst we regret to say that from a number of them we have never received a single dollar! We trust it is not out of place to remind them of their duty in the premises. We need money, and need it very badly, too; and if our western subscribers who owe for one, two, three, four and more years would come to the rescue they would materially aid and greatly oblige us. The amount due from each is trifling in itself, yet in the aggregate it amounts to a considerable "pile." All monies forwarded to us, in registered letters, is at our risk. Please remit.

From Africa.

CAPTURE OF SLAVES, Norfolk, Dec. 21.—The bark Wm. G. Lewis, 35 days from the coast of Africa, arrived here today. She was captured as a slaver in the Congo river, by a boat expedition, commanded by the Lieuts. Walker and Cummings, from the U. S. sloop-of-war Dale. The brig Windward, supposed to be a slaver, was also captured, and will probably arrive in a few days.

The British steamer Eleonor, had seized the bark Clara B. Williams and an American schooner about the same time.

Many slaves are reported to be on the African coast; 12 had been captured after the arrival of the Dale there. She was to leave soon for St. Helena. Her officers and crew were all well.

Murder in Luzerne.

GEORGE MATTHIAS, an old man of some 60 years, residing at the "Seven Mile Tavern," in Luzerne county, was murdered last week, by one William Muller. His body was thrown into the well, under sixteen feet of water, held down by stones suspended to a chain. As Mr. Matthias had little, or no money, the cause of this foul murder has not been fully discovered.

Cheap Book Binding.

Mr. CHARLES J. STAHL, as all our citizens ought to know, has opened a Binding in Bloomsburg. This establishment is in the white frame building of Mr. Strubbers, opposite the Post Office, up stairs and immediately over Kleine's Boot and Shoe Store. Mr. Stahl, is a first-rate workman,—honest, industrious, accommodating—and we sincerely hope our citizens will extend him the liberal patronage he so richly merits.

Hon. J. Glancy Jones.

We are gratified to observe, that our estimable friend, Congressman JONES, of Berks, has been appointed Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. This is an admirable selection. No man in Congress, than Col. JONES, we opine, is better adapted for the leadership of the National Administration.

Domestic Newspaper Agency.

E. W. CONKLING, Esq., of Danville, will be seen by his card in our columns elsewhere, has opened a newspaper and magazine agency office in Bloomsburg.—Mrs. CAROLINE CLARK, will act as his agent, at her Book Store in the Exchange. Mr. Conkling is a correct business-man,—agreeable and honorable in his department—and deserving of liberal patronage.

Hover's Ink & Liquid Hair Dye.

We call attention, again, to the Card of Mr. Hover's Liquid Hair Dye. It has been long tried and its character is well established. Merchants visiting the City who are in want of either writing Ink or Hair Dye, would do well to call on Joseph E. Hover, No. 416, Race above Fourth Street.

The New York Ledger, the great Family Paper, has now attained the extraordinary circulation of Three Hundred and Thirty Thousand Copies. The Prospectus of The Ledger, which contains all necessary information in regard to it, will be found in our advertising columns.

THE NORMAN CAPITOL.—Great Salt Lake City is laid out on a magnificent scale. It is four miles in length, by three in breadth; the streets running at right angles, and 134 feet wide, with walks 20 feet in width. Each building lot contains an acre and a quarter of land; and a stream of pure water running through the city is made, by an ingenious plan, to flow on each side of every street, and to irrigate every lot.

The Revival of the Slave Trade.—The minority of the Committee of the House of Representatives of South Carolina on so much of the Governor's message as proposed a revival of the slave trade, says the Reading Gazette, have presented a report condemning the revival of such a trade as injurious to the best interests of South Carolina.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE FINANCES.—The following is the aggregate of the receipts and expenditures of the State Treasury from the 1st day of December, 1856, to the 30th day of November, 1857, both days inclusive—

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Includes Receipts of the year, Expenditure of the year, and Balance in Treasury.
