The Best Grape.

The present disposition is to place the Catawaba at the head of the list as the best for those who are able to obtain it in perfection; yet it is, and will probably remain, a sour grape for most Northern cultivators. The Isabella, also, is holding its ground against its new competitors better than was expected. The fact is of none of the new grapes are such paragons of excellence that can be quite certain of supplanting the old favorites. Among the new sorts the Concord, for market, and the Delaware, for the table, have the greatest number of universally acknowledged excellences—are, perhaps, the only ones whose characters are fully established.—It is pretty certain that, for selling in New York market, no grape pays a larger profit per acre than the Concord. The Hartford Prolific has outlived the contempt of amateurs, and been the most profitable grape in the hands of cultivators who were near to markets such as Boston, where the advantage of its early ripening is not counter-balanced by the abundance of peaches. Many persons prefer peaches to even a better grape than this. The Adirondac, Israella, some of Roger's Hybrids and various other sorts are contempting for the honor of supplanting the Hartford Prolific; but the changes are probably in favor of the Creveling. The hardiness of the Adirondac is yet contested notwithstanding its Northern origin.

All the above, except the Delaware and Catawaba, are black or nearly so, though the abundant bloom of the Concord gives it a blue color. The Dianna is the leading aspirant for the place hitherto occupied by the Catawaba; Rebecca and Allen's Hybrid are foremost among white grapes—Which is the best grape for wine depends upon too many considerations to admit of a conclusive decision in favor of any variety. The sweetest grapes require the least sugar; but the most acid sorts allow the freest additions of water. High priced wine can be made from any grape, or without any grape; but there are few Americans who will give much for such light and commonly acid or astringent wines as are produced by the unaided fermentation of pure juice.

On the whole, any novice who wishes to go into grape raising for table, wine for market, can safely make the Concord his reliance. Among the sorts not mentioned are some with very high pretensions, and for beginners, well attested; but time, which tries all things, has heretofore proved disastrous to the majority of such reputations.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE CABBAGE CROP.—An immense quantity of saur kraut is being made at Wheeling, there having been an unprecedented yield of cabbages in that vicinity. The Intelligencer says that wagon loads of it are delivered in the city, at five, six, seven, eight, and ten cents per head, and so large are the cabbages that it don't require more than half a dozen heads to make a barrel of saur kraut.—One man, residing a short distance from the city has been hauling cabbage into the city with a two horse wagon for two weeks, and his crop is not yet exhausted. The report of the large yield of cabbage has invented speculators from abroad, who are engaged in the manufacture of kraut. An enterprising man from Cincinati has hired the lot in the rear of the Kramer House, and has gone into the business on a large scale. He has made preparations for the manufacture of six hundred barrel of kraut, and has cabbage, barrels and workmen already upon the ground.

POTATO PUDDING.—Bruise with a wooden spoon, through a culender, twelve middlesized boiled potatoes; beat up four eggs, and mix them with a pint of good milk, then stir in the potatoes and sugar, and seasoning to the taste, butter the dish and bake half an hour. This recipe is simple and economical, as it is made of what is wasted in most families, viz: cold potatoes, which may be kept for two or three days till a sufficient quantity is collected. A teaspoonful of Scotch marmalade makes a delicious seasoning.

PLUM PUDDING.—Contributed to the American Agriculturist by E. S. Thomas Kint county, Md. Mix 5 cups flour 1½ teaspoonsful cream of tarter, 2 cups sour milk, ½ teaspoonful soda, 1 cup raisins, 1 of dried currants, ½ teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves, ½ cup each of molasses and sugar. Boil about 1½ hours and serve with butter.

SPONGE GRIDDLE CAKE.—Contributed to the American Agriculturist by Jennie Adams, Clinton county, O.: Take one quart of mush, while warm, add one pint of buttermilk, one of sweet milk or water, one teaspoonful of soda, stir in flour until it is a batter, let it rise until morning, then bake on the griddle, and serve while still hot.

THE Rural New Yorker advises the women to wet the broom often when sweeping the carpet, so as to keep down the dust. Don't you do it! Two or three such sweepings will fade a carpet more than a year of sunshine.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either Sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nervous that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of pure balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulents.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being paied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and figure it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit liable Nervous Attacks, Losses of Appetite and Fits of Hungers, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of Bilious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a general Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional weakness, premature decay and debility and diseases arising from old age, it exercises the strengthening influences at every stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-inforce and re-establish them. Last, but not least, it the only safe stimulant, being unmanufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

IMPORTANT TO ALL INVALIDS.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

It is well known to the medical profession that IRON is the Vital Principle or Life Element of the blood.—This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if from any cause whatever, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will obstruct the liver and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease.

The great value of

is well known and acknowledged by all medical men The difficulty has been to obtain such a preparation of it as will enter the circulation and assimilate at once with the Blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, has been attained in the Peruvian Syrup, by combination in a way before unknown.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP

is a Protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron a New Discovery in Medicine that Strikes at the Root of Disease by supplying the blood with its Vital Principle or Life Element—Iron.

THE PEARUVIN SYRUP

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy Fever and Ague, Loss of Energy, Low Spirits,

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP

Infuses strength, vigor and new life into the system, and builds up an "Iron Constitution."

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP

Cures Chronic Diseases, Scrofula, Boils, Scurvy, Loss of Constitutional Vigor,

AN INTERESTING HISTORY

OF

WHILE LABORING UNDER CONSUMPTION,

And how his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills act on the System in curing hat disease, and the GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDING IT!

The above is a correct likeness of Dr. Schenck taken many years ago, after he had recovered from Consumption; by a course of his "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup." The likeness, although it does not represent him any thing like as bad as he was at the worst, yet it is in strong contrast with the pale and vigorous looks of the Portrait below, which is the true likeness of him at the present time. The contrast between these two portraits is so great that many would not believe them to be the same person. Yet there are hundreds of persons, in and around Philadelphia, who will recognise both portraits to be true representations. When the first was taken he weighed 107 pounds; at the present time his weight is 220 pounds.

TO THE PUBLIC

Thirty years ago I was in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption, and given up to die. I resided in Philadelphia and my Physician, Dr. Joseph Parrish, then of this city, ordered me to Moorestown, N. J., a distance of nine miles, which he told me I must drive to get there. On my arrival I was put to bed, and there I laid for many weeks. This was my condition when Dr. Thornton, who attended my father in his last illness, was called, and gave me one week to fix up my affairs. He had seen all my family out that way, and thought I was to go next. When I heard of the terrible news it effected the public, which came to me. It seemed to me that I could feel those penetrating my whole system.

They soon reached the matter on my lungs, and I would cough off more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, I was pain around the sides—I began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength and I have been growing in flesh ever since. For many years I have enjoyed uninterrupted good health, keeping the liver and stomach healthy, with the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup and a pill or two of Mandrake, at night, my weight is now two hundred and twenty pounds. On my recovery people would send for me, for their sons near, to see if their cases were like mine. For this purpose I pay professional visits in the large cities. Then on inquiry, I wish to see the one that looks the most miserable, and who was cured of consumption by them. To such I have hopes to restore the chief cavities in the lungs and chronic ulcerations of the bronchial tubes can be healed. Such cases are dying hourly under the ordinary treatment of physicians, and I feel much are cured by the proper use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

I am now a healthy man, with a large cavity in the middle lobe of the right lung the lower lobe very much hepatized and considerable adhesion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right lung is in a tolerably healthy condition. The great reason why physicians cure so few consumptive is they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough to stop chill, to regulate the secretions, to build up the general health, to purify the blood, to strengthen the digestive powers, to regulate the secretions and eventually the patient sinks and dies. After I made my discovery that the contents of the stomach with the expectoration and foul lungs enough left to cure. I direct the patient how to use the three remedies. Excercise moderate and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be afraid of consumption, liver complaint, dyspepsia, catarrh, croker, indigestion, sick headache, or worse, if they are more healthy. In New England this cankor, chronic sore throat, elongation of uvula, is more prevalent than in any other section of the country. This is frequently caused by a foul stomach. Your lungs become filled with caustic fume and phlegm, and all they will get is necessary to digest the food in the stomach and liver, and they will not be nourished.

Good nutritious food is the remedy. If you have any disease in any part of the body, it will remain there and decay more and more until you can get the stomach in the condition to digest food, and make new blood to take the place of that decayed. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is the way to heal cavities in the lungs and ulcerated bronchial tubes. Correct the stomach and liver, and nature will do the healing. Many persons have asthma that certain medicines cause fits of the blood.—When blood is once diseased it cannot be purified; it is diseased the same as a tree is diseased, running to decay in the system; but get the separation in order, the liver and stomach, and grow it plenty of nourishing food, it will make new blood, which will take the place of that which is diseased.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is one of the best preparations of iron in use. It is a powerful tonic of itself, and it is prepared with the Seaweed Tonic that gives the nausea to the stomach, and it is carried out by the aid of the Mandrake Pills. The Pulmonic Syrup is made into blood.—This is the only way to cure consumption. It I cannot get the proper appetite, and food to digest, I cannot cure the disease. Never mind how much I remove the cause, and it will stop of itself. This is the secret trouble I have with my patients at my rooms. They say, "doctor, I feel stronger; I can eat my night sweats stop; it is, and I feel better every way; but my cough is as bad yet;" and they are astonished to hear me say, "that is a good symptom;" for they cease to call it will stop itself. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic gives a good appetite in about nine days, when there is no sting distress, and as the liver is so connected that the Mandrake Pills cannot unlock the ducts of the gall bladder in that short space of time in order to allow the stale bile to pass off. Never mind the liver and the stomach healthy and there is less danger of consumption or any other disease. It is sure to take hold when those organs are healthy. Those that are bilious, low spirited, dreary, feeling unwell, coated tongue, poor appetite, nervous, stomach full of wind, everything that is eaten lies heavy, one or two bottles of Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, one bottle of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and one box of Schenck's Mandrake Pills. It is only a cost of one dollar and twenty-five cents, with full directions. This is sufficient, in many cases, to satisfy what the medicines are. Frequently one bottle makes a great change in the system. Any person that enjoys ordinary health, by using the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills occasionally, must get the digestive organs in such a healthy condition that they become fleshy. I can produce a number of my old consumptive patients now enjoying good health, weighing nearly 200 pounds. I will confidently be relating these cures I have made in New York and Which are all efficient, and will apply to any one who feels any interest in the matter to visit them. First is Mrs. Parlow, residing then at No. 107 Houston street. Her husband called upon me at my room, 32 Bond street, and wished me to call and see her. He said I could do no good; that the best of medical attendance, and all that could be done for one with Consumption to be cured; that she had heard of some great cures I had made, and he desired to gratify her wishes. I called, and found her lying confined to her bed in the last stage of bronchial consumption, and without doubt must have died soon. I examined her lungs, found both bronchial tubes, the right and left, but no cavities had formed, her cough was very severe, the sputum was half full of thick pus. Pulse 130, legs swollen very much; and worse than all, she had chronic diarrhœa. Her bowels had been moved eleven times that day. I told her she had lungs enough to do cured, but that the diarrhœa had been long standing, and her stomach was in such an ulcerated condition that I was afraid nothing could be done. She insisted I should try and so what I could for her, observing that she would not last long in the condition she was in, and I could not make her any worse. I gave her first dose of my Mandrake Pills, with the tea
