Frightful collision on the Delaware river.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8th.

The steam ferry boat Farmer was crossing over to the city from Camden last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, and the steame Trenton was coming down the river with the passengers of the Mail Pilot line. A frightful and destructive collision between the boats passing, nearly off Vine street wharf. As both boats were trying to sheer into the wharves the bow of the Trenton struck the Farmer back of the engine, cutting her almost to the water's edge. By the application of the pumps the Farmer was kept up until she reached the other shore. Here she was run aground, and sunk between Market and Chesnut street. The Trenton sustained slight injury on her stern, but resumed her regular trips this morning. It is believed no person was injured. The collision of the boats was entirely accidental. It was very dark, and snowing at the time.

Great fire in Carlisle.

CARLISLE, March 12

The most extensive and destructive fire which has ever occurred in our borough took place this morning between 12 and 1 o'clock It originated in the stable attached to Seyll's Hotel, and notwithstanding the utmost exertions of the citizens, it spread with it frightful and terrible rapidity, the wind blowing fresh from the north-west. It soon spread to the adjoining buildings, and in the course of a few hours no less than 14 dwelling houses 22 stables and warehouses and the Lutheran Church were entirely consumed. Several horses and cows perished in the flames.

The loss is estimated at $50,000, only about $8,000 being secured by insurance. The fire was got under at 4 o'clock this morning. No lives lost, but several persons were seriously injured. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The Lutheran Church was a substantial brick structure.
