Military Uniforms.—There is, perhaps, no depart ment of military business is which there has been a more marked improvement than in the cicthing of soldiers. Not many years since officers and privates were clading garments which were worthy of the lians, for they kept the wearer in tribulation; while their paided breasts and tight sleeres made volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, such of our yolunters as presure their uniforms at the Brown Stone Closthing that of Rockhill & Wilson, Nes, 603 and 605 Chestant street, above Sixth Aniadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm named have gone lagely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest order in the shortest possible time.
