Medicines.

Dr. Keeler's a regular graduate from one of the best medicial schools of the country and a practising physician of the city, of Philadelphia. We take great pleasure in presenting these remedies to the afflicted—They are all of undoubted medicial powers and hold out to the invalid a promise of relief, such as none others possess. They each have been thoroughly tried in a long as successful private practice, and have established for themselves a reputation but few possess, and given better satisfaction to the afflicted than any of the boasted remueles of the day. In offering them to the public, they are eminently deserving of public confidence. No medicines ever before the public have acquired such deserved reputation upon their merits alone, or appeal with such irresistible force to the invalid.
