ARTICLE 1.—Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridge the Freedom of Speech, or of the Freez; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a relices of givenness.—Constitution of the Devild States.

ARTICLE 9.—That the printing presses shall be free to every person who undertakes to examine the proceedings of the begishiture, or any branch of government; and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free tommunication of thoughts and opinions, is one of the invaluable rights of man; and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject; heing responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for the prolication of papers investigating the official candisct of effects, or mean public capacity, or where the matter published is proper for public information, the trath thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictancies for them, the proper for public for and in all indictancies for the proper for public difference on the court, as in other cases.—Constitution of Penasylemaia.

PERSONAL.

We need money hadly, and it will be a very great re lief to usif our friends and patrons will farmish us with a little of the "needful" without delay. If they cannot pay all, let them at least give us a part of that to which we are justly entitled, in order to relieve us from our embarrassments. We think we have been very industried, and therefore hope to meet with a ready response to what we conceive to be a reasonable request. We shall be propared to receive our friends at the office, and furne prepared to receive our friends at the office, and fur-nish them promptly with receipts for whatever amounts they may desire. Persons at a distance, and those re-siding out of the county, can remit by mail at our risk. Come, friends, give us a lift without longer delay, as we must have money to keep the old Coursmia Democray

Instead of seeing rags and filth, a desolate country and blighted erops, they saw a prosperous population, palatial residences, a beautiful country and well cultivated fields. Were it not that they have read it, or heard so, not one of them would know that we have passed through a slave State, and are encamped in slave territory now. We reached Baltimore about 7 o'clock and were obliged to wait there several hours for our officers, who were unavoidably detained in another train. We were well taken care of and kindly treated by the people where our company stoppped As soon as our officers arrived, we marched through Baltimore without any means of defence except those provided by nature. The only secession sentiments we heard were those uttered by a few children; while on the contrary, flags and handkerchiefs "Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam were waved from countless windows. There was but the one room, to the end of which both tubs are attached for the convenience of soldiers for whose benefit the building appears to have been erected. We did not move from our quarters till Thursday afternoon, when the whole column moved by sections through the streets of Washington to our quarters below the city. As horses have not yet been furnished us, we were compelled to drag the pieces by hand through the streets, which, on account of the dust and heat, was exceedingly wearisome. DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

For Peace, the Union and the Constitution. Pursuant to public notice, a Democratic Mass Meeting was held, on Friday last, the 9th of August, at the Public House of John J. STILES, in Benton township, Columbia County. It was indeed a great meeting of the independent freemen of the countrynumbering from 2,500 to 3,000 people-and was animated by the spirit of the Revolutionary Patriots, in the representatives of their sons and decendants. The veterans of '76, and the young men of the present day, met upon the same platform, shoulder to shoulder, for the purpose of asserting their rights, giving expressions to their thoughts and maintaining all their just prerogatives under the Constitution.

Several hundred ladies,-patriotic, demoeratic tadies, too, God bless them .- were it attendance. So, also, was Capt. Millard's "Home Guards," in full uniform, with flags waving and droms beating. Their presence created general joy in the camp.

The meeting organized in the grove, be low the Fishingereek bridge, at one o'clock, p. m, by the selection of the following offi-

The Committee on Resolutions, through the chairman, Mr. H. R. Kline, reported the following, which was adopted by acclaim

WHEREAS, In view of the overwhelming evils of the present war, endangering the Union of the States, threatening run and bankruptcy to the happiest and most pros-perous country on the earth, therefore

Revolved, As expressive of the sense of this meeting that the Constitution as it is written, is our only sheet-anchor of safety Resolved, That loyalty to the Union is only comparible with strict fidelity to the Constivisions of the latter, even under the hypocritical pretence of preserving the former, are enemies to be confronted and resisted.

Resolved. That we have no confidence in the good faith and efficiency of many of the present self-constituted par excellent savers who have heretofore acted in such a fanatical and sectional manner as to destroy confidence in the different sections, engender strile, hatred and ill will between the people and States, and who are now denouncing every person who does not join in the hue and cry, in favor of the present administration's war policy, and bow down at the shrine of the Chicago Piatform, as traitors to their country; such men are not safe lights to follow for the purpose of restoring peace and harmony to our distracted but once glorious and happy country.

Resolved, The the cost already incurred in the prosecution of this war, imposes a bur-den upon the people hard to bear; and the increase proposed most prove so fearfully distressing to every vital and laboring inter est of our country that a century of prosperity will not crase it. Poverty already stares us in the face, and atter ruin and starvation must be the final destiny of the great mass of our people.

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the disposition and ability of our people, to make a complete and satisfactory settlement of all difficulties, if they are coolly and dispassionately consulted, and their representatives guided by their counsel.

Resolved, That we will vote for no man for any national, State, or county office, who is unwilling to negotiate for peace. Resolved, That the thanks of the Democracy of Columbia county are tendered to the speakers for their very able, national and patriotic addresses so attentively listen-Resolved, That these resolutions be published in all the Democratic papers of the District. Mr. McHenry, the venerable President, ing adjourned.

SIGNED BY THE OFFICERS.

These are some of the christian principles taught by our Saviour in this sermon; and these were the teachings of peace and justice which Mr. Vallandigham honestly desired to inculcate into the hearts of the people, who have reveled in blood already at the Court House, in Hoomsburg Converges in the contrast; one a Court House, in Hoomsburg Converges in the contrast; one and converges in the contrast of the contrast in Court House, in Hoomsburg Converges in the contrast; one and converges in the contrast in the contra justice which Mr. Vallandigham honestly bloodthirsty warrior, intent upon destroying the law; the other a follower after peace and humanity, intent "not to destroy but to fulfill" the law, and whose greatest M. AN ABOLITION THREAT .-- We have had the subjoined letter in our possession for the last three weeks, and refrained for publishing it, and the hope that the cowardly scoundrel who penned it-and he is known-would attempt to put his threat into execution; for noting would afford us more gratification than to have the pleasure of knocking the scurvy fellow's teeth down his throat. The letter was written and endorsed in this city, mailed to Philadelphia under cover to the Postmaster there, and re-mailed to this place on the next day when we received it in the Post Office.
