THE CULTURE OF CHICORY.

We find the following in the Country Gentleman, of the 17th ult., from a correspondent, in reply to the inquiry of another correspondent, upon the cultivation and latest f of Chicory-an article, as a substitute for coffee, at this time being much inquired about. The writer, however, not only gives the mode of cuiture but also the way to prepare it for use.

My experience is confined to raising a few bushels annually in the garden for our own use.

Chicory belongs to the family of Comduces its seeds the second year, yet the Groceries, root is perennial, and even fragments of it live and grow. The root is white, shaped branched with abundant foilage and nu-and used either alone or with other materials, as a substitute for coffee. We import large quantities of it every year, and it is raised to a considerable extent for market by German farmers on Long Island. We were informed by a coffee burner in New York, that one farmer in 1861 raised fifty acres, for which crop when prepared for market he received eight thousand dollars. The price for the dried root in New York, the past year, has been eight cents per pound or even higher.

wheat bran stirred up with molases and browned like the other ingredients. It was pronounced very good, and they were surprised to learn that it contained not a particle of coffee.

The only objection we can find against its culture as a farm crop, is that when once sown it is exceedingly difficulty to get it out of the land, and it becomes a weed. Yet it is exteemed abroad as a forage plant, and is readily eaten by cattle either green or dry. The root is very solid and does not shrink very badly in drying, so that a rod square will furnish an abundant supply for a family for a year.

FLOWING,

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in the one case being too little, and accompanied by severe paid; and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cared by the Coastitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides, and at times accompanied by sharp lacinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, is all cases, be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IR-RITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in infrecases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Gold Feet, Palpitation in the Heart, Impared Memory, Wakefulness, Plashes of Heat Languor, Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision, SUPPRESSED MENSTRUATION.

SUPPRESSED MENSTRUATION. Which in the unmarried female is a constant recurring disease, and through neglect the seeds of more grave and dangerous maladies are the result; and as month after mouth passes without an effort being mose to assist nature, the suppression becomes chronic, the tient gradually looses her appetite, the bowels constiputed, night sweats come on, and consumption finally ends her career.

This disease depends upon an inflanation of nucous lining of the vagina and womb. It is in all cases accompanied by severe pain in the back, across the bowels and through the hips. A teappoinful of the medicine may be taken three times a day, with an injection of a tablespoonful of the medicine, mixed with a half-pint of soft water, morning and evening. FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD. And for the speedy cure of the following complaints

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Binins, and all Skin Diseases.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarssparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and sums; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my hand and covered my scaip and ents with che sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many modicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejected to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarssparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnal and got it, and used it till it cured ms. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspeantial over a month, and used almost three bottles. Now and loadily skin soon began to farm under the scab, which after a while foil off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apenties of the age, and remain ever gratefully.
