COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

Local and Special,

John G. Freeze, Editor

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1861.

☞ To morrow is the Fourth Sunday after Easter.

Sir Isaac Newton born April 29, 1642 2. O S.

George Washington inaugurated the first President of the United States April 30, 1789.

The first day of May is sacred to the memory of St. Philip, St. James, and St. Tammany.

May 2 1785 great fire at Dockhead.

May 3 1814 Napoleon Bonaparte arrived at Elba.

The battle of Tewkesbury was fought May 4, 1471.

—:o:—

☞ Mr. Mensch is Notary Public under Gov. Curtin, Eh! Very well, very well.

—:o:—

☞ The weather now is gloriously beautiful. Should the fruit not be already all killed, the crops are very likely to be abundant.

—:o:—

☞ A tremendous storm passed over us on Wednesday last—Wind, rain, thunder and lightning. It made the grass spring.

—:o:—

☞ The Bloomsburg Local Senate elected as its delegates to the Literary convention, to meet at Danville, in pursuance of the adjournment: E. B. Yordy, C. B. Brockway, P. S. Rishel, C. W. Miller and J. G. Freeze.

—:o:—

☞ We understand that Dr. Ramsay brother Wirt and several others, who joined the Volunteers as far as Rupert Station, deserted at that point, and made a forced march back to Bloomsburg — Their campaign will be a memorable one, short but decisive.

—:o:—

☞ Crosby, Nichols, Lee, & Co. No 117 Washington Street, Boston, publish the best and fullest edition of the fifth volume of Macaulay's History. It is got up in different styles, expressly to match the editions published by Phillips, Sampson, & Co. who quit business under a pressure some time ago. So you can easily match your volumes.

—:o:—

☞ Dr. P. John has been appointed Post Master at Bloomsburg. We have no doubt the Dr. will make an attentive and accommodating officer. If he had not announced the appointment with such an air of self-sufficiency, it would have looked more modest. However we sincerely tender our congratulations, and shall try to turn him out at the first convenient opportunity.

—:o:—

☞ Our Streets have presented a most martial appearance for more than a week. The rolling drum and the ear piercing fife, the "forward march" and "eyes right, and dress" have greeted us from the hour of reveille, to midnight. Capt. Ricketts has put his new recruits upon their mettle, and they have endured the work most astonishingly. The drilling does great credit to all concerned.

—:o:—

☞ We are requested by the treasurer, to earnestly urge the collectors of Militia taxes to settle their Militia duplicates by the May Court, as well as their county and other taxes.

John A. Funston Esq. the present efficient treasurer, has already given to Capt. Melick his personal check, for the amount of money uncollected in your hands; and it is of the utmost importance that the people come promptly to the work, and relieve him of the great responsibility incurred by him, to enable the volunteers from this county to arm and equip themselves properly.

Great credit is due to Mr. Funston for his prompt and patriotic action, and it is hoped that the tax-payers will do their duty in relieving him.

—:o:—

☞ As every patriotic citizen has, or is about to display the glorious ensign of our nationality, and as we have noticed a large number that are entirely wrong, a few remarks in explanation would no doubt be acceptable to many about making flags.—The American flag properly should consist of thirteen stripes, seven red and six white, one for each of the original States. The flag should be one-half longer than wide, no matter what should be its size. The blue or Union should cover seven stripes—starting with and ending with a red stripe—should be one third longer than wide, and contain one star for each State in the Union (thirty-four)

In a number of flags recently made, the blue only covers five and six stripes. Now a flag of thirteen stripes, and the Union covering six stripes, would be entirely wrong, as it would not be red, white and blue, but white, red and blue, or blue, red and white. Again, by making the flag right, thirteen stripes, and the Union covering the stripes, one-third longer than wide, would save some time in making, besides being a correct copy of the American flag as adopted by Congress.

By ROBT. J. CULVERWELL, M. D.,
Author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicine and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

THE LADY OF THE ISLE,
By MRS. SOUTHWORTH.

Complete in one large volume, neatly bound in cloth for $1 25; or two volumes, paper cover, for $1 00

The publishers take great pleasure in being able to present to the American public, another new work by Mrs. Southworth. She is excelled by no living female writer. Whoever reads the first page, is sure to be carried on to the last. Her style is free from insipidity on one hand, and bombast on the other; and though we meet with for-fetch, we are never startled with inflated language. Her characters are rarely under, but never overdrawn. Her scenes are life pictures, drawn from incidents founded on facts, and her sentiments are characterized by a singular purity both of conception and expression. She has the rare faculty of saying what she means, and of saying it in such a manner as that her meaning cannot be misinterpreted. In short, she possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which are the peculiar prerogatives of a good writer; while she delights the reader's imagination with her descriptive beauty, she applies home truths to his understanding with the force of rational conviction. The "Lady of the Isle" will be pronounced by all those who examine it to be her best work. This is sufficient to commend it to the perusal, and we anticipate for it an unwanted popularity.

For sale by all Booksellers and News Agents all over the United States.

Copies of either edition of the above work will be sent to any person to any part of the United States, free of postage, on their remitting the price of the edition they may wish, to the publisher, in a letter. Address all orders to receive immediate attention, to

MEMOIRS OF VIDOCQ,
THE
PRINCIPAL AGENT OF THE FRENCH POLICE.
Written by Himself.

And Translated from the Original French, Expressly for this Edition, with Illustrative Engravings, from Original designs by Cruikshank.

It is published complete in one large duodecimo volume of near Six Hundred Pages, done up in two volumes paper cover, price $1 00; or handsomely bound in one volume, cloth price, $1 25.

As a piece of Autobiography, the present work has many singular characteries, which stamp it at once as one of the most interesting and powerful narrative ever penned. Replete with astonishing incident and instructive moral, it affords for the lovers of romance all that the wildest taste could desire of hair-breadth escapes, imminent dangers, thrilling horrors, and powerful description. For the amateurs of fun, there are sketches as comic as humor can devise; and for the reflective reader, who, not content with the mere detail of events, searches into the motives and philosophizes on the wit or weakness, power or puerility of the human mind, herein will be found ample scope for his most meditative musings. To those who may assert their disbelief of the personal deeds and perils of Vidocq, we suggest this plain fact—none of them have ever been contradicted; and yet many of the persons whom he has handled with severity, and spoken of in no very measured terms are still living, and would, doubtless, be too happy to refute the charges alleged, did not truth forbid denial.—Of his wonderful and multiplied escapes and adventures, we are equally assured; as no man in his senses would give fictitious descriptions of what could be easily disproved, if false. It is the most wonderful book ever printed, and should be read by all.

Copies of either edition of this work will be sent to any person to any part of the United States, free of postage, on any one remitting the price to the publishers, in a letter.
