tionably true that the Presider lect ought to come into office absolutely un trammeled by party dictation, either North or South; and we shall be the last to infringe in any wise upon his just and clear prerogative. He has been declared to be the Presi dent of the whole country, and doubtless he will enter in good faith upon the discharge of the duties of his position, with a wise regard to the welfare of the whole country.

For ourselves, we should prefer that, in th selection of the heads of department, the President shall be let alone to select his own men. As he will be held responsible for the conduct of the administration, into whose hands seever the chief subordinate offices may fall, it is but just that in the choice workmen he should be without trammel or hinderance.

Of course, we all have our preferences, and in most cases, we dare say these preferences are based upon an accurate knowledge of the men, and proper confidence in the fact tha they will carry out the measures which the election of Mr. Buchanan was designed to secure. But it will require no extraordinary charity to believe that others too are equally trustworthy, and equally competent with our own, and will do as much to advance the true welfare of the country, by fearlessly adhering to the wise and wholesome features of public policy, the triumph of which was secured by the recent election. And whether from the North or the South, from Virginia or New York, is and ought to be a matter of small concern, if he shall choose wise, worthy and faithful men.

He will do this, let creakers say what they may. If no higher motive prompted it, a ic regard for the success of his administration will ensure such a course. We have no fears, then, that the chief offices will fall nto the hands of unworthy men, or that we shall have any need for crimination or complaint when the names of the chosen ones are announced.

We have again and again set forth in sub stance what we now say, and are determined, let the President do as he may in the selec tion of a Cabinet, to defend whatever of wisdom there shall be found in his policy a home or abroad. Were Mr. Buchanan an ures, but with a veteran officer, so able and

When Mr. Steele was before the people as a candidate for the reponsible position he now adorns, this same editor who now extols him to the skies, was at a loss to find language severe enough to vent his political spleen against him. He kept his rickety old Power Press in motion day night, and Sunday too, printing handbills in which Mr. Steele was posted throughout all parts of the county as being one of the vilest political sinners. No falsehoods nor slanders were too glaring to be circulated about him; no intrigues were too base and dishonorable to be concocted, in order to prevent his election; the flames of persecution burned most furiously around him ; his personal and political character was efully maligned; and every epithet which the language could furnish, was heaped upon his devoted head, by this same editor who now professes to have so much respect for him. Messrs. Jenkins and John. son have rendered the public good service in getting out of the hands of rogues the means by which this dangerous counterfeit was gotten up. The place which was band ed over to the officers of the bank, was admirably executed, and the whole of the rascally work was in skilful hands, as the signatures and the filling up were copied from the genuine notes with perfect precision. A large quantity of this spurious paper is in circulation, and the public should keep a sharp look out for it. Less than two weeks ago the dangerous counterfeit made its first appearance, and the plate is already in the hands of the bank. We repeat that the officers who secured the plate have rendered an essential service to the community. Phila. Ledger.

There is great excitement in Middletown, Connecticut, in consequence of a severe chastisement inflicted by Capt. De Kay, of New York, on the person of Walter S. Carter, editor of the Middlesex Argus. It appears that Carter sent a copy of his paper to rolessor Harwood, of Berkley Divinity School, which the Professor returned with a note stating that he was not a subscriber, and requesting the discontinuance of the paper. On receipt of this note, Carter pubished a severe article, it is said, reflecting in hareh terms on Harwood and his family .-Capt. De Kay, who is Harwood's brother-inlaw, subsequently met Carter in a bookstore, and on the latter acknowledging that he was the author of the article, assaulted and beat him so terribly that he lies in a very critical situation. De Kay was arrested, and the excitement was so great that it was found necessary to detail a strong police force to proteet him from violence. "A correspondent of the National (III.)
Emporium writing from Cleves, Ohio, says:
A few days ago, while Wat Eckman and Mike Shots were digging a well for James Malson, Esq., near North Bend, Ohio, the skeleton of a mas, or rather a giant, was found, twenty-nine feet below the surface of the earth-who, when living, towered to the enormous height of twenty-three feet and ten inches. Prof. Lind, who examineed the skeleton says:

"The os-humerous of the skeleton meas ured six feet four and a half inches, and the superior condyle, where it enters the glenoid cavity of the scapula, measured eighteen and three eighths inches in diameter." Hence, says the Doctor, "admitting the proposition demonstrated by tomparative anetomy, that all muscular power depends on the magnitude of the articulating condyles of the limbs to which they are attached, we must arrive at the startling fact, that this monster man-while in the full vigor of life, was twentythree feet and ten inches high, and was ca pable of wielding the forearm with sufficient force to have thrown a cannon ball weigh ing 18 lbs. from Cincinnati to Indianapolis or a distance of 88 miles, or to have taken a large millstone in each hand, and walked with perfect ease at the astounding rate of thirty-seven and one-eighth miles an hour.

How THE GREMAN LADIES Do .- The ladies into by the Chinese and was obliged to put of Germany have an odd way, too, of keep-American flag was flying at the time, and put a belt-often a plain, leather straput the hips, an inch or two below the waist, and draw the dress up a little. The strap holds it. If a lady is going out on the dirty street in bad weather, ten to one you will see the Chinese defended bravely, replying with her produce from a pocket the invariable old leather strap, catch up her garments just out of the reach of the mud, and lasten them so erty, and her clothes protected.

There is a thrifty, well grown shoat, said to be about six months old, belonging to J. Salmon, of Patrick county, Va., which has eight fair, distinct walks. Its legs seem to commence a fork about the knee joints, and continue to widen until they near the feet, and then finally sep-

A DESERTER FROM MORMONISM - Elder John Hyde, who was sent some time ago from Utah as a missionary to the Sandwich Islands, has renounced the Mormon faith, and is engaged in exposing its fallacies. He states that the census of the inhabitants of the Territory of Utah is false and exaggerated, exceeding, by fifty per cent., the actual population.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS .-- The sudden changes of temperature in this cliessness of a seaman, killing him and two of mate have a terrible effect upon the skin, the muscles and the glands. Hence the prevalence of salt theum, ervsipelas, blotches, boils, rheumatism, quinsy sore throat and the many other complaints so frequently generated and always aggravated by this cause. Fortunately, in Holloway's Ointment we have the means of promptly removing this class of diseases, and of so thoroughly invigorating all the exterior organs and integuments as to prevent their recurrence .-The Pills operating in harmony with the cintment, regulate the secretions, and discharge from the fluids of the body any acrid matter calculated to produce external inflammation or internal disease.
