y question. Kentucky too, for some time in doubt, is now decidedly and I think unchangeably ranged on the side of the Union. Missouri not again be overrun by the insurrectionists. These three States of Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri, neither of which would prom-ise a single soldier at first, have now an aggregate of no tess than forty thousand in the field for the Union, while of their citizens certainly not more than a third of that number, and they of doubtful whereabouts and doubtful existence, are in arms against it. After a somewhat bloody struggle of months, winter closes on the Union people of Western Virginia, leaving them masters of their own country.

An insurgent force of about filteen hundred for months dominating the narrow peninsular region of the counties of Accomed and Northempton, and known as the Eastern shore of Virginia, together with some configuous parts of Maryland, have laid down their arms, and the people there may renewed their allegiance to and accepted the protection of the old flag. This leaves no armed insurrentionists North of the Population of Section Characterists. tomac or East of the Chesepeaks.

Also, we have obtained a footing at each of the isotated points on the southern coast of Hatteras, Port Royal, Tybee Island near Sanannah, and Ship Island, and we likewise have some general accounts of popular movements in behalf of the Union in North Carolina and Tennessee. These things demonstrate that the cause of the Union is advancing steadily southward.

Since your last adjournment, Lieut.-General Scott, has retired from the head of the etal Scott, has retired from the head of the army. During his long life the nation has not been unmerciful of his merit, yet, on calling to mind, how faithfully, ably and brilliantly he has served his country for a time far bank in our history, whon lew of the now living had been born, and thence-forward communally, I cannot but think we are still his debtors. I submit, therefore for your consideration, what further matches your consideration, what further mark of recognition is due to him and to ourselves as a grateful people.

With the retirement of General Scott came the Executive dary of appointing in his ateas a General in-chief of the army. It was a formulae circumstance that neither in councul or country was there, so far as I know any difference of opinion as to the proper person to be selected. The retiring Chief repeatedly expressed his judgement in favor of General McClellan for the position, and in this the nation seemed to give a arantmous concurrence. The designation of General McClellan is, therefore, in a considerable degree the selection of the country as well as of the Executive, and hence there is better reason to hope that there will be given him the confidence and cordul oil or country was there, so far as I know be given him the confidence and cordial be given him the connaence and cordinal support thus, by fair implication, promised and without which he cannot, with so full efficiency, serve the country. It has been said that one bad general is better than two good ones, and the saying is true if taken to mean no more than that our army is better directed by a single mind, though in ferior, than by two superior ones at variance and cross purposes with each other. And the same is true in all joint operations, where in those cogaged can have pune but a com-mon end in view, and can differ only as to the choice of means.

In a storm at sea, no one on board can wish the ship to sink, and yet not unfrequently all go down together, because too many will direct and no single mind can be a lowed to control.

It continues to develop that the insurrection is largely if not exclosively, a war upon the first principles of popular government the rights of the people. Conclusive ex-dance of this is found in the most grave and maturely considered public documents, as well as in the general tone of the ment in these documents we find the acknowlin these documents we unit the EXECUM-signment of the existing right of suffrage, and the denial to the people of all right to participate in the selection of public officers except the Legislative, boddy advocated, with labored arguments to prove that a large control of the people in Government is the source of all political orth.

Sionarchy uself is sometimes hinted at as a possible reluge from the power of the people.

In my present position I could scarcely raising a warnbe justified were I to omit raising a warning voice against this approach of returning despotism. It is not needed nor fitting here that a general argument should be made in layer of popular institutions.

Builthere is one point with its connections, not so hackneyed as most others, to which lask a brief attention. It is the effor to tapital on an outal footing with the not above, labor, in the alrecture of the Government

It is assumed that labor is available only in connection with culture, that debody in-bors unless somebody else owning capital somehow by the use of it, induces him to labor. This assumed, it is next considered whether it is bust that capital shall hite laboters, and thus induce them to work by their own consent, or buy them and drive there to it without their consent.

Having proceeded so fat, it is initurally concluded that all laborers are either hired concinees that an laborers are either hired laborers or what we call slaves. And further, it is assumed that whoever is once a bired laborer is fixed in that condition for life. Now here is no such relation between capital and labor, as assumed, nor is there any such thing as a free man being fixed for life in the condition of a bired laborer. for life in the condition of a hired laborer — Both these assumptions are false, and all interforences from them are groundless. In-bor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could capital is only the rint of moor, and counter have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital, and deserves much the higher consideration — Capital has its rights, which are as worthy of protection as any other rights. Nor is it denied that there is and probably always will be a relation between capital and labor producing mutual benefits. The error is in assuming that the whole labor of the community exists within that relation.

A few men own capitat, and that few avoid labor thomselves, and with their capital hire or bey another few to labor for them. A large majority them. A large majority belong to neither class-neither work for otners nor have others working for them.
In most of the Southern States a majority of the whole people of all coloas are neither to wit slaves nor masters, while in the Northern a large majority are neither hirers nor hired.

Men with their families, wives, sons and daughters, work for themselves on their farms, in their houses, and in their shops, taking the whole product to themselves and asking no favors of capital on the one hand nor of hired laborers or slaves on the other. It is not forgotten that a considerable num-ber of persons mingle their own labor with their capital-that is, they labor with their own hands, and also buy or hire others to labor for them, but this is only a mixed and not a distinct class. No principle stated in disturbed by the existence of this mixed

Again, as has already been said, there is, not of necessity, any such thing as the free hired laborer being fixed to that con-dition for life. Many independent men. averywhere in these States, a few years back in their lives, were hired laborers.

The prudent, peniless beginner in the rid, labors for wages awhile, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for On mone bimself, than labors on his own account talk inst another while and at length hires another new beginner to help him

This is the just and generous and prosper-
