

FIRM AND FAITHFUL.

It was an act of simple justice to the honest sentiment of this country that one of the citizens of Columbia was chosen as the candidate of the people's cause for United States Senator. We are not given to boasting, and cannot play the braggart; but this we can say—a truth that no country in the State has proved more firm and honest in its political faith than Columbia. If, by too strong a reliance on hollow professions the people were ever deceived, in the end they have always vindicated the cause of public virtue, and rebuked the deceivers.

That class of mongrel politicians who are all things to all men—the camp-followers in the fray of parties—have never found much favor in Columbia. Almost every man you meet will tell you he prefers an honorable antagonist to a treacherous ally. Cameronism has never obtained a foothold, and the school of expediency politicians has never more than one or two of its emissaries here. True at the famous Williamsport convention, when Middleton notes were used in the attempt to defraud the choice of honest men, Cameron managed to find one or two boreers from Columbia; and in later days he could now and then buy a puff. But this was only from some poor venal creature without character or brains—one of that class which the Know-Nothing boys up with the promise of three cents patronage to do their dirty work. It must of course have been one of the class that lately sent the wonderful intelligence to Harrisburg that there was "only one Democrat in Columbia County opposed to Cameron!" Such fellows always have the impudence of the d—l; well, let them go—the world is wide enough.

The people of Columbia are anxious to see a statesman from Pennsylvania in the National Senate; and not a mouthing trickster to sneak around the public treasury and smell out the weak spots of his greedy comrades. They wish to see in that place a fit representative of open manliness and honor; and not the chief of midnight plots, and the prince of the loafing borers who hang around the capitol to the disgrace of the State and the corruption of our legislation. They are pleased that one of their own citizens has been chosen to be a candidate, and their hearts are in the contest.

That our brethren through the State may see that no unworthy association is connected with Mr. Buckalew, and under that consideration he was nominated, the following letter from Democrats in this County, to Mr. Maxwell, is here published. It was an impromptu reference, and no man to whom it was shown refused to sign it. It was not sent because any man for a moment doubted Mr. Maxwell's fidelity to the cause of the people, but as a record of public sentiment and a movement of the people. It is right to say that Mr. Buckalew had no participation in, or knowledge of the letter; and though for some years past he has not at home taken any active and open part against the politicians of easy virtue and loose principles, except when personally concerned; yet in 1845 there was no man who was more ready against Cameron:

MR. JAMES G. MAXWELL:

Dear Sir—The extraordinary and desperate efforts which Simon Cameron is now making to secure legislative votes for himself as United States Senator will, we feel, justify us in calling your attention to the almost unanimous sentiment of the Democrats in this County against his election to that station. Indeed so strong and general is the feeling here which regards him desitute of every respectable attribute of statesmanship, and as a politician entirely depending on craft and cunning for his success, that not one true Democrat of any character in the county has openly expressed a wish for his election.

The true Democrats of Columbia are attached to their political faith from an earnest conviction of right, and an honest devotion to principle; and not from any sordid motives of expediency. Their creed is always the same—whether in the dark hour of danger or the sunshine of victory. If all else was lost they would save at least their honor.

In the campaign of last fall, when it was our pleasure to have your name on our banner, the cause of the people found its most malignant enemy in the agents of that clamorous bigotry and libelous ignorance to which, as you and your constituents know, Mr. Cameron now mainly looks for his election; and of which he went to Washington. For it is very certain that if he did not expect the support of that new party he would not be a candidate; and if he is the candidate of American Jacobinism no honest and intelligent Democrat can consistently vote for him. We desire to save our party from the shame—the Keystone State from the stigma, and the National Senate from the disgrace of having a Pennsylvania Know-Nothing in the second highest position in the republic.

Highly gratified as the people of Columbia are with the honorable and creditable commencement of your legislative service, they feel a deep interest in this subject.

They Don't Like It.

The Harrisburg correspondent of the Philadelphia Daily News, in speaking of the nomination of Cameron by the Know-Nothing caucus, calls the act "a deed the most foul that ever darkened the political annals of Pennsylvania." He goes on to say:

"It was accomplished by flagrant, unmitigated corruption alone; and it will be in vain for the men with Whig antecedents, who participated in this political crime, to deny that they gave their votes to Cameron for a consideration.

This is the first act of the "American" party in this State, which ventured so loudly in the preface of its determination to throw off the pirates who have so long infested the body politic. Well have they atoned their sincerity by nominating the most notoriously corrupt man in the State—one who never accomplished anything politically but with money!

To exhibit the turpitude of these men in its most glaring light, it must be known that Cameron and his personal friends were the most unrelenting enemies the "Know-Nothing" had in the State. No sooner, however, was the result of last fall's election ascertained than he crawled into the Order by some back track, and no days from then a seat in the Senate of the United States!

Strong and good Advice.

The Hicksbury Record, edited by an intelligent Federalist of the old school, sees the beginning of the end of Know-Nothingism if Cameron is elected to the United States Senate and lectures the Whigs and Know-Nothing in the following forcible style:

"What encouragement will there be for men of talent in our ranks to devote their energies for the advancement of American principles and American interests if important officers in the gift of the people are to be bestowed on dough faced political opponents who may claim kindred in prosperity.

The alliance of Simon Cameron may bring to the American party many Locofocos but it will leave the old democratic party stronger than ever in a few years, while it will introduce into the new party an element of discord, already foreshadowed in the Caucus, which will ultimately blow it sky high.

Something Wrong.

It is always unpleasant to be compelled to complain, but we have lately heard too many censures from business men in this neighborhood upon the management of the shipping on the Reading and Catawissa Railroad, to allow the matter to remain longer in silence.

A Faithful Sentinel.

President Pierce has proved himself in every emergency a faithful guardian of the people's cause, and in no instance more so than in his veto of the French spoliation bill. This was one of the many projects of plunder hatched up by the loafers around the capitol; and was to obtain indemnity for some losses sustained more than half a century ago by a class of smugglers who in defiance of law carried on a counterband trade and were captured by French vessels.

All applications committed on legitimate American commerce were adjusted before General Jackson's time, and paid for by the American government. It was for that sum so paid on the adjusted claims that Jackson compelled France to indemnify the American government.

Correspondence of the Star.

From Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15th.—The result in the Democratic caucus will highly please the people of your county. Judge Woodward received 12 votes and Mr. Buckalew 12. The report runs here that while the caucus was in session the Know-Nothing bolters sent in word that they would give Woodward 42 votes if he was nominated. Appearances indicate that if a new man is to be chosen, it will be Woodward.

Messrs. Fry, Haldeman and Platt of the Senate, at the end of the Democratic caucus, the first vote voted for Cameron on first ballot, and Mr. Platt for Buckalew.

There never was deeper excitement here than on last Tuesday. The postponement is regarded as fatal to Cameron, though in this day of secret balloting, and midnight plots no man can tell what to-morrow may bring forth.

Many spicy stories gain currency, and in all the smokes there must be some fire. Inter alia Dr. Jayne of patent medicine notoriety is explained to have made a foolish investment of $700 to one of the loafing borers who hang about rich men for plunder. It was to secure his election to the United States Senate, and at the present price of some votes might perhaps have done so had not the borer spent the money for a "big drunk" and a journey home. Jayne got three votes in the K. N. caucus, and has doubtless learned that Simon is too old a fox for him.

It is a matter of general remark that if Cameron is elected the Know-Nothing party is annihilated. All honest character will be blotted from it, and it will never more be able to hold together men of principle or strength. It is humiliating to see men here who call themselves Democrats, work to secure the election of a Know-Nothing Senator. But unfortunately we have some such cases before us.

THE LIEUTENANT-GENERALSHIP.

The bill conferring the brevet rank of Lieutenant-General upon Major General Scott, is retroactive in its provisions, and allows him the pay affixed to the rank, under the Act of May 28th, 1789, from the date of his services in Mexico. His back pay, to the present time, would amount to more than $50,000, and the compensation he will receive, in addition to his regular pay as Major-General in command, will make his annual income about $10,000, for life. There is also attached to the grade of Lieutenant-General a staff of six persons—four Lieutenant-Colonels and two Secretaries—each with the rank and pay of a Lieutenant-Colonel. The Lieutenant-General's pay and emoluments as fixed by the Act of 1798, are as follows: $250 monthly pay, $50 monthly allowance for forage, and forty rations per day, or money in lieu thereof at the current price.

H. A. ROCKWELL, Late Treasurer of one of the Know-Nothing Lodges.

to be more explicit and in his own words, "Treasurer of Lodge No. 21, of the Sons of '76, since named Council No. 21 of the Sons of the Star Spangled Banner,"—of Lancaster city, comes out in the papers in exposition of the Order for expelling him because he dared to vote the Whig ticket last fall. He is indicted to the exposition because he was expelled, disgraced, published in the Councils as a traitor, and a fine of one dollar imposed upon any member who should mention his name in meeting!

REPEALED.

A bill has passed both branches of the Legislature, repealing the act providing for the registration of births, marriages, and deaths. The experiment of trying the operation of this law has cost the tax-payers of the State some thirty thousand dollars.

Educational Department.

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

A number of teachers and directors met at the court-house, in Bloomsburg, on Saturday afternoon, February 17th, and after some interchange of sentiment, organized by appointing R. W. WEAVER President, and Samuel Knorr Secretary, of the meeting.

Mr. Weaver addressed the meeting upon the condition of Schools in the county, and urged the advantages which would result from the formation of a Teacher's Association.

After some further expression of sentiment from Messrs. Freeze and Burgess, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:—

Resolved, That this meeting is convinced of the advantages which would result from the thorough organization of a Teacher's Association for its mutual improvement.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to invite the teachers, directors and friends of education in this county to meet at the Court-house in Bloomsburg on Saturday the 10th day of March next, for the purpose of thoroughly organizing a Teacher's Association of Columbia County.

Resolved, That for the present R. W. Weaver be President and Samuel Everet and Townsend Kahler Secretaries of the Association.

Resolved, That committees of one on each of the following subjects be chosen—1. The art of teaching—2. Mathematics—3. Grammar—4. Geography, to report at the next meeting of the Association, and also a next committee to procure some suitable person to deliver a lecture at our next meeting.

Wm. Burgess, Joo. G. Freeze and Abia John were appointed the Committee under the second resolution.

The following were the Committee chosen under the fourth resolution:

To procure lectures—R. W. Weaver. On the art of teaching—William Burgess. On Mathematics—Wm. Kahler. On Grammar—John Stokes. Geography—Abia John.

After some appropriate remarks from Mr. Burgess to encourage a fraternal and harmonious spirit among teachers, on motion the convention adjourned.

REMARKS. The meeting was not so large as it should have been if the teachers of the county had consulted their true interests. But every member of it seemed to have the true cause of education at heart, and was earnest, honest and zealous for the work of improvement. In other counties Teacher's Institutes have been productive of much good to the teachers directly and to the scholars indirectly. Directors should do all in their power to encourage and aid the improvement of teachers, and their countenance and assistance at these meetings is desirable. Directors should be men of some public spirit and liberal intelligence to help a work that is so much in need of assistance as the improvement of Common Schools—It is to be hoped that the meeting on the 10th of March will be large; and that every teacher in the County will feel himself personally invited and interested.

Public Schools in Bloomsburg.

Last week we visited the schools of Bloom district, and they are certainly improvements upon every thing of the common school kind that the children of the district have heretofore enjoyed. The Upper Grade School is competent to furnish a good and thorough English Education in every branch of study, and the teaching in all the schools is such as fills every reasonable want of the taxpayers. Even in one where we found no scholars older than about twelve years,—kept from necessity in what was once a wagon-maker shop,—there were scholars in advance of quite a number of those teachers who have heretofore had charge of schools in some districts of this county. And what was still more gratifying, they were taught in a familiar and amiable manner that pleased as much as it profited them with their lessons, and refined their manners and morals as much as it instructed their intellect.

In several others we were treated to exercises in vocal music, which we are pleased to find introduced in the schools to enliven and lighten heavier studies, and securing both mental and physical improvement. The present Board of Directors has done much in a year, and is certainly the most efficient one the people have had in the district. Indiscretions in past years have unfortunately embarrassed the finances of the district; but, except for this, every thing looks bright for the future, and the direction of the schools is upward and onward.

Extract from the Circular

Of the Twenty-eight Seceders from the Know-Nothing Caucus, to their Constituents.

The inquiry arises, who is Simon Cameron? As a Statesman, fame has never associated his name with the world. As a politician, he has always professed to be a Democrat, and yet that party only remembers him because of his treachery, and speaks of him as a traitor. As a Whig, it is his boast that he never voted the Whig ticket in his life—that party being saved from such disgrace. As an American and an Anti-Slavery man let the record speak for itself.

When has he changed his opinions upon these questions? When, or where, has he downed them! And even if there is any recent recantation got up for the present emergency, there is not character enough in the man to oppose upon credibility itself.

But do not the people of Pennsylvania expect something more of the present Legislature than the election of "an old political hack?" The great political revolution that brought the American party into power, has no parallel in the history of Pennsylvania.—The old party organizations were dissolved by an unseen power, and old politicians, with all their schemes, left floundering and wrecked with the elements that supported them, absorbed by the mysterious power of an organization beyond their control. This great revolution is not without its lesson.—The old parties, with their leading politicians, were corrupt; and it was their signal destruction the people sought when they put their power into the new organization. They determined to rebuke corruption. They did rebuke corruption, and the party in power stands as a monument of that rebuke.

Shall the American party then in the face of all its professions and actions, be now made the dishonest instrument in electing Simon Cameron to the highest office in his gift? and thus hold him up to the world as the exponent, embodiment, and personification of Americanism? We just not. We consider him a fit representative of nothing good; and a fit exponent of no honorable principle. As Pennsylvanians, we remember that our State motto, as adopted by our ancestors of seventy-six, is "VIRTUE, LIBERTY, AND INDEPENDENCE." We reverence this glorious old motto; and bear in mind that we but recently swore as representatives, to perform our duties as such, with PRIDELITY; fidelity to our constituents, fidelity to our native State, and fidelity to the ennobling principle engraven on our State escutcheon. Shall we then, or can we consistently with the oaths we have taken, support a nomination so destitute of every element of virtue, which would disgrace the American Organization and our native State; and which we feel well assured, our constituents will repudiate with scorn and indignant indignation. We recognize no power in any caucus, to require us thus to sacrifice our integrity to throw away our self-respect, or to violate our oaths; and therefore it is, that in the independence of freemen, we strike down King Caucus at the bidding of our country.

Above our venerated motto, and associated with it in all the memories of the past, and our hopes of the future, is the American eagle—our national emblem, and our country's pride. It ever adorns our starry flag; and it spreads its "wings of glory over us" as a protecting angel. When we go into the Hall of the House of Representatives, to execute the most important trust confided to us, we desire to meet something there having some analogy or concordance with these glorious recollections, and these sacred emblems. Grant us this, or something approximating to this, and all will be well; and our hearts and our hands will be with you, both to do and to dare. But what we say unto one we say unto all, invite us not in these to partake of a bozzard's feast. Ask us not to support a nomination brought about, as we believe, by the concentrated "cohesive power of public plunder;" and the superadded element of shameless and wholesale private bribery. All countenance and participation in such things as these, we not only most earnestly and emphatically decline, but have pledged ourselves unitedly and determinedly to oppose.

Such is a brief and hasty outline of our action and our intended future course. We submit it to our constituents, and cordially invite all our honest fellow representatives, whether in the late caucus or not, to rally with us in this contest, and to make common cause with us for the honor and the glory of our native State, assuring them that though it may have passed upon an adage that "Paris is France," yet Harrisburg is not Pennsylvania.

THE ASIA at HALIFAX.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Feb. 14.—Conard steamship Asia, from Liverpool, with dates to Saturday, the 2d instant, arrived early this morning. The political news is highly important.

As was predicted, the resignation of Lord John Russell has been followed by that of the entire Ministry.

Up to the latest advices, no new Cabinet had been constructed. Lord Derby had been invited to form a new Ministry, but had been unsuccessfully in his efforts.

Lord Palmerston, Lord John Russell, Lord Lansdowne and Lord Clarendon, are all spoken of for the new Ministry, and the anxiety on the subject is very great.

Afairs in the Crimea remain the same as before. No fighting of importance has taken place, but supplies were arriving, and the condition of the troops much improved.

The Germanic relations are as complicated as ever, and new difficulties are constantly springing up.

Prussia has gained a triumph over Austria, the former's proposition to prevent the mobilization of the Germanic army having been carried against Austria in the Diet.

England has agreed to loan Sarbinia £1,000,000.

The Prussian army is to be placed on a war footing.

Prussia refuses to permit the French army to march through her territory.

The French force to guard the Austrian frontier is 80,000.

The Greek difficulty has been arranged. Mr. Souleis reported as lying seriously ill.

The amount of bullion in the bank of England has increased £192,500.

ENGLAND.

The past week has been one of great activity in England. On the morning of the 30th ult. the consideration of Mr. Rodrick's motion of a want of confidence in the cabinet, was resumed in the House of Commons.

The resolution was for the appointment of a Select Committee to inquire into the condition of the army before Sebastopol, and into the conduct of the Department of the Government whose duty it has been to administer to the wants of the army.

Messrs. Stafford and D'Israeli spoke, when the House divided, 305 voting for the motion and 148 against it—showing a majority of 157 against the Government.

After this vote the whole ministry resigned, when their resignations were accepted, and the Aberdeen Ministry were only to retain their offices until a new cabinet could be formed.

On the evening of the 30th, the Queen sent for the Earl of Derby, the leader of the Conservatives. On Wednesday the Earl of Derby waited on the Queen, and an interview of two hours ensued. After this the Earl drove to the residence of Lord Palmerston, when a lengthened conference took place.

The general rumor was that Lord Palmerston would not assent to the terms proposed, and consequently the Earl was made to form a sufficiently strong Cabinet. Various rumors followed pointing to Lord Palmerston, Lord John Russell, and lastly, to Lord Lansdowne, as those who would probably be placed at the head of the Ministry.

Both Houses of Parliament adjourned from Tuesday until Thursday. On re-assembling, Lord Aberdeen briefly announced his resignation.

The Duke of Newcastle entered into an explanation in self-defense. The Earl of Derby informed the House that he had been invited by the Queen to form a Cabinet, but could not do so.

The friends of Lord Aberdeen and his Ministry are dead against Lord John Russell, for breaking up the coalition. The Queen is reported to have written him an avowal letter, censuring his conduct, but this is considered doubtful.
