Saint Crispian's Day.

William Hogarth died October 26, 1704.

The President has given assurances that no drafting for the army shall be resorted to at the west until all the eastern states have furnished their full quota of the requisition for five hundred thousand men.

Gen. McClellan has ordered our pickets not to fire at the pickets of the enemy—be regarding it as deliberate murder, thus to shoot a single man on guard.

The "Exchange Hotel," under the proprietorship of our friend W. B. Koons, is undergoing various repairs, calculated to increase the conveniences and lighten the comforts of the guests.

We not only rejoice at the success of the whole Democratic ticket in Berks, over the fusion combination, but especially that WARREN J. WOODWARD is elected Judge.

A man of powerful and brilliant intellect, one of the most learned lawyers in the State who has already proved himself foremost amongst our President Judges, and of the most unquestionable integrity, we think there was scarcely a prominent name in the State who did not oppose him.

The Return Judges of the County of Columbia, met according to law on Friday, the 11th inst., and organized and enumerated the number of votes cast in the county; and then adjourned to meet on the second Tuesday of November next.

This was in accordance with the law. Since then the question has been before the judges in Philadelphia and decided. We copy from the Evening Journal.

The following question was yesterday submitted by William L. Hirst, Esq., to the Court of Common Pleas. The Consolidation Act requires the return judges for the election held in the city to meet on the succeeding Thursday, and add up the votes cast: The Act of July, 1893, requires the return judges for the election held in the city to meet on the 24th Tuesday in November.

Question.—Must the Return Judges, who meet on Thursday next, adjourn, without action, until the 24th Tuesday in November, or must they add up the City Returns, and then adjourn until the 24th Tuesday of November to complete the returns.

Judge Ludlow made the following decision:—

Answer.—It appears to be the duty of the Return Judges to meet on Thursday, (this day), and proceed to enumerate the number of votes cast; but as the Act regulating elections by voters requires, by fifth section, that the votes cast by the militia in service shall be included by the Return Judges in their enumeration, they cannot award certificates of election, but must adjourn to the 24th Tuesday in November, and then complete their labors.

In order to secure soundness and preservation, it is indispensably necessary that apples should be gathered by the hand. For winter fruit the gathering is delayed as long as possible, avoiding severe frosts, and the most successful practice with our extensive orchards is to place the good fruit directly in a careful manner, in new, tight four barrels, as soon as gathered from the tree. These barrels should be gently shaken while filling, and the head closely pressed in; they are then placed in a cool shady exposure under a shed open to the air, or on the north side of a building, protected by a covering of boards over the top where they remain for a fortnight, or until the cold becomes too severe, when they are carefully transferred to a cool, dry cellar, in which air can be admitted occasionally in brisk weather.

A cellar for this purpose, should be dug in dry gravelly or sandy soil; with, if possible, a slope to the north, or, at any rate, with opening, on the north side for the admission of air very rarely in weather not excessively cold. Here the barrels should be placed on tiers on their sides, and the cellar should be kept as dark as possible. In such a cellar, one of the largest apple growers in Dutchess county is able to keep the Greening apple, which, in the fruit room usually decays in January until the first of April, in the freshest and finest condition. Some persons place a layer of clean rye straw between every layer of apples, when packing them in barrels.—Detroit.

The Younger Party.

The Town Managers of the Republican party resorted to no small amount of dishonorable tricks to further their selfish schemes.

They flattered themselves that the masses of the Democratic party were ignorant of their doings and would be found willing tools to carry out their private arrangements.

They fabricated a ticket, and endeavored to co-erce our party into voting it, upon which they had by special arrangement placed the names of EMANUEL LAZARUS, WILLIAM SATTER, RICHARD STILES, and JOHN KEIFER, all firmly claiming to be democrats.

These men are quite respectable, personally, but none of them are particularly qualified for the positions for which they were named, and the majority of the men of the mongrel ticket are old office-hunters, who have been boring the public for office for years past.

We do not know any obligations the Republican party were under to vote for them and we question if the Republicans themselves can point out any.

The Town Managers know but they won't tell. They required their party to go to blind, and vote for their political enemies, (Democrats) because it was their will and pleasure to have them do so.

There was a time when this same Republican party had independence enough about it to spurn such side door arrangements, but that day has passed.

The Republicans of this day have become so docile under the lash of the Town Cliche as to be a 'no party,' and vote for Democrats when bid to do the mark.

The wire pullers have certainly found by this time that they have 'brought their pork to a bad market' this season.—Star.

Victory! Victory!

Democrats of Montour! and of this Judicial and Legislative District, we congratulate you on the glorious and overwhelming victory you have achieved.

You have not only elected your whole county ticket by regular old fashioned majorities, redeeming the county from Republican rule, but you have also re-elected your esteemed President Judge, and the two members of the Legislature.

This is no common triumph, for it has been consummated in the teeth of all manner of misrepresentation, calumny slander and abuse, we have been called disunionists, stigmatized as secessionists, denounced as traitors and branded as recreants to our flag.

Our opponents have done all that malicious inventions could do, to weaken the Democratic party in public estimation.

But they have failed,—they have oversteered the mark,—the poisoned weapon has recoiled upon themselves.—An incensed people on Tuesday last, rose in their majesty and taught these Republican tricksters who had for months been hurling their odious slanders upon the Democratic party, that they had been 'weighed in the balance and found wanting'.

The 'sober second thought' of the people has spoken and it has proclaimed in unmistakable language that they still have confidence in the Democracy,—in its principles, and are still willing to entrust power in the hands of its chosen agents.

What more cutting rebuke could our opponents receive. Henceforth let them confine themselves to sowing the seeds of discord, of harmony; let them, if patriotic as they so ardently profess to be, let them join hand in hand with the Democracy in defence of our noble Union.

Let them cease 'giving aid and comfort' to Jeff Davis and his cohort of traitors by representing the Democracy as in favor of disunion. Let them make amends for the mischief they have already done the country by their shameful course. If they do this, then we shall have more confidence in their patriotism.—Democrat Intelligence.
