A Letter from A Democrat. HYDE PARK, May 17, 1863. COL. L. L. TATE,

Dear Sir :--

Enclosed please find a two dollar bill, the amount of my subscription to your paper. You must excuse me for not sending my bill earlier. I have so many bills of this kind to look after that I sometimes become neglectful. I am taking more Democratic papers than I can well afford but if New Millinery Goods. ever the Democratic Press need sustaining and supporting it is now, when the last remaining vestige of our liberties are being taken from us, by this cruel and wicked Administration. What is going to be our future, Heaven only knows. We can only judge of it by the lights of history. The history of civil wars of Rome, is being repeat d now as it seems to me, and a similar fate, I fear, will be the result .-Our only safety from anarchy is in the triumph of the Democratic Party in the election of Govenor next fall and with it, the security of State Sovereignty. If we loose this, we shall have to contend against the "Divine right of Government" in the person of "Abraham the First," or the person of "Abraham the First," or the dec some other tyrant. Before the American inch people will submit to such a change in their March 25, 1862 - 4w 82. * system of Government it will cost rivers of blood. In order to avoid so dreadful a calamity, it is necessary that the Demceratic party be well organized-well supported-that they may take a bold Molasses, stand, on her ancient platform of PRINCI-PLES,-ready to resist, if need be any further encroachments on the liberties which our fore Fathers supposed they had locked up and securely bequeathed to us in the Constitution of the United States .-Let the motto of our fathers, be our motto now. "That, eternal vigilence is the price of Liberty."

Allow me, Dear Sir, to thank you most kindly for the bold and manly postion you are taking in your excellent journal, against Executive eneroachments on the Constitution, and in favor of human free- tas. to

C. R. BUCKALEW. I have great faith in his Statesmanship and hope he may be one of the instruments in the United States

Yours most respectfully, WILLIAM MERRIFIELD.
