From A, Woodward, M. D. of Penn.

University, Philadelphiv.

It gives me pleasure to add ny testimony to the professional sbility of the author of the "Medical Menual," Numerous cases of disease of the genital organs, some of them of long standing, have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid, in the treatment of seminal weakness, or disarrargement of the functions produced by self-abuse or excess of venery, I do not know his superior in the profession. I have been acquainted with the author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion to recommend him as one in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves. **ALFRED WOODWARD, M. D.*

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published of the class of diseases of j which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent however fastidious can object to placing it in the hand of his sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints issued of, with too little breath to puff, and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world, at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice."—[Herald. "No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this valuable work, It would save years of pain, mytification and sorrow to the youth under their charge." [People's Advocate,

A Presbyterian clerayman in Ohio, writing of "Hunter's Medical Manual" says,—"Thousands upon thousands of our youth by evil example, and influence of the passions, have been eld into the habit of self-pollution, without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and their posterity. The constitutions of thousards who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down and they do not know the cause or the cure, Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present coming generation. Intemperance, or the use of intoxicating drinks, though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not as greater scourge to the human race. TO THE FASHONABLE AND OTTERBIRS.

THE undersigned, having just received the latest Paris and New York Fashions, would again beg leave to inform his numerous friends and all the world about Bloomsburg, that he is now better prepared than ever to accommodate any one with the neatest, easiest and best fitting suits of Clothes that have been turned out lately; and not only that, but he will also do them up in the best order, upon the lowest terms.

His shop is at the old stand, (too well known to need further notice) where he may at all times be found, seated upon the beach of repertance, steadily drawing out the thread of affliction, hopeing it may in the end prove advantageous to him and his customers. He would also advise his friends to bear in mind that poor, afflicted tailors must live, or they can't be expected to work. Therefore, Wheat, Rye, Corn, Oats, Potatoes, and with all now and then a little CASH will come mighty heady from those who are back-standing on he book.

Remember, gentlemen, that in all cases "the laborer is worthy of his hire."
