THE KANSAS FEVER.

When some fanatics were once upon time strested for very violent and treasonable expressions against an English King, he was appealed to for a severe disposition of their case. With great wisdom he remarked "they have set their hearts upon being martyrs and I have set mine upon disappoint-

To compare small things to great in the illustration of the same human nature: las week a poor fellow who was nearly dead with epileptic fits, and had used poisonous engaged in the sale of books opposite Barnum's Museum in New York, and in the num's Museum in New York, and in the fashion of the "razor strop" man drew a crowd until the street became blocked up and the police arrested him. Instantly the Know-Nothings began to manufacture political capital against the "Irish police," because the man had sold the lives of Fillmore and Donaldson, though it did not appear that the police knew what kind of books he instead of making a martyr of the 'blue man.' in the street but to sell as many books oth-

Brooks in like manner has made political capital. To prove how this works, we observe that last week a member who would likely never have been otherwise heard of, made a very abusive speech in denunciation of Mr. Buchanan, and bid for notoriety and a fight by saying he held himself responsible in the House or out of it, at all times, for what he l.ad said. This of course means the same as if he had saidt some gentleman fight me into notori-

It is this way that poor Kansas has been used by abolition demagogues in the manufacture of horrors and exciting outrages.— These fanatics feel better under a flag with sixteen stars than one with thirty one. They can no longer frighten people with a "tariff" panic, and they only deal in "ruin." They used the iron manufacturers for political tools as long as they could, and now they are ned to use poor Kansas.

And when "blood and murder" will not be fast enough in Kansas by the help of rifles and such like auxiharies, an Washington can be tortured to help ode. We remember when some a member of Congress turned out an infamous forger, and yet no person thought of holding his party or his state re There have been assaults and batteries in Congress before the present ses-sion, and nobody was silly enough to organize a sectional party for that reto suggest that the States from which such members came must therefor go out of th

Burning of a Steamboat on Lake Erie.

On the 17th inst. the steamer Northern In diana was burnt on Lake Erie, and out of 110 or 115 passengers about 20 lives were lost. The fire caught near the engine, and the alarm among the passengers was so great that many were disabled from rendering any assistance. Mr. Wetmore the first mate in command of the steamer at the time and behaved bravely. There were about two cords of plank on the steamer, and he com-menced throwing these overboard, and also tables and other objects upon which passen-gers might find safety. He was the last man to leave the steamer, and says he could have staid on half an hour longer without incon-venience. He is of opinion that if the pashim, not one life would have been lost. The steamer Mississippi came up and picked up the passengers floating, and such as yet re-mained on the Northern Indiana. Among the passengers saved were Rev. A number of per-sons who have been named, seeing that in divisions there must be defeats, have from he most honorable motives declined being andidates. The policy of the opposition will naturally be to divide and conquer, and any cause can find a fit tool for mischief.

In the last three campaigns the true Democrats of this county have met an insidious and desperate foe in their own midst, of vote in a few infected districts furnishes the mark and proof. Three years ago the treacherous, the timid and corrup formed an alliance egainst the Democrati nominations; and in 1854 it was designed by that clan to give the Know-Nothings full sway. The true Democrats met that issue early and bravely; and week after week we fearlessly vindicated the cause of honor and We warned when the shrunk cowardly from the contest; and we dealt blow after blow when the corrupt sold themselves to darkness and treachery. The object should not be to satisfy the most importunate applicant, but to give position to a man who will do no discredit to his party, who has been consistent and honest in all things. Those who went after strange idols are to be guarded against as unsafe to be trusted; for by their defection they have proved that an idle wind may turn them. If only safe and trusty men are placed in front, the party will gain no only strength and success, but respect and confidence for future security. If those are trusted who have betrayed, there can neither be confidence and union among ourselves nor any respect from others.

Important Arrangement.

The Board of Canal Commissioners have awarded the carrying of passengers on the State Railroad from Langaster to Philadelphia to Messrs. Thomson & Yeager, the two presidents of the Pennsylvania and of the Harris burg and Lancaster Railroads. Mesers. Bing ham & Dock have hitherto had the contract for carrying the passengers on the State road from Lancaster eastward. The transfer now made is in effect to the Pennsylvania and Harrisburg and Lancaster railroads, and delivers the passengers from the annoyance of divided control and the vexations of indiffer-ent agents and conductors. From Philadel-phia to Pittsburg, henceforth, the supervision of the passengers will be single and unbro-ken over the whole line.

For a week past the Engineers have been engaged in locating the Bloomsburg and Lack-awarna Railroad from its junction with the Cattawissa Railroad past this place. It will run nearer the town than was generally expected. The contractors are already on hand to fence the road, and then the work of grading will commence at once. So far as the road runs through this county it can be built for a less sum per mile than any other railroad in the State.

True every word. All that the leaders of lisunion and sectional fanaticism can do for the negro amounts to just this-no more, no less—the anti-Slavery question furnishes them with votes enough to get into office. scum of humanity gradually rises to the surface, and men who, under other circumstan-ces, could never have crawled out of their native obscurity, are elevated into prominent

We fully agree with Mr. Clay, that the Abolitionists are the bitterest enemies the negro has in the world. They have riveted the firmly than ever, by their madness and recktrimiy than ever, by their madness and reck-lessness; they have deprived the negro at the South of very many privileges that he occe-enjoyed, and have retarded the work of emancipation in this country at least talf a century. We should not be surprised if others were compelled to resort to the same measure of self-defence. This is what the bitter enemies of the negro have done under the garb of philanthropy. They have not ipated a single slave, nor have they a desire to do so. CURIOSITIES OF DUELLING .-- Among the me remarkable circumstances connected with the duello in this country, is that of the change of sentiment at the North and South relating to the code of honor. Peace in Kansas Not Wanted by the Poiti. LATER FROM SAN FRANCISCO AND Atrocious Fraud on the Public

Telegraphic despatches say the Free Kar sas party are again marching into that Terr tory, armed with Sharp's rifles. We hope that every one of them will be disarmed before he will be allowed to cross the borders of the Territory. That Territory is now under martial law, and the United States au thorities have turned the lawless, fighting men of both sides out. There has been peace within the Territory ever since, but peace is no wanted. The Kansas troubles are too good for electioneering purposes to allow peace and quiet to reign, and hence an attempt to create disorder and outrage again. The ma-jority in the House of Congress are endeaving to assist this state of affairs. They have passed an amendment to the army bill, declaring that the President shall not use any of the military in enforcing the laws of the present territorial government. This is equivalent to saying that there shall be no law at all, and outrages may take place with impu-nity. Tais amendment will not pass the Senate, but the attempt to control the President in his constitutional duty shows that there are those who would rather have the murders and burnings in Kansas which they have so industriously paraded before the pubic, continue a little while longer till after the Presidential election, so that they may politicatly trade upon them. The President understands his duty, and seems determined to perform it faithfully and impartially. Hence he will not withdraw the military till Con-gress pass a law providing for an election by the people of Kansas to decide whether they shall come into the Union or not. The presence of the military is necessary in Kansas till that election is over, to guard against incursions from surrounding States on the elec-tion day, with a view to intimidate voters, or to fill the ballot box with illegal votes. Arrest and Committal of the Perpetrator We learn from the Philadelphia press, that Hollie who was charged with counterfeiting so extensively the labels of Holloway's Pills, has been committed to Moyamensing jail for trial in default of bail. The examination showed that the immense sales of Holloway's remedies in this country had long since excited the capidity of a class of miscreante known as "medical counterfeiters." The establishments of Professor Holloway, in erery city of the Union, has been closely walch-ed, the extent of their business ascertained, and finally a system of counterfeiting planned out which, in extent and magnitude out which, in extent and magnitude, has probably never been equalled in this or in any other country. We hope the fortunate arrest of the chief conspirator, Hollis, will tend to explode the whole scheme; all the material of the rascally combination is now in the hands of the police. Is is somewhat difficult to counterfeit the remedy of Prof. Holloway with impunity. His agents "cover the land," constituting an all-pervading "vigilance committee" whose Argus eyes are ever open to the interests of the are in fact 'one and inseparable.' They left out of their calculation the boundless pecuniary resources of Professor Holloway, and under estimated his zeal and liberality when engaged in hunting down the double knavery that tampered with the public health while it sought to rob him of his reputation. The timely discovery of this scheme of wholesale rascality, will, we trust, be a warping to medical counterfeiters. The counter-feit plates, labels, &c., are all in the hands of the authorities of Philadelphia, and the conspiracy is utterly crushed. Its effect has been to exhibit in a more striking light the unparalleled popularity of Holloway's Pills, for only against the leading medicine of ganized.
