COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

EDITED BY LEVI L. TATE, PROPRIETOR.

"Our Constitution---guard it ever!
Our glorious Union---hold it dear!
Our Starry Flag---forsake it never!
The proud Caucassian---our only peer!

BLOOMSBURG:

Saturday Morning, June 11, 1864.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864,

GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN,

(Subject to the decision of the National Convention.)

☞ Rev. Dr. Thomas Bowman, formerly the Principal of Williamsport Dickinson Seminary, and more recently President of Ashbury Univirsity, at Greencastle, Indiana, has been elected chaplain of the United States Senate.

☞ We have been copying from the Philadelphia Age, the best daily paper in the State, for several weeks, a summary of the War news. We are only sorry we could not copy the whole of its complete, able and well digested reports. They are evidently prepared by some gentleman who is thoroughly posted.

☞ The Atlantic Monthy for June is received. Its contributors are among the first writers in the country, and its contents in a literary point of view, are up to its best previous issues.

This number closes the volume and a new one begins with July, which will be enriched with the usual style of matter.—Mitchell, Holmes, Longfellow, Beecher Stowe, and others will still enrich its pages. Ticknor & Fields; Boston, $3 00 per annum.

Portraits of Lieut Gen. Grant.—Messrs TURNER & Co., No. 808, Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, have sent us several Photograph Portraits of Lieutenant General Ulysses S. Grant, U. S. A. These engravings are amongst the finest specemen of the Art extant, and as they personate the great Military Chieftain of age,—who is a fine figure—we should judge they will be in great demand. The Publisher's house, as will be seen by their Card in our columns, has been located in No. 808, Chestnut Street. Give them a Call.

☞ We have received from the Publishers a pamphlet of about one hundred pages, entitled "Notes on the Constitution of the United States, with expositions and explanatory notes" &c. &c., by C. C. Burr Esq.

We have gone through it with great interest; and regard it as a very able, lucid and valuable work. The opinions of Mr. Webster and Mr. Justice Story on which the annotator chiefly relies are direct, pointed and unanswerable. It ought to be in the hands of every American citizen.

The $300 Exemption.

Provost-Marshal-General Fry has written a letter to Wm J. Steele, member of Congress from N, J. saying that the payment of $300 exempts persons from one draft, and that should it require several drawings to complete the quota, the persons so paying are exempt from each drawing of that draft.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.—These Lozenges are prepared from a highly esteemed recipe for alleviating Bronchial Affections, Asthma, Hoarseness, Coughs, Colds, and Irritation and Soreness of the Throat.

South Carolina Reconstructed!

The State of South Carolina, the most incorigible rebel of all the rebellious States, has been brought back into the Union, or reconstructed, by the masterly policy of Uncle Abraham. True, Charleston is not yet taken, and Sumter, in ruins as it is, still flaunts the rebel flag to the breeze.—But, no matter; the land of the Pinckneys, the Rhetts, and the Prestons, has been reclaimed to loyalty by the "squatter sovereignty" process, and will be represented at Baltimore on Tuesday next, in the Convention that is to renominate A Lincoln for a second Presidential term. How it was done, the Port Royal correspondent of the New York Herald explains, thus:

On the 17th of May, a Mass Convention of the loyal subjects of Old Abe in the reclaimed portion of South Carolina, composed of Army officers, contractors, camp followers and negroes, was held at Beaufort, and, after passing a series of resolutions of the stereotype loyal stamp, appointed a set of Delegates to represent the State in the National Convention which meets at Baltimore on the 7th of June. The Delegates selected, under instructions to vote for Lincoln, are: General Saxton, Military Governor; A. D. Smith, Tax Collector; Major Parker, paymaster U. S. Army; E. S. Dudley, Robert Small, Prince Rivers, Henry Hains, King Thomas and Sergeant Williams—all contrabands or "gemmen of color;" Messers. Cooley, Dunbar and Robbins, Army Sutlers, and H. G. Judd, Chief Superintendent of contrabands.

We hope that before the delegation goes to Baltimore, it will call upon Mr. Lincoln. Some fatherly instruction by him as to the manner in which South Carolina should greet Massachutetts' after so many years of strife, will be peculiarly appropriate.

☞ The 10-40 U. S. Bonds are selling at the rate of about $1,000,000 a day.

General McClellan in 1862.

On the 9th of May, 1862, the House of Representatives at Washington, composed of a large majority of radicals, on hearing of the battle of Williamsburg, passed the following resolutions unanimously:

Resolved That it is with feelings of devout gratitude to Almighty God that the House of Representatives from time to time hear of the triumphs of the Union army in the great struggle for the supremacy of the Constitution and the integrity of the Union.

Resolved, That we receive with profound satisfaction intelligence of the recent victories achieved by the armies of the Potomac, associated from their localities with those of the Revolution, and that the sincere thanks of this House are hereby tendered to Major General George B. McClellan for the display of those high military qualities which secure important results with but little sacrifice of human life.

Do the knaves and fools—the latter being the dupes of the former to which party Dr. John belongs, who now delight in slandering Gen. McClellan for partizan purposes, over think that they are eating their own words?

SENATOR COLLAMER, of Vermont, said in the Senate the other day.

I do not wish to occupy the time of the Senate by making any remarks about the Constitution of the United States. I think it a subject almost of derision here; with many gentlemen is an object of derision. As it is so in a great measure, and a man is sneered at for mentioning the Constitution, and if he has a decent respect for it and for his own oath he is called a "timid" man, I do not wish to take up much attention of a body where such a subject is treated in such a manner.

What a body the Senate of the United States must be, when a leading and talented member of the Republican party feels constrained to make such a statement!—The Constitution an object of derision!—No wonder men hate a document whose plain reading is a constant rebuke of their conduct,

The War.

We have received intelligence of still more decided movements on Gen. Grant's part, looking to the abandonment of the Mechanicsville route to Richmond.

On Thursday the Federal army faced south-west, the northern flank being seven miles from Richmond, and resting on the road to Mechanicsville; the centre at Coal Harbor, and the southern flank thirteen miles from Richmond, near the railroad from White House to the Chickahominy. During Thursday night and Friday morning Grant revolved his southern flank back nearly five miles to Bethesda Church. It rested a little north of that place, and was about four miles west of New Castle, on the Pamunkey. The Confederates followed it closely, and there was much skirmishing. On Saturday the Confederates withdrew a short distance, and the flank advanced about a half mile and there rested. On Sunday there was no fighting, and no movements are reported. On that day the Federal line was a north and south one, facing west. Smith was in the centre, at Coal Harbor, twelve miles east-notheast of Richmond. Warren was north of Smith, at Bethesda Church. Burnside was north of Warren, on the extreme flank, and was four and a half miles west of New Castle, on the Pamunkey, and fourteen northeast of Richmond. Wright was south of Smith and Hancock south of Wright, on the extreme southern flank. He was near Despatch Station, on the White House railroad, and thirteen miles from Richmond. The length of the line was six miles, and it was in all parts closely confronted by strong Confederate works. Grant's headquarters were at Old Tavern, three miles south of Bethesda Church.

Of the reason of this retreat, the greater part of which was made on Friday morning, we have no official explanation. It appears to have been made hurriedly, and there are statements that heavy guns were brought forward by the enemy, which threw shells over the Federal lines into the wagon trains beyond. Even when the line, in its retrogade movement, reached Bethesda Church, these guns were able to shell the headquarters camps and the trains in the rear. Beyond a statement of losses, Secretary Stanton yesterday was very silent, and to-day he has sent us nothing. The ominous information that "movements were in progress," accompanied his last despatch. The distance of the Federal line from Richmond, on Sunday, and the strength of the Confederate position, show a determination on Lee's part not to allow Grant to cross the Chickahominy. No portion of the Federal force is now within three miles of that stream.

There is nothing from Butler or Sherman.

General Fremont's resignation has been accepted.

WE ASSERT IT BOLDLY.—There are no other Medicines so reliable, effectual and convenient as Holloway's Pills & Ointment, always ready for use. They are invaluable to the Soldier exposed to Sores, Wounds, Fevers and Bowel Complaints. They never fail. Only 30 cents per box or pot.

☞ The continued and recent rains, with which we have been favored, have wonderfully recuperated the grass and grain.

NOT a week passes without some case of death from hunger in London.

Great Central Fair.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE.

THE price of a single admission is FIFTY CENTS—Children under thirteen half price. This admits to Eighty-one, out of the Ninety Departments of the Fair, and to much more than three-quarters of the whole space covered by the buildings. Certain Departments, nine in number, containing articles chiefly for exhibition, and not for sale, have been permitted to charge a separate price for admission, as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Art Gallery | 25 cents. |
| Indian Department, | 25 " |
| Arms and Trophies, | 20 " |
| Relics and Curiosities, | 20 " |
| Horticultural Department, | 25 " |
| Childrens' Amusement, | 25 " |
| William Penn Parlor, | 10 " |
| Pennsylvania Kitchen. | 10 " |
| Skating Pond. | 10 " |

The Executive Committee assure the Public that, although the full money's worth will be obtained from a visit to the eighty-one departments to which the entrance fee admits, yet it will be found that the nine other departments will amply reward the visitors and justify the additional outlay. All must bear in mind that, by these extra charges, the total receipts are increased and the holy Cause is as much assisted as it would be, were the same sum expended by visitors in the purchase of articles exposed for sale.

The Fair will open on TUESDAY, the 7th inst., at 4 P. M.

On Wednesday, 8th inst., the Fair will be opened from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M.

AN INTERESTING HISTORY

OF

DR. SCHENCK'S OWN CASE,

WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION,

And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills act on the System in curing that disease, and the

GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDING IT!

The above is a correct likeness of Dr Schenck taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption: by a course of his "SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP," The likeness, although it does not represent him any thing like as bad as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the hale and vigorous looks of the Portrait below, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits is so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons, in and around Philadelphia, who will recognise both portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 107 pounds; at the present time his weight is 220 pounds.

NEW YORK, Wednesday, March 30, 1864.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption, and given up to die. I resided in Philadelphia, and Dr. Joseph Parrish, then of this city, ordered me to Morestown, N. J., a distance of nine miles, which took me two days to get there. On my arrival I was put to bed, and there laid for many weeks. This was my native place, where all my family lived and had died of Consumption. Dr. Thurston, who attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family go that way, and thought I was to go, too. Then I heard of the remedies I now offer to the public, which cured me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrating my whole system.

They soon ripened the matter on my lungs, and I would spit off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain, night sweats—all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and I have been growing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed uninterrupted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy with the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, as I am of a bilious temperament. My weight is two hundred and twenty pounds. On my recovery people would send for me, far and near, to see if their cases were like mine. For this purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities. The consumptives wish to see the one that makes these symptoms, and who was cured of consumption by them. To make new lungs is impossible; but cavities in the lungs and chronic ulcerations of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Such cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and just such are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung, the lower lobe very much hepatized and complete adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tolerably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop chill, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and, by so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies. After I make a careful examination of the patient with the Respirometer, and find lungs enough left to cure, I direct the patient how to use the three remedies. Remove the cause and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia, catarrh, canker, ulcerated throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy. In New England this canker, chronic catarrh, ulcerated throat, elongation of uvula, is more prevalent than in any other section of the country. This is frequently caused by a foul stomach. You may burn it out with caustic time and again, and all they will get is temporary relief. Correct the stomach and liver, and they will heal up themselves.

Good nutrition is the remedy. If you have any disease in any part of the body, it will remain there and decay more and more until you can get the stomach in the condition to digest food, and make new blood to take the place of diseased matter. This is the only way to heal cavities in the lungs and ulcerated bronchial tubes. Correct the stomach and liver, and nature will do the healing. Many persons have an idea that certain medicines are great purifiers of the blood.—When blood is once diseased it cannot be purified; it is diseased the same as the diseased matter in the system; but get the apparatus in order, the liver and stomach, and give it plenty of nourishing food, it will make new blood, which will take the place of that which is diseased.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is one of the best preparations of iron in use, it is a powerful tonic of itself, and when the Seaweed Tonic dissolves the mucus in the stomach, and it is carried off by the aid of the Mandrake Pills, the Pulmonic Syrup is made into blood.—This is the only way to cure consumption. If I cannot get a good appetite and food does not digest, I cannot cure the patient. Never mind the cough; remove the cause and it will stop of itself. This is the most trouble I have with my patients; I can cure; my medicines are better, and I feel better every way; but my cough is so bad yet," and they are astonished to hear me say that does not matter; remove the cause and it will stop itself. Schenck's Seaweed creates a good appetite in about nine days, when there is no lung disease, unless the liver is so congested that the Mandrake Pills cannot relieve the secretions of the gall bladder in that short space of time, in order to allow the stale bile to pass off. Keep the liver and the stomach healthy and there is less danger of consumption or any other disease. It is hard to take cold when those organs are healthy. Those that are bilious, low spirited, dreary, feeling stupid, coated tongue, poor appetite, nervous, stomach full of wind, everything that is eaten lies heavy, loss of memory, try one bottle of SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, and one box of SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. It is only a cost of one dollar and twenty-five cents, with full directions. This is sufficient, in many cases, to satisfy what the medicine are. Frequently one bottle makes a great change in the system. Many persons that have a sallow, healthy look, by taking the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills occasionally, just set the digestive organs in such a healthy condition that they have no dyspepsia. I can produce a number of my old consumptive patients now enjoying good health, weighing nearly 200 pounds. I will conclude by relating three cases I have had in New York, and which are all current, and well any one who feels any interest to call and see them at their residences. First is Mrs. Fellow, boarding them at No. 13, Houston street. Her husband called upon me at my room, 32 Bond street, and wished me to call and see her. He said I could do no good, that she had the best medical attendance, and all said she was too far gone with Consumption to be cured. I told him that I had cured some great cases I had made up my mind to satisfy her wishes. I called, and found her lying, propped up in bed in the last stage of Consumption, and, without doubt, must have died soon. Examining her lungs, found both from the top very much affected, but no cavities but a few moist rales. Her cough was very severe, the spit-box was half full of thick pus. Pals. Legs swollen very much, and worse than all, she had chronic diarrhœa. Her bowels had been moved seven times that day. I told her she could not live long enough to be cured, but that this diarrhœa must be long standing, and her stomach was in such an irritable condition that I was afraid nothing could be done. She insisted I should try and do what I could for her, observing that she would not last long in the condition she was in, and I could not make her any worse. I gave her first a dose of my Mandrake Pills, and the Pulmonic Syrup freely. That was on a Friday, and by the next Sunday the diarrhœa was checked, the pus thrown off, the bad taste removed and she could sit up in bed and take dinner. She is now well, and gave me a long certificate, certified to by the Rev. Dr. Dowling.

Mrs. Belthoh ew, 62 West Forty-fifth street, came to my rooms with a chair on her back. She was low spirited, skin sallow, tongue coated, bowels costive, no appetite, and fast sinking into the grave. The saddest tumor has been growing over fourteen years. I gave her Syrup, Tonic and Pills, and told her to take them just as the directions were printed. She came back to my rooms. 32 Bond street, in two weeks, saying she better; her tongue had begun to clean a little around the edges, her skin was clear and eye brighter, and the tumor discharging very offensive matter, and faster than it had ever done before. She kept gradually improving, and in about two months she came to my rooms very much reduced in flesh, the tumor had nearly stopped running, and was healing up, and that every doctor had told her that if it ever healed it would cause her death. I took her case as the disease had all her system in and no one would expect a cure up. They are now in splendid health, weighing nearly 200 pounds, and she is living proof what a cure Schenck's Medicines will do in many cases. Mrs. Fellow, for any one call on her, or she will call at their residence, and has been appointed by Wm. Hall, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue, 5th district, 21st ward, 2d division, to collect taxes, and has been in that office for years, and can be found there. Mrs. Belthouse, 62 West Forty-fifth street, for any one to call on her, or she will call at their residence. Her husband has been appointed by Wm. Hall, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue, 5th district, 21st ward, 2d division, to collect taxes, and has been in that office for years, and can be found there.
