Our County Fair.

We are most happily able to say, notwithstanding predictions to the contrary, that the late Columbia County Agricultural Fair, was a complete success in all its various departments. The Live Stock on exhibition, the variety of vegetables, the home products, the articles of industry, mechanism, implements and machinery, articles of agriculture, ladies' handiwork, artistic products, etc., were very respectable and exceeded in quality and quantity, those ever before exhibited at any County Fair in the interior of the State. So also, was the attendance of citizens and strangers during the Fair.

The Ladies of Columbia County, performed a noble part, in making this "the Fair of Fairs." The list of "Ladies' Work and Flowers" was unusually large and most varied in all the essentials of ingenuity and fine arts—and justly received the commendation of all admirers of taste and beauty. The Committee to award Premiums and Diplomas, on that important class of home products—of which the writer of this article had the honor to be Chairman—believe that they exacted equal justice to the best of their ability and with entire impartiality, and yet they feel conscious that in the examination of such a host of articles of equal merit, it was impossible to make such awards as would satisfy the general expectation.

Another important feature in our County Fair, which is deserving of honorable notice, was the attendance of a numerous and highly respectable Delegation of some fifty gentlemen from Luzerne County—headed by Col. CHAS. DORRANCE, President of the Luzerne Agricultural Society—who marched to the Fair Grounds in a body, and were escorted into the Exhibition by the Officers of our Society and the Bloomsburg Cornet Band. There were also a great number of elegant Horses on exhibition. Mr. KOONS sine Morgan greys took the first Premium. Mr. CURVIS B. McHENRY's beautiful blooded Black Colts, took the second Premium; and we have no doubt, were they of necessity, they would have come off "sweepstakes." Mr. McHENRY, is the fortunate possessor, of what will be, in about another year or two, the finest, handiest, and most valuable span of Match Carriage Horses in the County of Columbia.

The Bloomsburg Book Store.

We see that the new Proprietor of the Book Store, at this place, is enlarging the business and is preparing to keep a sufficient supply of Literary, Miscellaneous and School Books, Wall Paper, Envelopes, Cards and Stationery of all kinds on hand to meet the wants of the public. He has likewise arranged to supply the leading Daily and Weekly papers of Philadelphia and New York, as well as the Magazines. We would recommend all wishing anything in this line to go to the Bloomsburg Book Store.

SWINDLING THEIR FRIENDS.—Forney & Co., at Philadelphia, Lauman & Co., at Reading, and Haldeman & Co., at Harrisburg; firms doing a heavy business in the straight-out trade, are said to have won an immense amount on Curtis's election. A great deal of it was won off the honest portion of the Doug as men, who did not suspect the treachery of their leaders and therefore staked their money on Foster.

ONE JAS. T. MARSHALL, Practical Chemist, who professes to have a Drug Store, No. 23, City Buildings, New York, and publishes a "Card to Young Ladies and Gentlemen," is a humbug, cheat and impostor. Beware of the swindler of the Press. Pass the scoundrel roughly around the newspaper world!

The Democratic State Executive Committee.

We publish below the proceedings of the Democratic State Executive Committee, which met at Reading on Friday last. It will be perceived that, almost with entire unanimity, they have rescinded the action of the 2d of July, at Philadelphia, and of the 9th of August, at Cresson, and determined to stand by the Reading Electoral Ticket, pure and intact, without any conditions or qualifications. This was the very best thing the Committee could do, and every true Democrat should feel in duty bound to support the ticket. The Committee, at their former meetings, in their anxiety to keep the party together and secure the election of Gen. Foster, offered concessions and compromises, which were only offered to be refused by a few noisy and disorganizing spirits, principally at Harrisburg and Philadelphia, who appear determined to rule or ruin the party. The question is now a simple one. Stripped of all compromises and contingencies, the Democracy of the State are called upon to vote the Reading Electoral Ticket just as the State Convention left it. Those who do not vote it are, of course, against regular nominations.

A meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee was held to-day, at the Democratic Club Room, in this city. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, Mr. WM. H. WELSH, at eleven o'clock.

Upon the calling of the roll, the following members answered to their names: Stephen D. Anderson, J. Henry Askin, Vincent L. Bradford, Hugh Barr, James P. Barr, W. H. Blair, Reuben F. Brown, H. B. Barnham, Charles W. Carrigan, James C. Clark, Jno. W. Clark, John Cummings, Alfred Day, Henry L. Dieffenbach, C. M. Donovan, Henry Dunlap, Peter Ent, J. Lawrence Getz, A. Hiestand Glatz, Joseph Glehn, H. Hutchinson, Robert L. Johnston, Isaac Leach, F. A. Guernsey, John Hamilton, Jr., J. H. Hobart, Charles H. Hunter, F. M. P. Magede, Robert Mc Clay, Thomas C. McDowell, O. H. Meyers, Howard L. Miller, William H. Miller, Robert E. Monaghan, H. H. Muhlenberg, Joseph W. Parker, R. Bruce Petrick, Bernard Reiley, Stokes L. Roberts, Nelson Weiser, and William H. Welsh, President.

Upon the Chairman announcing that the Committee was ready to proceed to business. Capt. Alfred Day offered the following resolution: Resolved, That this Committee do hereby rescind its action at Philadelphia on the 2d of July, and at Cresson on the 9th of August last, and that we recommend to the Democratic party of Pennsylvania to stand by the Electoral ticket made by the Democratic State Convention at Reading on the 1st of March, 1860.

To which Mr. Isaac Leach offered the following amendment:— WHEREAS, It is the duty of all Union-loving and conservative citizens to unite in such manner as will best prevent the election of the sectional candidates, Lincoln and Hamlin; and as it is believed that there are a majority of voters in the State of Pennsylvania who are opposed to the hostile and aggressive doctrines of the Republican party; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the electoral ticket formed at Reading, on the first day of March last, be submitted to the voters of Pennsylvania for the votes of all conservative citizens opposed to the election of Lincoln and Hamlin, in writing, within ten days from this date, that in the event of his election as an elector, he will cast his vote for President and Vice President in such a manner as the Reading Convention, re-assembled for such purpose on the 20th day of November, may direct, whether it be for Douglas and Johnson, Breckinridge and Lane, or Dell and Everett.

Resolved, That believing that there is a decided majority of the voters of this State hostile to sectionalism, and the election of the sectional candidates Lincoln and Hamlin, we call upon them to forgo past differences, and to unite as the conservative Union and Constitutional party in support of the ticket, here presented.

Resolved, That the place of any one declining to give the required pledge may be filled with one who will give such pledge to the State Central Committee, who shall assemble at this place on October 23d, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. Carrigan offered the following amendment to the amendment: Resolved, That a committee of five from this committee be appointed to meet the committee of the same number, lately appointed from and by the State Committee of the Constitutional Union party, of this State, to confer on the subject of a joint electoral ticket, the determination of said committee of five to be reported to the Democratic State Committee for their acceptance or rejection. The State Committee to assemble at the call of the chairman thereof.

Upon a vote being had both the amendments were lost, and the question recurring upon the original motion, it was adopted with scarcely a dissenting voice. On motion the Committee then adjourned.

JERSEYTOWN CREAM STORE.—Messrs. Miller & Tyerman, of Jerseytown, address their friends and customers in this Columbia Democrat, that they have just received their Fall and Winter New Goods. We are told, that their Stock is large and inviting. Our friends in want of good Goods at fair prices, will do well to make an early call upon Messrs. Miller & Tyerman.

ONE JAS. T. MARSHALL, Practical Chemist, who professes to have a Drug Store, No. 23, City Buildings, New York, and publishes a "Card to Young Ladies and Gentlemen," is a humbug, cheat and impostor. Beware of the swindler of the Press. Pass the scoundrel roughly around the newspaper world!

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Columbia Democrat:— As my name is Little, no potatoes are too small for my notice. Hence, I endeavor to descend upon the useless properties of a nuisance; viz: Palmon John's paper; it being perverted, in his hands, from the true use of a public journal.

Of course, I shall not disgrace your paper, by referring to his blackguard. Aside from that; he says he has no reply to make to my public letter. Of course he has not. Until he purge himself of the four or five distinct falsehoods, published in his paper, to which I called his special attention, he will not be qualified, to reply, nor to discuss any question with any person. They were all falsehoods, on matters of public notoriety, mentioned, as mere specimens of his falsifications. That he might have no excuse, they were specifically pointed out. This was an issue of his own raising, when he boasted that he despised lying. It is the first issue to be settled. In vain, will he try to crawl out of it; or expect to frighten me from it, by filling his columns with manufactured communications, slang and blackguard. Should he succeed in clearing up his character in this respect, he will then be partially qualified to discuss the hypothesis, that he esteems negroes as better than foreigners; which is evidenced by his paper, where he classes Irishmen with paupers and by his previous conduct. I say partially qualified, for in the interim, I will call his particular attention, to such other of his published falsehoods, on matters of equally public notoriety, as I happen to remember. But one thing at a time. He, of course, can never get over these. Considering the man; it is no wonder that exposure causes him thus to writhe; blackguard, fret and fume; with all the malignity of a copperhead, and the spiteful insubidity of an inferior serpent.

Another feature of his paper, equally nauseous, is his continuous attempts to puff his diminutive mental and moral proportions into importance. Boasting, that he, has been on the stump! That he, has endeavored to conduct the canvass fairly in his paper! That he despises lying! &c. And whenever he has occasion to speak favorably, of the performances of others, it is always with some qualification, implying a sly boast, or compliment of himself. I once became familiar, with many of his fraternity; but never with but one like him. That person's object, in starting his paper, was to puff himself into Congress. A part of his programme, was to insinuate some sly boast, or compliment of himself, into every article he wrote, if it could in anywise be twisted in; just after the manner of Palmon John. His character sunk, however; until he is beneath contempt. If Palmon John, dislike the further exposure of his paper, let him crawl back into his small shell; and cease to be a nuisance, by naming them in that profane sheet; until he shall again enjoy that peaceful obscurity, for which he is so peculiarly qualified.

E. H. LITTLE, October 19th 1860.

SUFFERINGS OF THE PEOPLE OF KANSAS.—Threatened Starvation.—All announcements in the statement that the people of Kansas, in consequence of the failure of the crops are on the point of suffering for want of the actual necessities of life. Thaddeus Hyatt, in his letter to the President asking the postponement of the sale of government lands in that Territory, says: Thousands of once thrifty and prosperous American citizens are now perishing of want. Winter is upon them; or clothing they are nearly bereft; food they have not to last them through the cold season that is approaching. Of over a hundred thousand people upon Kansas soil six months ago, at least one-fourth or one-third have left; of the remainder it is safe to say that forty thousand at this moment see nothing but exodus or starvation at the end of the thirty days now just before them; from ten to twenty thousand look with only despairing eyes upon November; thousands cannot subsist a month longer unaided; other thousands are living upon the little which their neighbors do give themselves of to give to them—neighbors equally unfortunate, and with whom the starvation is merely a question of but a few days longer; while still other thousands, if not at once relieved, must perish from hunger, or the diseases that follow in its train. Some have already died, others are daily dying; while the hours grow darker, and the days wax longer, for the living to whom relief comes not, and whose eyes are aching with watchings for the savior that delays.

From Europe.— ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 23.—The news is three days later than was furnished by the steamship Arabia, and confirms the report of Garibaldi's great victory. The battle was fought at Volturno. The details of the fight describe it as a protracted and bloody struggle. The Neapolitan forces were driven back in disorder to Capua. Their losses are estimated at 3,000 killed, besides 3,000 who were taken prisoners. The loss on Garibaldi's side was estimated at from 1,200 to 2,000. There had been no military movements reported since this battle, and the affairs of the Papal States are unchanged.

ADDRESS OF THE Democratic State Executive Committee.

To the Democracy of Pennsylvania:— The Democratic State Committee deems it a duty, once more to address you, before the final vote for President of the United States. It is enabled to do so now, with a consciousness that, every sacrifice of private feeling having been made, the Democratic party is once more united in the support of the regularly nominated Electoral Ticket, which, in its aggregate, represents the public sentiment of Pennsylvania, adverse to sectionalism, and faithful to the Union and the Constitution.

The object of the State Committee now is, to invoke for that ticket a zealous and active support. Such a support, given in every county of the State, may reverse the defeat at the State election, and, even if it does not, will save the Democratic party from that disintegration, which an apparent abandonment of its flag would seem to threaten, and which our ancient enemies so much desire. If the Democracy in Pennsylvania can be demoralized and broken to pieces, the permanent success of the mercenary crowd now forming the People's or Republican party, will be secured, and the State, which is more substantially Democratic than any one in the Union, be handed over for a series of years, to the control of those whose policy is alien to its true interests—the policy against which the Democracy party has so long and so resolutely contended.

A thorough organization and full vote of the Democracy at the Presidential election, is important for other reasons. Intoxicated by one victory, won mainly through the unhappy differences of the Democracy—sure, without effort, of another in November—the leaders of the Republican party are meditating an extensive export of Pennsylvania voters into the neighboring States, especially in New Jersey and Delaware, where the contest is very close. Not contented, as they think, here, they will be very serviceable there. Let this front be frustrated, if possible, by such activity on our part, as will compel our adversaries to remain at home. It may be, should the attempt at exporting be persisted in, that Pennsylvania now can be redeemed.

But there is a lighter and stronger motive to action. Every Democratic vote cast in November—every vote, indeed, against the Republican ticket—is a vote for the Constitution, the Union, and for the rights and property and safety of our Southern brethren, and swells the great conservative body, which, whether it be at the time a majority or minority, now stands as the only barrier to sectionalism and anarchy. Should Mr. Lincoln be elected, and his administration prove, as we fear it will, to be animated by the aggressive spirit of anti-slavery fanaticism, and threaten still more the well ascertained rights of any portion of the Union, the Democratic party of Pennsylvania will be the great constituent of the constitutional opposition, which must check and control the Executive. It is all important that the elements of such an opposition should develop themselves at the polls now. Such a demonstration of Northern Democratic sentiment, even if it should not insure victory, may ultimately save the Union, by showing to the South how many true friends they have in the North, and especially in those Middle States, which are the tract and most loyal to the Constitution. Let it be remembered that when, in 1854, the storm of kindred fanaticism broke upon Pennsylvania, the Know-Nothing candidate was elected Governor by an overwhelming majority; and yet, in less than two years, fanaticism died out as suddenly as it arose, and the Democratic party, true to its principles—faithful, even in disaster, to its standards—resumed its influence and predominance in the State. So will it be now. All depends on activity, on energy, on honorable and unambiguous forgetfulness of past differences. Let any one who hints at their revival, who seeks to excite again any unkind feeling among Democrats, be marked as an enemy to his country and to his party. Let the County Committees take immediate measures to secure a full vote of the Democratic party, even in districts where local success is impracticable; for, remember that, in November, every vote counts in the great result, and that every Democrat who stops at home, expresses his despair of the Republic, and practically votes with the enemies of the Union and the Constitution.

WILLIAM H. WELSH, Chairman. Democratic State Executive Committee Rooms, Philadelphia, October 23, 1860.

SENATORS ELECTED IN OREGON.—If the biograph can be relied on, we learn that the Douglas men in Oregon are not unlike a number of the Douglas men in this part of the country. It will be seen that by a coalition with the Black Republicans they have succeeded in returning to the United States Senate a Douglas man and a Black Republican.
