BATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1860.

Each and all the Editors in Blooms - Convention : burg, with a large proportion of other citizens, move this Spring.

NEW S PRING GOODS just received at Hartman's Store. These gentlemen are very energetic and always first in Market. Ladies, give them an early call.

Ecrata.-WILLIAM LINDEN, who was injured some two weeks ago, by William Slaug'bach, we are happy to learn, is not dead, as was then announced in the Columbia Dem ocrat.

LOOK OUT .- Summer is coming, and th e diseaseladen dog-days are not so far off as not to admonish us of the necessity of preserving our premises in a clean and healthy condit ion.

The Boating business has fairly commenced, and we should infer, from every visible indication, promises to be a season of brisk activity and increased operations on the Canals.

Hotel Changes .- Wm. B. Koons, takes the Bloomsburg Exchange; Daniel Rein-· bold,takes Dyer's Hotel, Cattawissa; Aaron Andreas, the lower Mainville Hotel, and Isane Fahringer, the New Media Hotel.

MARNING TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—The Montour American, relates how the family of Mr. Hunt, residing in Danville, were suddenly and mysteriously taken ill from cating. It states that the cause was ase rtained to be in a jar of pickles—the glaging of the jar having become incorporated with the acid to a considerable degree.
Housekeepers have been warned of these dangers very often, but the colums of exchanges bear witness that the warnings are too often disregarded.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 27 .- An umusually large number of strangers are in the city, including many politicians from various quarters of the Union.

Government bonds to the amount of $100,000 were issued to-day by the Government for the benefit of the Wyandotte Indians of Kansas, through the exertions of Judge Williams of that Territory.

Advices from Ruatan to the 11th inst. that the excitement with regard to the transfer of Rustan to Honduras continued unabated. A letter from Vera Cruz to the Picayune states that Miramon, on the way down from the Capital, imposed a loan of $100,000 on those of Jalapa, and what is more, got the money.

The engine is a total wreck-blown into hundreds of pieces. One piece of the boiler, weighing over a half ton, was thrown a distance of a quarter of a mile. The bell was found in a grave-yard still further off. It is a miracle that no lives were lost, as, besides those on the train, there were eight or ten persons standing near the engine at the time of the explosion.
