COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

John G. Freeze, Local Editor

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12, 1861.

☞ To-morrow is the twentieth Sunday after Trinity.

Gen. Burgoyne surrendered October 14, 1777.

Sir Walter Scott born October 15, 1769.

Exhibition of Harvard College, 16 October, 1704.

Battle of Saratoga fought 17 October, 1777.

Saint Luke the Evangelist's Day.

Lord Cornwallis surrendered October October 19, 1781.

———:o:———

☞ New York has 214 churches, Philadelphia 246, Baltimore 99, Boston 94, Cincinnati 73, Chicago 67.

———:o:———

☞ It turns out that the Democratic Ticket is after all, the true union ticket; the people having with great unanimity united in its support.

———:o:———

☞ We have never known chestnuts, and indeed all the other fruits of the woods, so abundant as they are this season. It is to be hoped that the boys will attend to the gathering of them.

———:o:———

☞ At a meeting of the vestry of Christ Church, Reading, held at the Church on Saturday evening, October 5th, the Rev. Alexander G. Cummings, of Philadelphia, was unanimously elected Rector.

———:o:———

☞ How rare that task a prosperous issue finds
Which seeks to reconcile discordant minds
How many scruples rise at passion's touch!
This yields too little and that asks too much;
Each wishes each with other's eyes to see,
And easy sinners can't make two agree,
What mediation, then, on this occasion showed
Who simply recommended us all to God?"

———:o:———

☞ We have the most reliable authority for saying that the Democratic Ticket in Berks county is successful. Hon. Warren J. Woodward's majority for President Judge is nearly 4500—an increase over the Congressional majority of last fall, of about 2,000 votes.

———:o:———

☞ A special session of the Protestant Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania has been called by the Right Reverend Bishop Potter, to meet in St. Andrew's Church, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, the 23d day of October, at 10 A. M. The object is to elect an Assistant Bishop, in the place of the lamented Bishop Bowman.

———:o:———

☞ The Episcopal Church in Alexandria, of which George Washington was one of the Wardens, was opened Sunday afternoon, September 22d, for service—Brigadier-General Montgomery, Colonel Stevens, and others, occupied Washington's pew. The services were read by Rev. Mr. Carver, of the 17th New York, and a sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Camp, of the 4th New Jersey. The choir with an organist, was from among the volunteers.

———:o:———

☞ An article has been going "the rounds" recently, which attributes the clerical custom of wearing black to an imitation of Luther, who had a fondness for that color. A writer in the German Reformed Messenger ridicules this statement, and affirms that the early monks, both of the east and the west were accustomed to wear black as a symbol of repentance, and from them the custom extended to all the clergy, secular as well as regular. Luther, as an Augustinian monk, always wore this color, and after his revolt from Popery, still did the same. The origin of the "clerical black" is therefore to be sought more than a thousand years back of the great Reformer's day.

———:o:———

☞ Fort Lafayette, the place selected by the Government for the safe keeping of its political prisoners, has become quite an important post. Heretofore it has been but little known to the country. There are now about twenty or thirty men confined within its walls.

The fort is built in an insolated position, on a shoal or small island in the narrows, about seven miles below New York and about four hundred yards from the shore. Fort Hamilton is also near it, on the sea shore. The shape of the Fort is quadrangular, with the angles pointing to the sea and bay and either shore, diamond wise. Facing Fort Hamilton are two tiers of heavy cannon, in bomb proof casemates.—On this side, which is less protected than the others, appear to be the barracks for the troops, and other necessary buildings, the roofs of which are seen rising above the walls of the Fort. There are consequently no barbette guns here. This part of the Fort, however, completely commanded by Fort Hamilton opposite which is the sally port in one of the angles.

On the other sides guns are mounted en barbette, in addition to the heavy casemate guns below. In fact, the entire structure, whatever may be said of its capacity as a defence against foreign invasion seems to be more than sufficiently strong to keep in security as many State prisoners as are likely to be put in it. It would sorely puzzle Jack Shephard or Baron Trenck themselves, were these worthies alive, and confined in Fort Lafayette, to make their way out of that stronghold, surrounded as they would be by granite walls, with the sea washing their base on every side.

Pleasant township this county, on the 6th inst., PERSEVIA ANN, in the 6th year of her age—on the 7th WILLIAM ARTHUR, in the 4th year of his age—on the same day, SARAH ALVARETTA, in the 11th year of her age—and on the 7th, ARAVILLA ALICE, in the 10th year of her age—all children of John T. and Elizabeth Deitzwerk of the above place.

MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, perhaps, no department of military business in which there has been a more marked improvement than in the clothing of soldiers. Not many years since officers and privates were clad in garments which were almost skin-tight. They were leather stocks, which were worthy of the name, for they kept the wearer in tribulation, while their padded breasts and tight sleeves made volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, each of our volunteers so prosaic their uniforms at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above South Philadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm named have gone largely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest order in the shortest possible time.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL
Broadway, New York.

BOARD REDUCED TO $2 PER DAY.

Since the opening of this vast and commodious Hotel, in 1854, it has been the studie endeavor of the proprietors to make it the most complete, convenient and comfortable home for the citizen and stranger on this side the Atlantic.

And whatever has seemed likely to administer to the comfort of its guests they have endeavored, without regard to cost, to provide, and to combine all the elements of individual and social enjoyment which modern art has invented, and modern taste approved; and the patronage which it has commanded during the past six years is a gratifying proof that their efforts have been appreciated.

To meet the exigencies of the times, which all are required to practice the most rigid economy, the undersigned

Have Reduced the Price of Board to Two Dollars per Day,

At the same time abating none of the luxuries wit which their table has hitherto been supplied.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW VOLUME.

On the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty first year of its existence; THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to response and commend to day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or other conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of manufactures peculiarly exposed branches from to powerful foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy.

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, unreasonable than was ever before known—a Rebellion to the interest of the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness, and long-suffering which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our duty early, with that and every other reliance, to stand by the nation and its legally chosen rulers, and to second with all our energies their efforts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws. And, though the Rebellion has become, through suspension, deception, terrorism, and speculation, fearfully strong, we believe the American people stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this great extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American people have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable to an grave and emergency.

In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with the thrilling and more striking incidents. We shall not, however, permit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs to Agricultural Progress, to Crops Markets &c. &c., which has already we trust won for THE MESSENGER an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, perceptible, and that, in the variety and fullness of its contents, which a care ful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, perceptible, and that, in the variety and fullness of its contents, which a care
