Farmer's Department.

THE FARM IS A MANUFACTORY.

It ought to be so regarded. The soil should be looked upon as bearing the same relation to the agriculturist that any raw material does to the manufacturer of that specific raw material. It is the stock from which is to be wrought out the marketable product. What is put on the soil in the shape of seed, fertilizers, labor sho'd always be regarded, together with the interest on the money invested in the land, as going to make up the cost of the produce—of the article manufactured from the soil. And the farmer should know precisely what this cost is,—and it should govern the price at which he sells his produce. Now, this is a very simple and self-evident proposition. It has been often repeated; and yet it has got to be told a great many thousand times more before the mass of farmers will appreciate its importance, judging by the ratio of their progress in this matter in the past.

We refer to it now, and so often, because we believe it is emphatically the basis of success in agriculture as in manufactures. And we intend to repeat it until our readers who do business haphazard and fail, shall understand how to go to work to find the leak that is sinking the ship.

APPLICATION OF MANURES.

The question as to whether barnyard manure should be applied in a fresh or decomposed state, has long been discussed by farmers. A correspondent of the 'Mark Lane Express,' in giving a summary of Liebig's laws of culture, throws some light on the subject in the following remarks:

Manure acts in two ways—by the principles it contains which serve for the nourishment of plants, and by its chemical and physical action.

In clay the temperature is raised by the fermentation of dung; clas is rich in soluble principles serving for the nourishment of plants; for these reasons, the use of unfermented dung is advisable.

Fresh dung is not so suitable to sand, which contains but very little quantities of the substances to be decomposed, and in which the raising of the temperature is not necessary. In sand, therefore, decomposed dung suits better, and lasts a longer time in it.

If we leave the dung spread upon a clay soil, the only inconvenience which results is that it does not warm the land. Upon a flinty or sandy soil there is some risk that a part of the fertilizing principles may be carried down by the water into the subsoil.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. The should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

DR. WISHART

Of this City, has undoubtedly discovered in his combination for the treatment of Dyspepsia one of the greatest remedies that has ever been given to suffering humanity. He has treated within the past two years something over nine thousand cases in his private practice, many of which had defied the skill of eminent physicians in Europe and America, and in every case where the medicines were taken according to directions, they have made a perfect cure. Many of the above cases were of over twenty years standing.—Those who are troubled with Dyspepsia would do well to call at Dr. Wishart's office. He gives you advice free. Persons at a distance can consult by letter describing the symptoms. Dr. Wishart's treatment put up in a secure package with full directions, is sent by express on the receipt of Six Dollars.

DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL

Is the Vital Principle of the Pine Tree.

Obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medicinal properties are retained.

It is the medicine that cures when all others have failed.

A Great Remedy for Consumption.

I am constantly receiving such certificates as the following. READ IT!

Have you a Cough? Have you Sore Throat? Have you any of the premonitory symptoms of that most fatal disease, Consumption?

Those who should be warned by these symptoms generally think lightly of them until it is too late. From this fact, perhaps more than any other, arises the sad prevalence and fatality of disease which sweeps to the grave at least one-sixth of Death's victims.

What are its symptoms?

It usually begins with a short, dry cough, which soon becomes habitual, but for some time nothing is raised except a frothy mucus. The breathing is somewhat difficult, and upon slight exercise much hurried. A sense of tightness and oppression as the chest is often felt. As the disease advances the patient becomes thin in flesh, is afflicted with loss of appetite, great languor, indolence, and dejection of spirits; and may continue in this state for a considerable length of time, that it is very readily affected by slight exposure or fatigue. If these occur, the cough becomes more troublesome, and is attended with expectoration, which is most copious and free early in the morning. It is sometimes streaked with blood. At this stage nightsweats usually set in, and in some cases a profuse bleeding of the lungs may also occur. Pain in some part of the chest is felt, and often a difficulty of lying upon one or the other side, without severe fits of coughing, and a sense of fullness or suffocation, is experienced. The pulse becomes full, hard, and frequent the hectic flush tinges the cheeks, and the disease is fast fastening to its close.

You now ask, "Is there a cure?"

Consumption hitherto has and can be cured by the use of my TAR CORDIAL, even in apparently hopeless cases. This assertion I make with the ability to present the most complete evidence of the truth. Space will not admit of my giving the contents of the many thousands of testimonials to its value, which I have received and receive from time to time, from men of unquestionable worth and reputation. I have had a number of these certificates printed in circular form which I will send you free on application. Whether you now derange to try its medicine or not, send for the circular. After years of study and experimental, I offer this medicine believing it to be the best remedy for all pulmonary and bronchial diseases. If you cannot be benefitted by the use of the Tar Cordial, I believe you are beyond all earthly aid. Yet if there are better curative agents, I earnestly advise their use. The best remedies, the best care, are due to the people, but physicians of every school and practice, are daily asking me, "What is the principle or cause of your success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption?" My answer is this:

The principal organs—the strengthening of the debilitated system—the purification and enrichment of the blood, must expel from the system the corruptive which scrofula breeds. While this is effected by the powerful alterative (changing from disease to healthy) properties of the Tar Cordial, its healing and reinvorating principle is also acting upon the irritated surfaces of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each deceased part, relieving, subduing inflamation and restoring a healthful vemicency. Let this powerful power, the healing and the strengthening, continue to act in conjunction with Nature's constant recuperative tendency, and the patient is saved, if he has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

have had the surest demonstration in the following certificate that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element.

Philadelphia April 12, 1856.

Messrs Evans & Watson: Gentlemen—It affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander, Safes which we purchased of you some five months since we saved a large portion of jewelry, and all our books, &c., exposed to the calamitous, fire in Eastlack place on the morning of the 11th inst.

When we reflect that these safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of the heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of their valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your safes.

We shall take great pleasure in recommending them as men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

FRIENDS & RELATIVES OF THE
Brave Soldiers and Sailors.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.
AND OINTMENT.

All who have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy should take especial care that they be amply supplied with these Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their Friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS.

Will be speedily relieved and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE, INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

Those feeling which so sudden so usually arise from trouble or annoyance, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach—These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taken according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and, as a natural consequence, a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the Bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. At very severe struggles that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach, and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system, however depressed its health and strength may be, as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS, ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Bleaches and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured, if the Pills are taken night and morning, and Ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner, they do more harm than good to break out in another—Whatever may appear will remove the humors from the system, and nothing will then prevent a healthy cure. It will require a little perseverance to find as soon as this cure is being effected.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET SABRE, OR FIRE OF ARTILLERY.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable, there are no remedies so safe, sure, and convenient, as Holloway's Pills and Ointment. The wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all round it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking, night and morning, Gorc's Pills to open the system and prevent inflammation.

Every Soldier's Knapsack and Seaman's Chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London" are discernable as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A Reward will be paid to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at manufactory of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, throughout the civilized world.

☞ Holloway's Pills and Ointment are now retailed owing to the high prices of drugs, &c., at 20 cents, 70 cents, and $1.10 per box or pot.

☞ There is considerable saving by taken the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

☞ Diagnosis by my well known medicines can have Show Cards, Circulars, &c., sent free of expense, by addressing THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
