John G. Freeze, Editor

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 1881.

To-morrow is the Fifth Sunday in Lent. It is also Saint Patrick's day.

The revolt in Milan occurred 19 March 1848.

On this day, 20th March the Sun enters the constellation Aries, and spring begins.

Franklin received at Paris, 21 March 1778.

The King of Bavaria abdicated March 23-1848.

Capt. John Smith sailed for America on the 23 March 1614.

There is a present prospect of very considerable building and improvement, in and about the town of Bloomsburg, during the season just opening.

Mr. Jacob Diehl left our town a few days ago, bound for New York and a market, with a lot of the best and finest horses which we have seen him take out of this place for several years.

We are glad to inform our readers, that they need be under no apprehension as to the ultimate location of the Depot of the Lackawanna & Bloomsburg Rail Road.

We had a very fine display of the Aurora Borealis, on Saturday night last. What can be more magnificent—What is more mysterious than those shifting lights?

We have no doubt that the little book lately published by Fowler & Wells, No. 308, Broadway, New York, would be invaluable to many people.

It would be well for our people to recollect that the Locomotive of the Catawissa Rail Road does not run above the lower station at Milton.

On Friday night March 8th a tremendous wind storm passed over our town. Towards morning that abated, and the clouds it had brought, discharged themselves in a copious rain.

The Democratic Reading room is coming to be a place of very general resort. It is open every evening, and rendered in every respect comfortable.

The citizens of Bloomsburg generally, and of the country, are cordially invited to spend an hour in the town whenever convenient.

Several of the buildings are quite new, as the German Reformed, Baptist, Lutheran & Methodist; and all large and handsome edifices.
