Those wine in a total had tifted into power denied him even common deference and respect; and lifted men to bonorable notice over him who were bankrupt in every trast of manliness and honor. We watched the chase when he was hounded down like a noble stag, and turned at bay apen his pursuers entil it took a drove of them to "bring down" their game. When he 5sll many an ignoble cur was joyous to think there might be a play-day for it to swell into greatness, and there was none so low to do him reverence. Those whose vices he had accurged found their old cressy powerless, and fell upon the prostrate "war torse" with the same impunity that the assean kick the death lion. His sintagonists now closed the ears of the President against him; and Governor Bigler fell under such associations that only a very bold man in

In a care tried last week before the Court of Common Pleas, at Lowell, (Mass.) Justice Statep presiding, Mr. B F. Butler asked H. C. Snow a winness on the stand, if he belonged to the secret society of Know Nothings? Attrist Snow denied that he did, but sinally after consulting counsel, asswered in the affirmative; and a long cross-examination elicited further answers. He had began a member of the society four or five mouths. Upon joining it he took an oath, "so help me God." There are two degrees in the society. Had seen at the meetings Dr. Norman Smith and Deacon John Pringree, two other witnesses in the case. Refused to tell man Smith and Deacon John Pingree, two other witnesses in the case. Refused to tell the form of initiation, because it might criminate him and expose him to punishment from the society. Judge Bishop said it was a startling revelation that men took secret oaths which they regarded as above the oaths administered in the courts. A. M. Gage, another witness, testified that he belonged to the scoret order, but left it three months since. Dr Smith, above mentioned, admitted that he belonged to the Know Nothing society, and that it exercises a political and religions influence; a Roman Catholic cannot be admitted, although he be an American-born citizen. Could not tell the form of injustion because it would expose him to punishment; and for the same reason could not tell what office he held at Groton. lisgust, His manager is Wm. H.
