DEVOTED to Literature, the Arts, Sciences, Agricultural, Education, &c. &c. The first number was issued in January last.

A Monthly Journal principally literary and miscellaneous, embelished with beautiful and meritorious engravings, designed to furnish the heads of families, as well as the youth of both sexes, with a variety of entertaining and instructive information, which will not merely possess the negative quality of not deing injurious, but m which the positive ore of being really useful will alone be found; giving a healthy tone of feeling to their minds, and becoming instrumental, it is heped, in rendering them more happy in themselves and in their families—more useful in the various relations of life which they sustain—better members of society at large, and preparing them for a state where all is absolute perfection. Q particular feature of this New Monthly publication will be an entire freedom from all sectarian spirit, and a careful avoidance of political and controversial subjects in its pages—an upholder of truth and virtues—with no doubtful me, lity marring its pages—suitable for all, and aproper to be read at all times. All the important movements and events of the times will receive attention, and the news of the month carefully gleaned and chronicled.

Our object is to introduce it extensively among all classes, and secure for it a large circulation and field of usofulness. It will be furnished at the low price of FIFTY CTS. PER ANNUM, IN ADVANCE. Any person sending two subscriptions and one dollar, shall be entitled to the Visitor one

New Monthly Family Visitor, ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER GREAT COUGH REMEDY!

CASTRIC JICE.

A Great Dyspepsia curer, Prepared from RENNET, of the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., No.11, North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaudice, Liver Complaint, Constipation, and Debility, Curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice.

The Half a spoonful of this Fluid, infused in water, will digest or dissolve, Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

in water, will digest or dissolve, Five Pounds of Roas Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

DIGESTION.

Digestion is Chiefly performed in the stomach by the aid of a fluid which freely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the Gastric Juice. This fluid is the Great solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the stomach and intenstines. Without it there will be no digestion,—no conversion of food into blood, and no nutrition of the body; but rather a foul, torpid, and destructive condition of the whole digestive apparatus. A weak, half dead, or injured stomach produces no good Gastric Juice, and hence the disease, distress and debility which ensue.

Pepsin abd Renner.—Pepsin is the chief element, or great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice. It is found in great abundance in the solid parts of the human stomach after detth, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest itself, or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, call, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese, called Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. The curdiling of milk is the first process of digestion. Rennet possesses astonishing power. The stomach of a calf will curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states that, 'One part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, will digest meat and other food.' Diseased tomachs produce no good Gastric Juice Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the following

Baron Liebing, in Lis celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid analagous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the nucous membrane of the stomach of the Calt, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Dr. Pereira, in his famous, treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35 states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. Combe, in, his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all prevailing cause of Dyspepsia," and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint finding every thing else that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint finding every thing else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Graham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila., 1846, pp., 321-2): "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestor of sissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestor of sissolved as rapidly in a antificial digestor of the Jefferson College. The Hon. Charles D. Hineline, Editor of the "Camden Democrat," the best paper in West Jersey, says, July 21:—
"HoorLann's Graman Bitters."—"We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came, induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and streethens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep retreshing.

The editor said, Dec. 22d—
"Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspeysia, Chronic or Nervous Debility. is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbowsays be has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint, from the use of this remedy.
