COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

EDITED BY LEVI L. TATE, PROPRIETOR.

BLOOMSBURG, PENN'A:

Saturday Morning, Apr. 9, 1864.

"Our Constitution---guard it ever!
Our glorious Union---hold it dear!
Our Starry Flag---forsake it never!
The proud Caucassian---our only peer!

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864,

GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN

(Subject to the decision of the National Convention.)

Maj. JERE. MCKIBBON, is a candidate for Sheriff in Philadelphia. "Jere." is a worthy gentleman, an incorruptible democrat, and would make a first-rate Sheriff. We wish him all success.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN BRADY.—The venerable Capt. Wm. P. Brady, for several years past librarian of the Senate, died in Harrisburg on Tuesday morning, after a brief and painful illness.

Col. E. W. BAIRD, a Member of the Philadelphia Bar and brother-in-law of the Hon. William Elwell, died last week in that City. He was formerly of Bradford county, and his remains were taken to Towanda for interment. Col. B. was about 45 years old.

Hon. JOHN BANKS, died on Sunday last, in Reading. Some twenty years ago, Mr. Banks was the Whig Candidate for Governor, and subsequently appointed President judge of the Berks District.—Judge Banks must have been near seventy years old.

Col. A. J. GLOSSBRENNER, Senior Editor of the Age, is announced as a candidate for the Twenty Ninth Congress, in the York, Cumberland and Perry District. Mr. G., was a candidate for Congress, in 1862, and made a creditable campaign.—We should rejoice in the election of Mr. Glossbrenner.

☞We deeply sympathise with Mrs. and Judge Elwell, in their late heavy bereavement, being the loss of a very dear and interesting little daughter. She died on last Tuesday, of Croup, aged about five years. This is the second bereavment that has fallen to the lot of this family—the death of a Son and Daughter—since they located in Bloomsburg.

The People of Ohio, have determined that their patriotic fellow citizen, whom Old Abe and the military Satraps ignorantly and cowardly, sent into exile, shall receive,—beside the honor the disunionists have conferred upon him,—the largest Salary of any officer in the Government. We have no doubt at the rate the voluntary contributions have been piled up, that at the end of the year of his "Embassy in Canada," Mr. V's salary will exceed that of Old Abes of $25,000.

OUR TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Owing to the increase in price of paper, ink, labor and living, in connection with the depreciation of the currency, we are compelled to increase the advance price of the Columbia Democrat, on and after the first day of next May, from $1 75 to $2 00.—This course is our only alternative between the suspension of our office business or the continuance of operations. Reflecting men must at once see the justice of this measures, and we doubt not, will cheerfully acquiesce in the necesity of this decision.

We hope our Terms will be distinctly understood, as we intend they shall be strictly enforced—viz. $2 00 in advance, $2 25, within three months and $2 50 when delayed six months.

Wyoming Semniary And Kingston College.

Rev. R. NELSON, Principal of this Institution, publishes his Card in another column of the "Columbia Democrat." It will be seen that the next term commences on the 21st of April. We refer with great pleasure to the fact, that the fever which broke out there at the close of last session, has entirely disappeared from that community and vicinity, and that it is now perfectly healthy there.

All who wish to secure admission into the Seminary or College, should make immediate application, in view of the other fact, that during the last session, over fifty applicants were refused for want of room, the buildings having been all filled to their utmost capacity.

THAD STEVENS does not pretend that Lincoln has any power under the Constitution for his plan of making States. He says, "the plan is wholly outside of and unknown to the Constitution" He treats the States as "a conqueror would treat them." Stevens is the boldest and ablest of his party, and openly defends usurpation from the right of conquest. That is letting the truth out plainly, and is much preferable to the shuffling and juggling of weaker minds who have not sense enough to see the absurdity of claiming this power from the Constitution, nor boldness to avow whom they propose to get it.

SPOTTED FEVER.—The numerous sudden deaths daily occurring in various localities, caused by a disease styled "spotted fever" are enough to startle the people of any community. It is well, however, to look to the cause, and not give way to superstitious ideas of some terrible plague.—Disease of this type is produced by malaria arising from decomposition of animal or vegetable matter, or both, and from long confined foul air. "Spotted fever" is doubtless a new name for an old one, and might be better known as malignant typhoid.

ELECTION OF STATE TREASURER.—By virtue of a special Act, passed and approved on Wednesday the 16th inst., the Legislature met in joint convention at 8 o'clock the same evening, and elected the Hon. Henry D. Moore, (Abolitionist) of Philadelphia, State Treasurer, in place of Hon. Wm. V. McGrath. The vote stood—

For Henry D. Moore,	66
" William V. McGrath,	56

The Treasurer elect will enter upon his duties on the first Monday in May.

☞The National Intelligencer, Washington, says: "The Atlantic, Georgia papers announce the arrival in that city of Mrs. J. TODD WHITE, a sister of Mrs A. Lincoln, who came through the Northern Lines on a flag of truce boat from fort Monroe, bringing with her a rebel general's uniform, the buttons of which were gold pieces, amounting in all to the sum of $4,000,00. It is understood that she was sent through on a flag of truce by a special pass direct from the President."

In an old, and now unhappily obsolete document, known as the constitution of the United States, it is said—"Treason against the United States shall consist in adhereing to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort." Secessionists and abolitionists however believe that Instrument to be "a league with death and a covenant with hell," and they deny that it is any longer of authority. So we are progressing.

Negro Suffrage.

The reader will observe by our report of the proceedings had in the Senate on Thursday last, that a majority of that body has decided not to restrict the right of suffrage, and, as we understand, of holding office, in the new Territorie of Montano to white male citizens, as has been the custom in organizing new Territories. The vote on the amendment thus making the negro and white citizens "equal before the law" was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Brown, Chandler, Foot, Clarke, Collames, Conness, Dixon, Fessenden, Foster, Grimes, Hale, Harlan, Howard, Lane, Morrill, Pomeroy, Sumner, Wade, Wilkinson, and Wilson—20.

NAYS—Messrs Buckalew, Carlile, Cowan, Davis, Harding, Henderson, Johnson, Kirkwood, Nesmith, Powell, Riddle, Saulsbury, Sherman, Ten Eyck, Trumbull, Van Winkle, and Willey—17.

As it is probable that few if any negroes will ever emigrate to this remote Territory, it will occur to every reader that the principal motive of these who vote for the amendment must have been to signalize their adhesion to the policy of negro suffrage in the future.

Editors in the City.

The Democratic State Convention brought to this city a large number of Democratic editors from various parts of the State. They were a fat saucy, jolly-looking set of fellows, and had their pockets crammed with greenbacks—or, if they hadn't they ought to have had. We like editors, particularly those those who "are sound on the goose." Among these nabobs of the press, we noticed the following: James P. Barr, Pittsburg Post; Col. J. B. Sansom, Indiana Democrat; Major Henry J. Stahle, Gettysburg Compiler; Col. G. W. Jones, Waynesburg Democrat; Rev. D. H. Neiman, Easton Sentinel; Hon. George Sanderson, Lancaster Intelligencer; Adjutant Harry Ward, Harrisburg Patriot and Union; Capt. T. H. Purdy, Northumberland Democrat; Major N. M. Breslin, Lebanon Advertiser; Col. J. G. Rosts, Centre Beobachter; Gen. J. F. Cambell, Johnstown Democrat; Gen. J. B. Bratton, Carlisle Volunteer; Doctor Mendenhall, Doylestown Democrat; Dr. Acker, Norristown Register, A. J. Gerritson, Montrose Democrat; Col. Swan, Washington Review; Major Ben. Whitman, Erie Observer; Col. J. G. Freeze, Columbia Democrat; Hon. F. J. Walters, Lewistown Democrat; and one funny little fellow, in a swallow tail coat, whose name we could not find out, but we are certain that he was a Major-General or something else.—Sunday Mercury.

☞A "Big Injun" having strayed from the camp, found himself lost on trying to return to it. After looking about, he drew himself up and exclaimed, "Injun lost" but recovering himself and feeling unwilling to acknowledge such short-sightedness, continued, "No, Injun no lost—wigwam lost," "Injun here!"

☞"A Slight Cold," Coughs—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "a slight cold" in its first stage; that which, in the beginning, would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchia. Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. "Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket, and take as occasion requires."

☞Jeff Davis has appointed the eighth day of April as "a day of humiliation fasting and prayer." If praying would have saved the Confederacy it would have been saved long since.

We clip the above from the Home Journal a paper that makes great pretensions to morality and piety. We have ceased to wonder at the impiety and immorality of men in high places. But we are amazed when we hear men who should be conservators of the morals of the people thus ridicule the efficacy of prayer. If "fasting humiliation and prayer" will be of no avail, what can we expect from profanity infidelity and blasphemy.

In this divine revolution, how bright is the future! Let who will be our standard-bearers, in God is our trust. He who has brought us to this mount of vision, reveals the fast fulfilling glory. Ere another quadrennial arrives, Peace, Liberty, Fraternity, and Prosperity will universally prevail. The next national nominating convention will be held in Richmond Black and white will perhaps mingle equall in its debates and decisions, and it would be an act of justice if one of these long oppressed and despised friends of God, should be selected with some one of their great co-fighters, like Gen. Grant, to represent a renewed nation the model and master of the world.—Independent.

We have here the dawning of a new era, slowly and surely and steadily the doctrine of mescegination, or in plainer words, the intermarriage of the black with the white and the doctrine of social and political equality is gaining ground. We hear every day from the lips of some fair but frail daughter of Adam, that she would marry a a negro rather than remain single. And in the above paragraph we have the opinion of one who thinks these "despised friends of God," should be allowed to rule over us. We have no objection to these gentleman making the negro their equal and companion but we do object to keeping their company.

MARRIAGES.

In Wilkes-Barre, on the 28th ult., by the Rev. J. A. Wood, Mr. JOSEPH W. CAMPBELL, of Salem, to Miss HELEN WHITSON, of Nanticoke.

On the 22nd ult., Mr. JOHN KIRKENDAL to Miss NAOMIE E. YOHE, both of Mifflin township, Columbia county.

DEATHS.

In Benton twp., Col. co., on the 4th inst., Mr. DANIEL S. MCHENRY, in the 46th year of his age.

In West Hemlock twp., Montour co., on the 30th of January, 1864, WILLIAM LLOYD BETZ, son of Geo. W. and Hannah R Betz, aged 1 year, 6 months and 26 days.

How soon thy life has fled—
And numbered with the dead.
[illegible] drooped and died.
Another Spirit flown,
And gone to dwell by Jesus' side,
God has reclaimed His own.

Just in life's bright Summer days,
He was our joy—our pride—our love—
But God has snatched his Soul away;
He has gone to dwell with Him above.

He has left us weeping here below,
For the Child that God has given
But is it right to weep? Ah! no—
Your WILLIE, rests in Heaven. M. M. B.

In Bloomsburg, on the 5th of April, 1864, Little MATTIE, daughter of Hon. Wm. Elwell, aged 5 years, and 8 months.

COMMUNICATED.

Rose again! our darling treasure,
Ere a sin had left a stain
On her spotless soul, our Father
Called her back to Heaven again;
For the angel cherubs missed her,
And they prattled prayers to God,
Pleading him to bring home MATTIE.
Ere her feet life's thorns had trod.

And there was now joy Heaven,
Little MATTIE—home again;
Gathered up from earth as spotless
As a Snow-drop after rain.

Now behind the cloud of incense,
Which ascends around the throne,
Shutting out from mortal vision
The Sweet mysterious unknown;
She is waiting for her earth-loves,
She will through th' eternal door
Paste to bear our Father's welcome,
When we reach the shining shore.

Family Prayer.

There is not on earth a scene more interesting then a family before the God of heaven A collection of dependent beings with tender feelings, with lively sympathies, with common hopes, fears, joys, blending their bliss and their woes together, and presenting them all to the King of Kings, and the great father of all mankind. There is not on earth a man more venerated, or that will be more venerated, than the father who thus ministers at the family altar. No other man, like that father, so reaches all the sources of human actions, or so gently controls the powers, yielding their first years, and direction of his molding hand, that are soon to control all that is tender and sacred in the interests of the church and State. No Solon or Lycurgus is laying the foundation of codes of laws so deep, or taking so fast a hold on all that is to affect the present or future destiny of man. We love, therefore, to look at such venerable locks; and to contemplate these ministers of God who stand between the rising generation—feeble, helpless and exposed to a thousand perils—and the Eternal Parent of all. They stand between the past and the coming age—remnants of the one and lights of the other, binding the past with that which is to come; living lights of experience, to guide the footsteps of the ignorant and erring; to illuminate the coming generation—to obtain for it blessings by counsel and prayer, and then to die. And if the earth contains, amid its desolations, one spot of green on which the eye of God reposes with pleasure, it is the collected group, with the eye of the father raised to heaven and the voice of faith and prayer commending the little worshippers to the protecting care of him who never slumbers or sleeps.

LOWELL'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—We paid a pleasant visit to the Buisness Department of this flourishing institution the other day. Met at the door by the affable and efficient principal and proprietor, Prof. LOWELL, we were conducted through his elegantly furnished and pleasant apartments, where-in were assembled a large number of young men intent on the various duties of amateur merchants, book-keepers, &c.

It is a novel and interesting sight to behold students conducting transactions with all the bustle and earnestness of real business, within the very walls of alma mater, and a sight suggestive of the practical spirit and thoroughness of the age. Here are engaged young men from all parts of this and our sister states, successfully laying in useful study and practice, the foundation of their future prosperity.—That the system of education adopted by Prof. LOWELL, is adapted to the wants and necessities of real business, has been fully and satisfactorily tested in the store and office. It is all practical, nothing ornamental, superficial or useless—in fact, precisely the education of young men that our strong, healthy, substantial commerce demands.

The following is an epitome of the course and system of instruction, as described to us:

The students upon entering, takes up the practical portions of arithmetic, penmanship, and the fundamental principls of book-keeping. He receives individual instruction, and is allowed to progress as rapidly as his abilities will permit. Then he is furnished with blank books, and forms of various mercantile transactions, embodying the principles just learned, which are copied, journalized, and posted by him with the same care and accuracy that he must exercise in actual business. After this, if he satisfactorily sustains an examination upon the foregoing, he is admitted, each in turn, to the merchandising commission, and banking departments, where he "engages in the regular daily routine of trade, with bonafied goods, and a representative of money; receiving the same amount and kind of practice that he would have in the genuine store or bank." Upon completing the course he is subjected to a final examination, and if passing this to the satisfaction of the Faculty, he is awarded the diploma of the College.

The foregoing is but a mere cursory glance at the prominent points of Prof. LOWELL'S system. For a full and lucid explanation we refer our readers to the Commercial College Advertiser," a monthly paper published in support of this institution.

The rooms of the college are fitted up in manner which we have never seen surpassed. The bank, store, and railroad, telegraph and post office, are models of mechanical skill and ingenuity; and when filled with busy students hurrying to and fro in the prosecution of trade, are suggestive of a miniature "commercial world."

Our attention was called to the beautifully engraved diploma of the college, which is pronounced by competent judges as superior to anything of the kind in the country. The Bank bills in use among students are fine specimens of commerce and [illegible] Our attention in opening so many positions of value to young men of education, we would heartly advise all to seek the benefits of commercial training.

Through the indefatigable efforts and judicious management of Prof. LOWELL, the country must soon concede to Binghamton her best Commercial College.—Binghamton Daily Republican.
