

COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

EDITED BY LEVI L. TATE, PROPRIETOR.

Our Constitution—guard it ever! Our glorious Union—hold it dear! Our sturdy flag—forkake it never! The proud Confederation—our only peer!

BLOOMSBURG: Saturday Morning, July 2, 1864.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864, GEORGE B. McCLELLAN (Subject to the decision of the National Convention.)

CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIBERS.—We will send the Columbia Democrat from now till after the Presidential Election, for 50 cents in advance. This is so low that every man should have it, and see that his neighbors have it. If they cannot pay for it club together and get it for them.

RIDICULOUS.—The idea of the President being escorted through the Fair, preceded by the First City Troop, with drawn swords! What will snobbery do next!

A JUST DECISION.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Common Pleas of Cumberland county, in the case of Kennedy vs Oswald and others. This is the celebrated Mechanicsburg case in which a self-constituted "Vigilance Committee" arrested a Democratic citizen of York county on suspicion of being a secessionist, and were mulcted in $1,000 damages.

The $300 Commutation Clause. Lincoln, Stanton and Fry, as was shown by last week's "Columbia Democrat," have recommended to Congress, the repeal of the $300 commutation clause in the Conscription Act. The Senate passed the bill. In the House it was defeated by two to one—60 yeas and 100 nays. Thus it will be seen that the contemptible measure of this miserable Administration, are even too obnoxious for the action of an abolition Congress. "Old Abe" must indeed be in bad odor even with his Kitchen Cabinet and political partisans.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we learn that the $300 Commutation Clause in the Conscription Bill has been repealed by the Abolition Congress. Old Abe made it a test of fealty to his Administration, and after Congress had decided against it by 2 to 1, he ran it through under the "whip and spur." It is now a plain question, whether white-men have any rights under this negro-administration, and if they will submit to be deliberately driven in the abolition slaughter-pen and murdered in violation of all laws and rights—human or Divine.

Double-Distilled Rascality. Charles Ridlay, a colored soldier, was lately convicted in the Montgomery County Courts, for murder and sentenced to the Penitentiary. Andy Curtin has pardoned him and set him loose upon the community again to murder white citizens. The reason doubtless is that Ridlay was a loyal abolition nigger.

Fish, the late Provo Marshal of Baltimore, and Colonel of a Connecticut Regiment, was tried by a committee of war and convicted of robbing the Government. He was sentenced to pay five thousand dollars and work one year in the Albany Penitentiary. Old Abe has pardoned him and set him at liberty. The reason was, that Fish was proven to be a loyal thief and scoundrel.

We doubt whether there are two greater knaves in the country than Curtin and Lincoln. There are certainly no greater enemies to "law and order" anywhere in power. Common justice requires their dethronement.

Abolishing Slavery. In the House of Representatives, on Wednesday the bill or resolution proposing amendments to the Constitution of the United States, abolishing slavery throughout the Union, was defeated. The vote ninety-four yeas to sixty-five nays, being eleven short of two-thirds. By three Democrats voted for it, viz: Messrs. Buily, of Penn., Odell, of New York and Griswold, of New York.

It thus fell eleven yeas short of the two-thirds necessary for its adoption. The House was a very full one at the time of calling the yeas and nays on this question, and the vote was the largest one there has been this session. Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, subsequently gave notice that he would move a reconsideration of the vote, and the matter will probably be postponed till the next session.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.—The New York World makes known the fact, and wishes it to be heralded East and West, North and South, that the Tribune of June 17, 1864, editorially admitted that the radicals and rebels understood each other, and conspired together to destroy this glorious Union. "When," said the Tribune, "through their (the rebel) aid we elected Lincoln and Hamlin our triumph was nowhere more generally or openly exulted over than in Charleston, the fountain and focus of the rebellion."—These factions have been equally the curse of the country, and it is the duty of the country to rally at the next election and put down Lincoln as well as his confederate Jeff. Davis.

Organize, Democrats!

Democrats!—there never was a time when there was a greater necessity for organization and unity of action. We are soon to enter upon a canvass, the results of which will be of vast importance to the nation. In view of the calamitous condition of the country, it is all important that the present party in power should be defeated. There is much to encourage the Democracy and inspire them to action.—The very bitterness of the opposition, the abuse of their authority by persecuting Democrats, demands that no effort should be spared to eradicate them from office.—As we value our liberties and the welfare of our families, we should do our whole duty in the coming canvass. If we succeed, we are certainly will if we do our duty, our reward will be ample. If we fail we will have nothing with which to reproach ourselves. It is a time when every freeman should guard well his liberty at the ballot box. They are organizing secretly, and are pledged to support the Administration in every act. We have already experienced the acts of usurpation done in the name of the Union, which have all been sustained by that party. We may rest assured that, if it can be done with impunity, they will be increased a thousand fold. Let Democrats and conservative men of Pennsylvania be up and doing.—Let us all go to work and pursue one course regardless of the Abolitionists. The hearts of the people are with us. We have only to conduct the campaign with firmness, determination and seal in order to achieve a glorious victory. The Democratic party, however, is no place for cowards. He who cannot receive the intimidations of the Abolitionists with indifference should at once surrender and make terms with them. He is not fit to be a freeman. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and they who have not the nerve to resist encroachments which it requires no vigilance to discover, are unworthy of the boon which they have not the courage to defend. We, therefore, appeal to the Democrats of this county and this State, as they love their wives and children, as they value their liberty, as they prize the comforts of their homes and firesides, in the name of all that is dear to them, to arouse themselves and prepare to defend at the ballot box the precious and sacred heritage of freedom left them by their forefathers in the Constitution of the United States. Organize in every neighborhood, form clubs, and prepare for action. Delay not, but straightway put your shoulders to the wheel. Rest not in fancied seclusion and security, but remember danger is upon and around us. Arouse, then, Democrats, and redeem your State and Nation from the rule of madness which now disgraces both.

Rebel Starvation. One of the correspondents with Grant's army thus dispels the idea of rebel starvation. He says: "The country is abundantly supplied with everything. Gardens are filled with corn until they overflow. Gardens grow all the luxuries of the season. Flocks and herds have not deserted the pastures and hills. Corydon and Thyrsis eat their country's menses in the shade. Fowls frequent the barn yards, and the dove coles are not abandoned by their meek and innocent inmates. Our horses wade through clover knee deep, and the growing wheat brushes their sides as they pass through it. Immense tracts are filled with thriving corn fields. We have very serious doubts, engendered by our late experience of ever starving the Confederacy, and we look for the end only by hard fighting, in connection with General Grant's left flank strategy."

A SWARM OF OFFICE HOLDERS.—The Abolitionists have arranged matters so that almost every third man of their party is an office holder, but even this does not seem to content them or satisfy their greed for place and profit. We now find that they have introduced into Congress a bill to take a U. S. census in 1865—heretofore it has been taken every ten years.—They make this move on the presumption that old Abe will be elected for another term, and they want to fix things so that employment will be furnished to several thousand more of the Loyal Leaguers, too cowardly to enter the army, but all eager to devote themselves to the "support of the Government" for pay.

One of the grievances that the American colonists urged against King George III., in justification of their Declaration of Independence, was this. How spiteful would its words apply to our present Ruler: "He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance."

Will Congress adjourn without demanding of Secretary Stanton why he ordered Major McLeas, who exposed the Hurst frauds, to leave Cincinnati to go to Fort Vancouver on the Pacific coast, and why he postponed the trial till the major was well out the way?

RECRUITS AND BOUNTIES.—Since the 17th of October last, six hundred thousand white men and one hundred thousand negroes have enlisted or reenlisted into the Union army, and one hundred and twenty-five million dollars have been spent in bounties.

THE WAR.

Secretary Stanton has at length sent a despatch. He describes an unsuccessful movement made by General Sherman, Sunday and Monday last. On Sunday the Confederates were encamped on the ridge which runs northeast and southwest in front of Marietta. They occupied the three peaks of the ridge—Kenesaw, Pine and Lost Mountains—Kenesaw being the northeastern one. Sherman ordered an attack on Sunday evening upon the Confederate works on the low part of the ridge, between Kenesaw and Pine mountains.—His forces moved forward in two columns, about a mile apart. McPherson led the eastern one; Thomas the western one.—During the night the columns got into position. At dawn on Monday a furious cannonade was opened the Confederates along the entire ridge. Under cover of this fire McPherson and Thomas advanced. They marched up the side of the hill and reached the enemy's works. They were repulsed, and retreated to their original lines.—McPherson reports a loss of five hundred, and Thomas a loss of two thousand. Between one and two hundred Confederate prisoners were captured. The enemy's loss, Secretary Stanton says, was much smaller than Sherman's.

It is almost certain that the Confederate raiding parties who are menacing the railroads in Sherman's rear, are beginning their operations. A large force of Confederates on Friday last, suddenly appeared before Lafayette, in Georgia. This town is twelve miles west of Dalton, on Sherman's supply railroad. It is a fortified post intended as a defense of the railroad, and is garrisoned by some Kentucky troops. The Confederates surrounded the town and demanded its surrender. This was refused, and they captured it. They were afterwards attacked by one of the Kentucky regiments and lost seventy prisoners. The account of the contest ceases without telling its result. Our advice from Dalton is to Friday, the day on which this contest occurred. No Confederates had at time appeared on the railroad.

There is nothing of importance from Gen. Grant's army. On Saturday night there was a skirmish in front of Burnside's corps. Sunday and Monday were quiet. Grant's troops maintain their old positions. Foster, on the north bank of the James, five miles above Malvern Hill. He is not within five miles of Chaffin's Bluff, opposite Fort Darling, and shows no intention of trying to get there. The Confederates are in front of his works, and his troops keep close in them. There seems to be a general movement of the Confederate army to the south and southeast of Petersburg. Its scope and objects are not yet evident, though it causes Grant's troops to be on the alert, and for a time has diverted their attention from the siege of the town.

General Hunter is still retreating north-west from Lynchburg. He is trying to get to Covington, the county seat of Allegheny county, Virginia, about fifty miles from Lynchburg. There he will be protected by two or three high ridges of the Alleghenies. The Confederates are pursuing him closely. They report having captured thirteen of his cannon. General Hunter has sent a despatch to Secretary Stanton, though from what place is not stated. He says that want of ammunition and supplies and the superior force of the enemy made him retreat from Lynchburg. He is resting his troops.

The Federal cavalry, it is reported, have cut the Richmond and Danville Railroad at Burkeville, southwest from Richmond. They have burned various depots and cars at that place. The damage to the road is not serious. The cavalry have disappeared. The Confederates have recovered possession of the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad, and are now repairing it. A force of Confederates, about 600 strong, attacked an Iowa regiment at the mouth of White River, Arkansas, on June 22d. They were repulsed.

Killed by the Cars.

A telegraph dispatch was received at this place, on Saturday evening last, stating that a man, supposed to be from this vicinity, by papers found upon his person, was run over by the cars, at Maudsle, near Danville, on Saturday afternoon, and killed. From the description given, it was supposed to be none other than Mr. Samuel Smith, Ser., an aged citizen of Milfin township, this county, who left home in the early part of the week to visit one of his sons living at or near Reading. He was infirm, and scarcely able to take care of himself, and it is supposed was on his return home, as he was seen at Danville, in the morning. Unfortunately, he wandered about, and got upon the Catta-wissa Road leading to Milton, and traveled as far as Maudsle, where he was overtaken by the afternoon passenger train, bound for Williamsport, knocked off the track, and instantly killed. One of his sons started in search of the body on Sabbath morning, and returned with it in the morning train on Monday. On Tuesday he was buried in the Berwick cemetery.—He was aged about seventy-five years.—Berwick Gazette.

Probable Adjournment of Congress.—A joint resolution passed the House on Wednesday, to close the present session on Thursday last, 30th ult. It is said the Senate will concur.

Another Abolition Rascal.

The last case of Shoddy rascality is that of Henderson, Navy Agent at New York, and publisher of the Evening Post, except the Independent, Boston Commonwealth, and Garrison's Liberator, the most ultry Abolition paper published in the United States. As the proceedings in this case are before a civil tribunal, we may hope that at last, a "loyal" Abolition rogue will receive his deserts. We submit an account of his arrest. He is alleged to be a defaulter to a very large amount, a million or so; but we must presume him to be innocent until, in a legal way, his guilt is established.

ARREST OF THE N. Y. NAVY AGT. CHARGES OF GREAT FRAUD AND CORRUPTION.

United States Circuit Court—June 22—Before Commissioner Betts.

Mr. Isaac Henderson, publisher of the Evening Post, Navy Agent at this port, was arrested to-day by Marshal Murry and assistants, on a warrant issued by Commissioner Betts, on the application of Mr. Wilson, Special Counsel of the Navy Department. The charges are very serious, embracing fraud, bribery, the transmission of false vouchers, &c. We did not learn the amount which the Government charges Mr. Henderson with having illegally received, but it is said to be large. This arrest will take the public by surprise, for the accused has heretofore borne an irreproachable character, and has been considered a man of large means for several years.

The Marshal called at the Navy Agent's in the Evening Post building, at about 3 o'clock, and found Mr. Henderson at his desk in his private office. He served a warrant, and took the prisoner to the District Attorney. Counsel appeared, and, waving the right of a preliminary examination, bail was given by E. & E. F. Stuart, attorneys, and Joseph Stuart & Co., bankers, in the sum of $10,000. The hearing on the warrant is set down for this morning at 11 o'clock.

A few minutes before the arrest was made, Mr. Bridge, of the Navy Department called upon Mr. Henderson, with an order from the President, removing him from office and directing Mr. Bridge to take charge. In addition to the above, it occurs to us that Col. Fish, late Provost Marshal of Baltimore, was convicted of crimes which should have sent him to Penitentiary for half the term of his natural life, and for which some light sentence was inflicted upon him—we believe a fine of five thousand dollars and a short imprisonment.—This is the only instance we call to mind; and this is not available in behalf of the Administration, since, shortly after his sentence, the President granted him full pardon.

A Soldier's Letter to his Mother.

We publish below portions of a letter, not intended for publication—written by JOHN B. ANDERSON, (one of our apprentices) to his Mother, Mrs. MARY ANN ANDERSON, of Beach Haven.—Ed. Dem.

IN THE FIELD, June 10, 1864.

DEAR MOTHER.—I received your letter the night before we left the Fortifications, and had no time to answer it. We left the Fortifications on the 27th of May, marched to Washington, and got on board of a transport, then steamed down the Potomac to the Bay, down the Bay, to the Rappahannock, and up the Rappahannock to Port Royal, and from there we marched to the Army of the Potomac, where we now are, a distance of about one hundred miles. I saw John Seybert, in Washington when we came through, went to his house and took dinner. He is a very fine man I tell you, and he has got a splendid wife. He filled my Haversack with good things to eat, and my canteen with Port Wine. He said he would write to you and tell you all about our moving. Our Regiment has not been in a fight yet, but we have been pretty close to the Rebs, where the bullets and shells have whistled around us pretty sharp. I have been guarding the Baggage train for the last two days, and I don't know but what I shall stay here all the time. We are about three miles in rear of the army. The news is this morning that the Rebs have evacuated Richmond. I know they are retreating from where they were when I was with the Regiment. I was down the other day to see the Broockway Boys. Their Battery was stationed closer to the Rebs yet than where we were. They are looking well, and in fine spirits. I have been very well since we left the Fortifications. A great many of the men gave out while on the march.

SURGICAL.—Among the many surgical cases which have been operated upon within a few days, Dr. Up De Graff, at his Infirmary in his place, was that of the child of Mrs. Mary Starner, of Truxville, in this county. This child was born blind. The operation was witnessed by some twenty citizens, who were curious to know how it was possible to restore the sight of one who from the time it first breathed had never seen the glorious light.

The child was properly secured and placed in the hands of an attendant, of steady hand and as quick as thought the instrument was seen within the eye. The difficulty within the eye could be distinctly seen by lookers-on. In an instant the eye is seen to clear up bright and liquid. The child stops crying, looks strangely about, and seems puzzled; it is in a new world. It sees. Whispered expressions of astonishment are heard from bystanders. The doubtful no longer doubt; the mother weeps with joy, while the forbidden tear is seen in many a sympathetic eye. All are delighted. But the doctor seems calm and thinks it nothing strange. These things occur every day with him.
